CENTRAL CLUB ANNUAL

The Central club was entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. Fred W. Rust of Kirkstall road, Newtonville, the occasion being the annual meeting of the organization. The music room was filled with a large company of men and after the guests had been welcomed, the president, Mr. Percy Ziegler, called the meeting to order. These officers were chosen: President, Mr. C. H. Mergendahl; vice presidents, Mr. E. K. Titus and Mr. Harold Billings; secretary, Mr. Edbert L. Tenney; treasurer, Mr. C. P. Frail; executive committee, Rev. Dr. W. E. Strong, Rev. M. H. Lichlitz, Mr. LeRoy W. Leland, Mr. W. E. Leonard. There was some discussion as to the advisability of arranging for several joint meetings with the other men's clubs of Newtonville, and the newly elected officers were requested to confer with the other clubs on this matter. The speaker of the evening was Mr. George Sammaripa, a native of Russia, the son of a prominent business man of Odessa, and now a student of the Harvard school of business administration. Mr. Sammaripa speaks six languages, including Arabian, and though he has been in this country only 18 months, he can talk English with considerable fluency. He has had a most interesting experience, having served in the Russian army and under Gen. Denekine, and having been for many months in a hospital in one of the warring countries. Since coming to the United States he has assisted the government of this country in translating Bolshevik documents into English.

Mr. Sammaripa gave a vivid picture of the terrible conditions in Russia. He confirmed the statements that have been published to the effect that some 1,700,000 people have been executed by the Soviet government. He compared Russia at the present time to a "crazy house" as he expressed it. He felt that the policy of the United States Government toward the Soviet

GIRL SCOUTS

On Saturday of this week, May 5, the Senior Girl Scouts of Troop 3, the Newton Centre Troop, is to give an entertainment at the Newton Centre Woman's Club beginning at 3 o'clock. The program consists of moving pictures and the Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps. The pictures are to be "The Golden Eagle," a splendid Girl Scout picture; "Heide," a children's comedy, and "Aesop's Fables." There will also be a candy sale.

On Tuesday, April 24, the Reverend Arthur E. Wilson, spoke to the girls of Troop 5 at their regular meeting in place of the Merit Badge work. Mr. Wilson imitates the bird songs and calls very cleverly and as many of the girls in this troop are working for the Bird Hunter Merit Badge they were particularly interested in having this program for one of their meetings.

Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Meserve, and Miss Freeman are back from Washington, where they attended the Annual Convention of the National Girl Scouts. One of the most impressive parts of the Convention was the visit of all the delegates to the White House. Mrs. Harding greeted them from the portico overlooking the garden and the President shook hands with all of those who attended the function. The delegates were taken through the White House and particularly fortunate in being able to go through the private apartments. It made a very impressive closing of a very splendid Convention.

authorities had been correct, and that the Bolshevik power had been helped by movements promoted in this country and in Europe to have the Soviet government officially recognized. He regarded attempts to exploit the great resources of Russia by business men as very hazardous, as they might not get out alive. He believed that eventually the Bolshevik government would be overthrown, as the great majority of the people detest it.

MAY PARTY

The children of the members of the Newton Club were entertained by a May party at the Club on Tuesday afternoon. Music was furnished by Mrs. A. D. Quimby and Mrs. Claud Blackie. The opening march was led by Mrs. Parker Schofield and Mrs. John A. Paton.

In the Jelly Bean Hunt in charge of Mrs. Arthur LeBaron the first prize was won by Master Stephen Root, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Root. The first prize for the girls was won by Miss Mildred Woodcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Woodcock.

In the next game in charge of Mrs. John A. Paton, the prize was won by Miss Eleanor Graham, daughter of Mrs. Robert J. Graham.

In the Farmer in the Dell Contest under Mrs. Ralph Conant and Mrs. Clinton Tylee the prize for the last boy chosen was won by Master John Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester B. Hunter. The prize for the last girl chosen was won by Miss Joanne Wyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wyman.

The "Squatt-cake" in charge of Mrs. Parker Schofield and Mrs. Joseph Cryan was played by the little people under four years. The prize was won by Miss Constance Emily Somers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Somers.

The "Fairy Godmother," charmingly interpreted by Mrs. Mark Emerson, who bestowed a favor on each child.

NEWTON BOWLING LEAGUE

The three Newton teams made a sorry showing in the bowling tournament just closed of the Newton League, the Newton Club being 6th, Waban Neighborhood Club 7th and the Hunnewell Club 8th and last. Jones of the Waban club won the prize for high individual for three games and his 392 was the season's record for three games.

The individual averages of some of the local players were as follows: Loring, Hunnewell, 107; Carter, Newton, 105; Dexter, Hunnewell, 103; Jones, Waban, 103; Millard, Waban, 103; Woodcock, Newton, 103; Stone, Hunnewell, 102; Robbins, Waban, 100; Paul, Hunnewell, 100; Hayden, Newton, 98; Handerson, Newton, 97; Lockwood, Waban, 96 and Crawford, Hunnewell, 95.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL

The Musical Festival of Church Hymns will take place on next Sunday afternoon at the Eliot Church, Newton, beginning with an out-of-door procession at 3.45 P. M., and continuing with the in-door program at 4 P. M. It is expected that over 1000 boys and girls and children from all parts of the District will be present for this occasion.

The Primary department children will go immediately to the Eliot Chapel, but the older children of the Sunday Schools will assemble in the nearby churches of Newton and proceed in procession formation to the Eliot Church. They will be led by groups of boys and girls in vestments and by trumpeters. Sunday School banners and Christian flags will be held aloft, as they march and sing "Onward Christian Soldiers."

The indoor program for the older group, in the church auditorium, is under the direction of Rev. Earl E. Harper of Auburndale, with Mr. Everett E. Truette as organist, and Dr. Priscilla H. Fowle of Newton Centre in charge of the hymn dramatization near the close of the program. Mr. George H. Bridgen of Waltham will be the solo trumpet player for the procession and for the indoor program.

Junior choirs from the Eliot church, the Waltham Beth Eden Church, the Waverley Congregational, the Auburndale Methodist and the Auburndale Congregational churches, will combine to form one large Junior chorus under Mr. Harper's direction. These groups have been rehearsing under their own church leaders for several weeks.

At the close of the program, during the postlude, the flag and banner bearers from all the churches will form a procession.

ANNUAL DEBATE

The Aquinas Debating Society of the High School of Our Lady held its thirteenth annual prize debate in the school hall last Tuesday evening before a large gathering of friends.

The subject, "Resolved: That the United States should enter the International Court Tribunal," showed much study and research on the part of the young debaters who were Albert P. Molloy, William L. Tobin, both of class '25, and Charles A. Maher, class of '24 for the affirmative; and James E. Miskella, Edward G. Grant and Charles B. Murphy, all of '24, for the negative.

The prize, a gold medal, was won by Charles A. Maher. Mr. Thomas F. Hanron, A. B., president of the Aquinas Alumni Association, was chairman of the evening. The judges were Rev. Lawrence W. Slattery, chairman, Rev. Walter J. Roche, Rev. Conrad Quirbach, and Rev. Robert Mantle.

The Primary Department program in the Chapel of the church, will be in progress at the same time, but is of an entirely different nature, having been planned especially for these younger children. This program will be under the leadership of Professor Edith Lovell Thomas, Professor of Worship and Hymn Interpretation in Boston University, assisted by Miss E. B. Jackson of Newton Centre in the "Toy Symphony Orchestra" number, by Miss Persis S. Richardson of Belmont in the spring story dramatization, and by several story-tellers.

The public are invited to the out-of-door events, if the weather permits the plans outlined, and to the indoor events, so far as room permits after the children have been seated.

MAY BREAKFAST

The May Breakfast held on Tuesday morning at the Methodist Church, Newton Centre, for the benefit of the Mothers' Rest Association, was a very successful affair. The breakfast was a bountiful one, and was most efficiently served. Friend met friend, and there was a general buzz of conversation and of exchange of neighborhood civilities.

Three hundred people, impelled by the beauty of the day, and the worthiness of the cause which has always been dear to the people of Newton, attended between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock.

The affair was ably managed by Mrs. Edward D. Leonard, and her corps of assistants. The head waitresses were Mrs. Dwight Brigham, Miss Maida Flanders and Mrs. Ralph MacLellan. Mrs. James Liddell solicited the doughnuts, Mrs. James H. Ritchie had charge of the cake table, and Mrs. Gardner C. Walworth had charge of the tickets.

BISHOP SLATTERY HERE

One of the largest gatherings of Episcopalian clergy and laymen ever held in this city took place Tuesday evening at the annual meeting and dinner of the Grace Church Men's Club held in the Parish House on Eldredge street. There were 90 members of the club and 60 guests present, the latter including rectors and a delegation from each of the other Episcopalian parishes in Newton.

The speakers were Rt. Rev. Charles T. Slattery, Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Massachusetts, Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, the next rector of Trinity Church, Boston, and John H. Sellman, junior warden of Grace Church. The president of the club, Leverett D. G. Bentley presided and the toastmaster was Rev. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church.

The speakers pointed out the many opportunities for service open to men's clubs. Greater interest both in church missions and other activities as well as in civic life was urged.

These officers were elected: L. D. G. Bentley, president; William Green, vice-president; Albert S. Partridge, secretary; Walter V. V. Marsh, treasurer; John Benbow, Stafford Johnson, William V. M. Fawcett and Edson Jewell, executive committee.

LODGES

Garden City Encampment, I. O. O. F., will entertain Grand Patriarch Johnson and Board of Grand Officers, also D. D. G. P. Wood and suite on Monday evening, May 7th.

The Golden Rule Degree will be exemplified on a large class of candidates.

MAKE A START TO BRING DOWN YOUR COST OF LIVING!

Many theories have been advanced as remedies for the economic problems facing this country today. These theories cover much ground—make much ado—yet invariably they lead to the same basic conclusion that the solution is in increased production and decreased consumption.

The Federal Reserve Board, the governing financial body of this country, has tersely summarized what is necessary in the phrase "Work and Save".

The most practical men in the country have reached the conclusion that human effort to produce more and to save more is the only solution to this perplexing problem. It is based on fundamental facts and economic laws.

The results of your efforts to reduce the cost of living should be noticeable. The money you do not spend should be placed in the bank, so you will have something definite to show for your efforts. Start today—and remember that a full day's work and the spending of no more money than is necessary, is the successful application of the "Work and Save" idea.

Deposits in our Savings Department start to draw interest from the first day of each month.

THE UNDERWOOD SCHOOL LOT

To the Editor:

According to an article published in the Boston Post last Friday morning concerning the litigation over the attempted taking by the city of Newton of my home on Eldridge street, City Solicitor Bartlett stated "that Mrs. Byfield remains in possession not for reasons set forth in her petition, but solely for the purpose of obtaining an exorbitant sum for her damages." In refutation of this declaration, for which the City Solicitor had no warrant, I wish to state that I have been unable to find a responsible contractor who would undertake to build for me, a home of the same size, material and finish as mine, as low as $35,000. In addition to building I would be obliged also to buy land for it, so that anyone can see that I am not trying to obtain an exorbitant sum for damages, but only to get a square deal, instead of having my property taken for the unconscionable award of $7,700 which was the sum named by the Board of Aldermen without viewing the premises or hearing any evidence.

Last November I sent a letter to the Board of Aldermen urging that the action be rescinded and a different site selected, leaving my property undisturbed. I sought this because of first, the value of my property; second, the housing conditions in and about Newton; and third, the great saving that could be made for the tax payers by purchasing a nearby estate, and thereby, too, avoiding litigation and delay. I filed a sworn petition in Court in this matter, and the facts set forth therein were true, so I repeat that the City Solicitor's language quoted from the Post article is without warrant of any kind.

I thank you very much for the space to give this refutation full publicity in this community.

CECILIA A. BYFIELD.

Nature's Froggy Freak.

When nature designed the frog she made him specially for swimming. But some frogs took a dislike to water and adopted a land life. The tree-frog lives almost entirely amongst lofty branches. "Want to be a bird, do you?" said nature. "Very well, we'll see what we can do." The result is a weird creature with a small body and long skinny legs armed with birdlike claws.

Cost Rica.

Costa Rica is one of the small republics of Central America which threw off Spanish sovereignty in 1821. Since then it has been an independent state ruled at times by dictators and at times having a constitution and a republican form of government, which is its present condition. The area is estimated at 23,000 square miles, which is a little more than the area of Nova Scotia.

ANY OLD STAMPS?

Might Not Be Bad Idea to Rummage Through the Attic.

Fortunes Have Been Made by Lucky Possessors of Envelopes Long Regarded as Worthless.

A journalist hobnobbing with the cognoscenti gathers that even in stolid America there are many thrills in stamp collecting. I got into confab with some of the big league professionals of stamp collecting, the New York brokers of big houses that buy and sell stamps of every value, from the sort they purchase literally by the ton and handle with scoop shovels, to the rarities that are handled gingerly with little tongs, like precious jewels. Charles Phelps Cushing writes in Leslie's.

In a high vaulted room, walled and roofed with glazed white tiles, like a cellar grill room or a high-ceilinged subway station—though it opened on to the sidewalk of a sunlit side street in uptown New York—one of these professionals told me stories of the adventures of "Hawaiian blues," old anecdotes made timely by the record price that Ferrary stamps recently fetched in Paris.

"Missionaries," the trade calls this Hawaiian issue, he said, because they were printed in a day when American clergymen invaded the "Sandwich" islands to convert the natives to Christianity. Every relative or known correspondent of those evangelists, any one to whom a letter that bore one of those rare stamps might have been sent, has been traced by professional collectors seeking new "finds."

"A few years ago," the professional collector related, "we knew of only ten copies of that first issue. Then in an old schoolhouse in the islands two more turned up by accident. A visitor to that schoolhouse noticed under some peeling whitewash in the corner an old yellow envelope. He pulled it out of the plaster and found on it two blue scraps of paper, each worth a small fortune."

Another story of Hawaiians, this time concerned with genuine copies but not so rare an issue, relates of a bargain made from New York by mail through California agents. A representative of one of the big eastern stamp agencies, a man of the type that baseball would describe as a "semipro," worked on a Los Angeles newspaper and had stamp collecting on a commission basis as a side line. He received word one day to investigate a rumor that a retired farmer and his wife possessed letters from a relative who had been a missionary to Hawaii in the '50s.

On the day that he received the letter the agent was too busy to go out to the place, a little bungalow in the distant suburbs. But the following afternoon he was able to get away and motored out in his flivver. Just as he drew up to the place the front door opened and three broad smiles greeted him; the first two on the features of the old couple, the third, with something of malicious triumph in it, on the face of a rival collector.

"Too late, Bill," sang out the rival. "We've just closed the deal. Gimme a lift back to town and I'll tell you all about it on the way."

It seems he hadn't been sure they'd saved the letters from Uncle Ezra, but he remembered where they'd stored them in the attic.

A week or two later the representative returned to the bungalow and handed him a check. The old gentleman's face blanched when he saw what it read and he dropped down limp on to the porch swing and nearly fainted. He and his wife were far from well to do and that check for $3,000 meant comfort for them to the end of their days.

Needed No Apprenticeship.

Recently a Jeffersonville man, who is classed among the heavyweights and therefore fitted for a place on the police force, applied for appointment and was selected, relates the Indianapolis News. Being more diffident than one would expect for a man of his avoirdupois, he applied to a friend of his, now a justice of the peace, but then running a little grocery, for some hints on what to do. His friend gave him some counsel and encouragingly remarked: "You'll soon get on to the work all right." The second night after his appointment the new officer fetched up outside his friend's grocery, passed the time of night, reached out a big hand and grabbed a bunch of bananas and proceeded ruminatively to dispose of them. His friend looked at him for a moment or two, also ruminatively, and then said: "Officer I don't much think you need anybody to teach you your rights and duties."

Inside Out.

A tall, pretty, dark-eyed girl in the dressing room of the New York university fluffed out her hair under her hair net and, turning away from the mirror, announced to the chattering crowd, "I'm going to have my hair bobbed."

"Oh, don't you do it!" "Don't be silly!" "You have such beautiful hair," came in a protesting chorus.

"Well, I'm going to have it bobbed anyway. That is, just as soon as mother will say yes."

"I'll bet she won't." "Small chance you have." "What does she say?" the voices rose again.

"Oh, she'll come around all right; you'll see. She says now that she'll let me do it, if I'll go to a doctor first to find out what is wrong with the inside of my head."—Pittsburgh Leader.

NOT REAL RULERS

European Monarchs in the Main Mere Puppets.

Writer Points Out That Courtiers and Ministers Actually Exercised Power Accredited to Kings.

Writing in the Prager Tagblatt, a staff correspondent points out that times are past when the glory of a congress consisted in the number of kings taking part in it.

"The year 1918 is sometimes looked upon as the boundary line between two periods, but long before this date the idea had developed which no longer allowed one man to decide the fate of a nation merely because of his birth or 'divine right,'" he writes.

"A proof of this is that the czar rule, and the special way in which Wilhelm II liked to incorporate the German kaiser idea, were regarded for years as something exceptional. But did even this system really represent a form of rule in which the will of the crowned head alone governed?"

"It is true that nowhere else would it have been possible for a great chancellor, like Bismarck, to have been dismissed because his dictatorial manner did not please a young prince, nor for the most efficient of his successors to have suffered the same fate because he failed to regard the tactless indiscretions of the ruler as the outcome of imperial wisdom."

"But perhaps this personal rule was less the rule of one person than was generally believed. Was it not rather a good opportunity for a crowd of irresponsible courtiers to satisfy their lust for power in the shadow of the all-powerful majesty; in peace the junkies, and in war, the army commanders?"

"And when we are told that for three years during the war, the Austrian senate was not summoned, so as not to excite the old emperor, Franz Joseph, with home politics, it is probable that the real reason was rather the minister's desire for peace and quietness, who, by pointing out the necessity for the monarch's well being provided for himself uncontrolled and undisturbed rule."

"Nowadays in countries where the institution of ruler still exists the office rather diminishes than increases the natural power of expansion of a personality. Among the kings now ruling in Europe there are some who are said to possess unusual abilities. But the most humble member of parliament with a good pair of lungs has more influence than they."

"It is characteristic that the office which in free states substitutes the head of a monarchy, is made to resemble that of the crowned ruler by not having power but being a decorative figurehead and that a strong man like Poincaré after being president had first to become prime minister to bring his political vision to account."

"King Victor Emmanuel was received with the usual ceremony in Genoa, his speech was listened to with respect and attention, but when the incident was over there was much greater interest in what those men had to say who really rule, such as Lloyd George, Poincaré, Tchitcherin and Rathenau."

He Did That Very Thing.

One of the pleasures of Rev. John Gorman, superintendent of the Gibraltar home for boys in Indiana, is to watch the youngsters eat when they first come to the home. Many of them haven't had a good meal for a long time, preceding their arrival at the home, and it takes quite a while to "get them filled up" so that their appetites become normal again.

But one little fellow, who arrived a few weeks ago, didn't seem able to appease his hunger. Every meal he demanded 15 slices of bread. After a time the superintendent decided something was wrong and when the doctor next visited the home had him look at the youngster.

The examination showed him in a good condition. At its close the doctor said to the little fellow: "Why don't you try leaving the table hungry some day?"

A little pause, and then back came the startling answer, "I always do."—Indianapolis News.

Remarkable Collection.

A remarkable collection of pictures, which will be more highly prized as years go by, is the series of American astronomical photographs which ex-Maj. Ernest Jones, army air service, has gathered during his 15 years in this work. They cover the development of aeronautics, particularly aviation, from 1863 to 1917. The 1,800 photographs visualize the successive steps made by the Wright brothers, Curtiss, Thomas, Wittenman and other pioneers in this country. Some of these are the only pictures in existence of certain machines and events. "It is probable," says United States Air Service, "that this is the most complete collection of air photographs in America."—Exchange.

Electrification in Sweden.

The Swedish government has been requested to establish a model electrified farm to be located, if possible, near Stockholm.

In view of the fact that more than one-third of the agricultural Sweden is now electrified, it is proposed that the model farm be as nearly 100 per cent electrically operated as possible so that Swedish farmers who are now in a position to change horse for electric power, may be enabled to view demonstrations of how "white coal" can be utilized in the country.

WE CALL FOR BAGGAGE CHECKS

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS PARKER

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Anslem L. Bacon of 97 Montvale road, Newton Centre, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Katharine Parker, to Henry Goldborough MacLure, son of Rev. Laurens MacLure, D. D., rector of Grace Episcopal Church, in Newton, and Mrs. MacLure. Their home is at 64 Eldridge street, Newton.

Miss Parker recently returned on the White Star steamer Majestic, from travel in Europe, where she went in January on the Homeric, taking the Mediterranean trip. She attended the Low & Heywood School at Stamford, Conn., and later the Garland School in Boston. Her sister, formerly Miss Virginia Parker, is now the wife of Leon B. Farley of Claffin road, Brookline. A brother, William E. Parker, is a student at Amherst College.

Henry MacLure was graduated from Harvard, S. B., in 1915, and later had a notable war experience. He entered the Officers' Training Camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y., in May, 1917, and soon was transferred to the Air Service and later was detailed to the University of Toronto, in Canada, in the aviation section, Signal Corps. From there he was transferred to Camp Hicks in Texas, and was commissioned a first lieutenant in February, 1918, and was assigned to the 139th Aero Squadron. He sailed for France on July 17, 1918, was taken prisoner, near Metz, and was held as such until released on Nov. 29 from a German prison. He returned to the United States the following February, and soon afterward was honorably discharged from service.

Large Family Records.

Although 24 children in a family is not altogether an uncommon thing in the Province of Quebec, the birth of a twenty-fourth child to the same parents in Geneva was found to be of sufficient importance to telegraph the news to England. This has caused a London paper to remark that there has been larger families in England than that of the Swiss, and the writer proceeds to say that a county history of Cumberland relates that at Kirtlington-Moor, in 1797, "a man and his wife accompanied by their 30 children might have been seen proceeding to church to the christening of their thirty-first."

Crabbe and Teniers.

Can you explain or understand why Fitzgerald had such a fervent admiration for Crabbe? If the style is the man, could there be men more widely different than these two? The same pleasure can be taken in Crabbe's poetry (rhythm rather) that can be found in Teniers' pictures, not an atom more. The interior with its pots and pans is marvelously exact, but when all's done you look but at a stool.—"The Letters of Horace Edward Furness." Edited by H. H. F. J.

NEWTON LOSES

The baseball team lost out to Quincy High on Wednesday at the latter city, by the score of 6 to 5.

The stick work of Quincy High in the sixth turned the tide. Newton High led, 3 to 0, up to the fifth inning, when Quincy made two in the next inning added four more. Two of Newton's three runs in the first inning were made possible by a muff on the part of McLeod. After that Quincy settled down. Jacobson, the new Quincy pitcher, showed up well in his first game on home grounds, getting eight strikeouts and allowing eight hits. Whittemore of Newton struck

Why Bill Was Not Answered.

A man and his wife went to call one day at a country house. They rang the bell, and as there was no reply they knocked also. Still nobody answered them, so they rang again. They kept on ringing and knocking, and although there were signs of life in the house, no attention was paid to them. Finally they turned to go, feeling justly annoyed. As they were walking down the drive they met the twins of the house. Billy and Milly, aged seven, grinned happily. "The louder you ring the less they'll come," said Billy. "Yes," added Milly. "They'll think it's us!"

"Bluster" of the Porcupine.

The porcupine is a "bluffer." One of the best blusters, for he not only turns himself into a living chestnut burr but rattles his quills against one another like some medieval knight jangling all his war harness as he enters the joust to proclaim how impregnable he is, and at the same time to hearten himself up a bit. If the porcupine shivered with fright the same rattling of the hollow quills would follow, and perhaps, if the truth were known, that is really what happens.

All her selections were sung with true artistic interpretation. The two fascinating love songs written by Mrs. M. H. Gulesian of Chestnut Hill, were delightfully sung. Mrs. Gulesian, pianist for the afternoon, is a great favorite in Boston and is always enthusiastically received.

DEATH OF REV. DR. COBB

Rev. William H. Cobb, D. D., for thirty-five years librarian at the Congregational House, died Tuesday morning at his home in Newton Centre. Dr. Cobb was a native of Marion and both his father, Rev. Leander Cobb, and his grandfather, Rev. Oliver Cobb, were ministers of the Congregational Church at that town. He was educated at Amherst, and was graduated in the class of '67, later spending a year at Princeton, though teaching school in between his college courses. He studied theology at the Andover Theological Seminary and following his ordination in 1872 he accepted a pastorate at Chillingworth. This was followed by pastorates at Medford and at Uxbridge. Dr. Cobb remained at the latter place for nine years and then accepted the post which he filled up to the time of his death.

Amherst gave him the degree of D. D. in 1892. He published two books, "A Criticism of Systems of Hebrew Metres," which won a prize from Oxford University, and "The Meaning of Church Unity." Many articles from his pen were printed in The Journal of Biblical Literature, of which he was one of the editors, 1889-1915. The Bibliotheca Saera and other magazines. He was Recording Secretary of the Society of Biblical Literature, and Exegesis 1890-1915 and an active member of the Harvard Biblical Club.

Dr. Cobb is survived by his widow, who was Emily Wiggins of Wilmington, Del.; and four children, Miss Anne Cobb of the Hindman Settlement School of Hindman, Ky.; Professor Charles W. Cobb of Amherst, Professor Edward S. Cobb of Doshisha University, Kyoto, Japan; and Miss Mary B. Cobb.

The funeral service was held in the chapel of the First Church, Thursday afternoon at 3:00 and the pastor, Rev. F. N. Noyes officiated, assisted by Rev. Enoch F. Bell of the American Board, a neighbor and friend. The interment was in Maine.

RETARD OLD AGE

Certain Foods Known in Asia Minor as Life Preserving.

System of Diet of the Early World When People Lived for Hundreds of Years.

It may interest readers to hear of a system of diet which is that of the early world when people lived hundreds of years without growing old. I heard of it while traveling in Asia Minor from an Armenian woman of sixty of very youthful appearance, writes M. E. Forbes in the Saturday Review. Traditions on diet and long life had been preserved in her family from very ancient times.

Her father had lived to one-hundred and fifty and her grandfather and her grandmother also. She attributed her youth to certain laws of diet and to a particular sweetmeat, a kind of sweet paste, which she claimed was one of the foods of the patriarchs and enabled them to live to their great age. It prolongs youth and retards old age, and is made from two of the life-preserving foods mixed with honey and other ingredients. She believed that old age and disease were due to unsuitable and wrong combinations of food and that a longer youth can be achieved by keeping as strictly as possible to the diet of the ancient world.

She divided food into three classes—the life giving, containing the proteins, fats and carbohydrates; the life preserving, only six in number; wine, olive oil, yohort (fermented milk), butter, honey and dates; and the life destroying, five in number, which should never be eaten, and consist of flesh of meat, tea, coffee, beer and spirits. Her own diet consisted of wholesome bread, eggs, vegetables, some of each of these life-preserving foods, and lentils, and at the midday and evening meals some of the sweetmeat, the latter being a very essential part of the diet. She claims that it is possible to maintain youth and vigor up to a very long time on this diet.

I have tried it now for seven months, eating only very little fish and fowl. I have grown much stronger, my friends tell me I look much younger, and I have entirely got rid of a troublesome throat affection and cough which I suffered from for years and which I always feared would develop into consumption. Medicine and an operation failed to do me any good, but this diet seems to have eliminated the germs from my system, for I am entirely cured.

There are such a number of systems nowadays that one is apt to think very little of them, but I can testify that this system will yield the fullest results, only it must be conscientiously carried out, and whatever else is eaten, the life-destroying foods should be given up.

Revenue From Trees.

The United States forestry service is endeavoring to get the cities and municipalities of the country into line for the proper forestation of such lands as these organizations might own and control. The fact is deplored in a recent paper on the subject that less than one-half of the land owned or controlled by the cities of New York state is properly cared for and made to pay for the keep.

Newburg, which leads in the development of municipal lands, has been engaged for some time in the task of reforesting its watershed so as to insure a supply of water and to derive a future income. This consists of 175 acres, of which 18 acres have been reforested. The work has been done by securing the interest of the school children, and each year 200 boys and girls are taken to the country for the purpose of tree-planting.

Burma Needs Farm Implements.

Need for agricultural machinery in Burma is growing every year. With a population of 12,000,000, the growth of which is not keeping pace with the new areas which are being put under cultivation and with a constantly increasing acreage of cultivated land, there is an insufficiency of labor, and it is necessary to import farm laborers from India. Methods of farming are still primitive and the introduction of modern implements would do much toward relieving the shortage of labor. Implements for rice cultivation, similar to those used in the Philippines, would find a ready sale.—Consul J. P. Moffitt, Rangoon.

Makes Record Growth.

A recent note in Science records what is believed to be the temperate zone record for a single season's growth of a shoot of the tree type of the woody plant. This phenomenal shoot grew from the stump of a beheaded Paulownia and reached a height of 21 feet 6 inches, a circumference of 10 inches at the base and had 24 leaves, one of which, measured late in July, was found to be 38 inches long in the largest dimension.

Stripped of Illusion.

"When the millionaire married the chorus girl beauty he told the world it was Cupid's handiwork."

"And now?"

"Judging from the way he talks in court it was a put-up job."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Good Work of Salvation Army. The Salvation Army reached 27,703, 817 persons through its street meetings last year, a third of whom would never have heard a sermon or a hymn except for the Salvationists.

The Law of the Land, Must and Shall Be Respected

EDITORIAL

The favorable action of the Legislature on the so-called Adlow bill for a state wide expression of opinion on the wisdom of the 18th amendment to the Federal constitution and on a modification of the Volstead act is not creditable to the Republican party which is in power at the state house. The referendum is absolutely useless for there is no authority in law to instruct our United States Senators and Congressmen in this manner. It would be a mere expression of opinion and if, by any chance, that opinion would be in favor of a repeal of the 18th amendment and a modification of the Volstead act, Massachusetts would be the laughing stock of the entire country. We believe the vote of the Legislature on the Adlow bill, which by the way was secured by a combination of a few Republicans (who ought to have known better) and the solid Democratic strength of the House, and Senate, plays directly into the hands of the Democratic party and will be plainly manifest in the primaries and elections of 1924.

Notwithstanding the continued high prices of labor and materials, there is a large amount of building construction going on in this city. With some relief from the too rigid requirements of our Building Code, we believe that building would nearly double within a year.

Next week is Clean-Up week. Take due notice and do your part towards making it a success.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

While the amount of unfinished business before the Legislature is comparatively small, some of it is of the utmost importance to the taxpayers of the Commonwealth. The situation in regard to the national bank taxes is most critical and involves millions of dollars in taxes. In brief, it is principally caused by the passage of the income tax in 1916, which taxed only the income from capital employed in loaning money except the capital of trust companies and national banks. Under Federal law, a state can tax national banks on the same basis as it taxes other capital engaged in competition with national banks. Thus before the income tax, we taxed the capital of national banks, as well as similar capital in the hands of our citizens (that is to say we taxed what we could find of such capital.) This complied with the Federal law and was lawful. Since 1916, however we have continued to tax the capital of national banks, as before, but we have taxed only the income from other capital. Suits brought by the national banks to recover taxes which are claimed as illegally assessed are now pending and undoubtedly will be decided in favor of the banks and while only one bank has sued for all taxes paid since 1916, others are suing for such years as the statute of limitations allow. Newton's share of the bank tax last year was some $133,000 and if such taxes should be assessed on an income and not a capital basis, we would lose about 80% of that amount. All in all it is a puzzling question and one which will undoubtedly delay prorogation for some time to come.

The big interest this week on Beacon Hill was the action of the Senate on Tuesday on the three liquor bills, viz—the Adlow bill for a state wide referendum on the 18th amendment and the Volstead act, the Shea resolve to memorialize Congress for a higher alcoholic content than 1% in defining intoxicating liquor and the bill for a better enforcement of the liquor law in the state of Massachusetts. The first two measures were considered wet and the last dry, and yet the Senate gave a favorable vote on all three. Senator Rice, who is still confined to the house by illness was paired on the dry side of each of these bills.

The Adlow bill was before the House on Monday and was passed by a vote of 113 to 94, practically the same margin as that of the previous stage. Representative Saltonstall again voted with the solid Democratic party and some 50 Republicans for the bill and Representative Early and the writer in opposition. The debate before the House was enlivened by an amendment offered by Mr. Hull, which merely called for an expression by the people on the question of whether or not the 18th amendment should be enforced. This amendment which was defeated by a vote of 79 to 133, all three Newton men voting in opposition, may have prevented a larger dry vote on the main bill. It certainly did not do the dry cause any good.

There has also been several roll calls this week in the House over the question of requiring contractors on public work to pay the prevailing rate of wages to laborers in all such work. While the bill was apparently fair, it was pointed out that it would raise serious questions in cases where one town paid 45 cents an hour and an adjoining town paid 53 or 60 cents an hour, particularly if streets or bridges were in progress of construction between those places. It seemed wiser therefore to defeat the bill, although it was first favored by a vote of 102 to 90 and later defeated by a vote of 105 to 94.

Bills to increase the salaries of judges and clerks of the district courts have been passed this week under which Judge Bacon of the Newton court will receive a ten percent increase in salary.

The House has adopted an order which declares next week to be the last week of the session. Possibly.

NEWTON HOSPITAL DAY

A most cordial invitation is extended to the readers of the Graphic to visit the Newton Hospital on Saturday, May 12th, between the hours of one o'clock and five o'clock P. M.

The day which is National Hospital Day, will be observed in a similar way by more than five thousand hospitals throughout the country.

The purpose is not to solicit funds but to give all the people an opportunity to inspect the institutions which their generosity helps to support.

The Newton Hospital is in hearty sympathy with the movement which was inaugurated two years ago and so the invitation is most cordial.

Many know that we have a hospital in Newton but comparatively few have any adequate idea of the buildings and equipment required for such a work or realize the extent of the service which is rendered twenty-four hours every day and three hundred and sixty-five days every year.

FORMER RESIDENT HONORED

Dr. George K. Burgess, Chief of the Division of Metallurgy, Bureau of Standards, has been appointed by President Harding Director of the Bureau of Standards, succeeding Dr. Samuel W. Stratton, who left last December 31 to become president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The new Director of the Bureau of Standards comes from Massachusetts, where he graduated from the Institute of Technology in 1896. He has been with the Bureau of Standards since 1903.

By his thorough training and extensive experience in scientific affairs Dr. Burgess is believed by the administration to be well equipped to take charge of the big bureau which through steady growth has attained a highly responsible place, not only in the machinery of government, but as a scientific aid to the American people.

Born in Newton in 1874, the son of the late Charles A. Burgess, Dr. Burgess received his early education here, later getting his first college degree from M. I. T. For two years after graduation he assisted in the Institute, instructing in physics. From there he went to Paris, where after graduate work he received the degree of doctor of science from the University of Paris. Dr. Burgess, returning to America, was instructor at the University of Michigan for one year, at the University of California for two years, following which he came to Washington in 1903 to enter the Bureau of Standards. Placed in charge of pyrometry, or the science of heat measurement, Dr. Burgess developed this work, out of which grew later the division of metallurgy, established in 1913, with one man. That division, of which Dr. Burgess was chief before his appointment to-day, grew steadily in size and usefulness, until now it has a personnel of fifty-three men.

Dr. Burgess is a member of a number of scientific bodies. He is president of the American Society for Testing Materials and a member of the National Academy of Sciences, the American Society for Steel Treating, the American Institute for Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, the Iron and Steel Institute of Great Britain, and the Washington Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Burgess is also a member of the National Research Council and represents the Department of Commerce on the American Engineering Standards Committee, a national organization on preparing of standards of engineering materials and practices. He is a member of the Cosmos Club.

Miss Clara A. Burgess of Newtonville is a sister of Dr. Burgess.

KILL THE "SKEET"

The following circular issued by the Board of Health of Brookline gives much valuable advice on the suppression of mosquitoes. Let us heed it.

Mosquitoes breed only in water, either fresh or polluted. They do not breed in grass; but rank grasses, weeds, and other forms of plant life afford a safe shelter for the adult insects. It is therefore desirable that rank weeds and grasses be closely cut.

Inspection by the Health Department has shown that there are many mosquito breeding receptacles to be found in back yards, vacant lots, alleys, areas in and about stables, sheds, and the space underneath verandas, such as barrels, garbage buckets, tins, pails, water-troughs, glazed flower pots, cans, bottles, and boxes. These receptacles should be emptied of water and should be broken and buried, or removed to the public dump.

If a barrel, bucket, or other receptacle must contain water, it should be emptied and washed out every few days; or covered, or screened tightly to prevent the entrance or exit of mosquitoes.

Residents leaving Newton for the summer are requested to thoroughly cleanse the house garbage bucket and place it empty in the house cellar. It should never be left standing with water in it, either in or outside the house during the mosquito season. Garbage receptacles placed in the earth, particularly the outer case, are found to contain water. These receptacles should be properly drained.

House gutters frequently become obstructed and defective. They should be cleaned and straightened that they may drain thoroughly.

Stable cellars very often contain stagnant water. These cellars should be thoroughly drained.

Catch basins, cesspools, and stagnant water should be emptied every two weeks. Use one ounce of oil to every ten square feet of water surface.

The suppression of mosquitoes is furthered by efficient drainage or filling of wet areas. Oil can be used where draining or filling is impracticable.

Trouble from mosquitoes about your house indicates standing water either on or closely adjacent to your premises.

POLICE COURT

In the District Court Monday Albert Foley of 981 Watertown street, West Newton, arrested by Patrolman Guy Sanderson of the Park police, pleaded guilty to the charges of being drunk, operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, operating without proper registration and operating a car on a road from which motor vehicles are excluded by orders of the Metropolitan Park Commission.

Charges of drunkenness and operating on an excluded road were filed. He was fined $10 for driving without registration and fined $100 and sentenced to one month in the House of Correction for operating under the influence of liquor. He appealed. Foley was arrested in Forest Grove.

A. O. H. WHIST

Division 22, A. O. H. Auxiliary of Newton, held a successful whist party Wednesday night in the Newton Council, K. of C. Home, Newtonville, with nearly 200 in attendance. Mrs. John Goddard was chairman of the committee of arrangements. Prizes in the whist were awarded to George Millem, Mary MacLean, Mrs. John Hession, Joseph Quinn and Henry Collaghan.

High School Notes

On Wednesday members of the Technical High School gathered in the Assembly Hall in memory of a former student of the class of 1919, Jack Lewis. Irving O. Palmer, principal of the school, gave the eulogy. Remarks were made by Francis White, Ruth Perkins and Miss Caroline Doonan and Maynard Maxim.

On April 20-21 the Newton High School Tennis Team defeated the Loomis School of Windsor, Conn., and the Providence, R. I. team. The players who made the trip were: Capt. M. Hill, Henry Johnson, Al Turner, E. Wales, D. Martin, Abbott Gotschall and Herbert Jones as chauffeur and acting manager.

The baseball scores to date are:

April 7. Tufts Pre-medical 7

April 10. Hyde Park 11 Newton 9

April 14. Waltham 4 Newton 24

April 19. Everett 11 Newton 9

April 21. Brookline 2 Newton 5

April 26. Waltham 4 Newton 5

The cast for "Lady Coquette" has been rehearsing diligently and should produce a good play when it is given.

The Alpha Gamma Tau is to give its mock trial at Boston University on Saturday, May 5. This is to be given before the New England Association of Mathematics teachers, not especially as a production, but as an example of the possibilities of such an organization.

On Thursday, April 12, members of the Vocational High School faculty presented a one-act play, "Thirty Minutes for Refreshments," which was given for the benefit of "The Newtonite." Those who took part were: Mr. White, Mr. Hardy, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Alger, Mr. Goodwin, Mr. Smith and Mr. Potter. This was followed by a dance in the library.

D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter of the D. A. R. is to hold a breadmaking contest and Food Sale on Saturday, May 19th, from 2-6 at the chapter house on Washington street, followed by a Colonial Tea.

The affair is in charge of Mrs. Charles J. O'Malley. The following are on the reception committee Mrs. Otto Schofield, Mrs. E. B. Parker, Mrs. Henry D. Lucas, Miss Emily Jordan, Mrs. Harris Poor, and Mrs. Nathan O. Goodman.

The State Regent and the Chapter Regent are to be entertained and will act as judges. Prizes will be given for the best loaves.

DEATH OF MRS. IRVIN

Mrs. Ann Irvin, the widow of the late James Irvin, died on Sunday at her home on Pearl street, Newton, at the age of 82 years. Mrs. Irvin, who has been a resident here for nearly 60 years, has been in failing health for several years.

She is survived by two sons, Messrs. James A. Irvin and Charles E. Irvin of this city.

Funeral services were held from her late home on Wednesday and Rev. Dr. H. Grant Person, pastor of Eliot church of which Mrs. Irvin had been an attendant, officiated. The interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

Bigelow School

The spring number of the Bigelow Beacon is published this week. A special feature of this issue is the large number of contributors from the younger grades.

The press at Bigelow is too small to print our papers. For this reason the linotyping is done in Boston. Then the type is expressed to some school in Newton whose printing facilities are more adequate than those of Bigelow.

The Hallowe'en, the Christmas, and the February Patriotic numbers were printed by Bigelow boys on the Mason School press at Newton Centre.

Our present issue is being printed at Junior High School in Newtonville. The Editors hope that some day the Bigelow will have a printing press of her own.

Hockey letters were awarded to the following members of the championship hockey squad Wednesday at General Assembly: Stubbs, Switzer, Kinley, J. McLean and Fletcher. In order to wear the "B" a boy must be satisfactory not only in athletics but also in school work and conduct.

A practice game of baseball was played with Mason, Tuesday, at Burr Playground and although Bigelow led for a time the final score was 13 to 10 for Mason. Switzer and Stubbs for Bigelow, and Warren and DeMille for Mason were the heavy hitters. Hough did sensational work in the field for Bigelow.

Bigelow Juniors opposed Mason Juniors at Burr School on Thursday.

K. OF C. BAZAAR

Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, is holding a successful bazaar this week in Old Faneuil Hall, Newtonville, which has been elaborately decorated for the occasion.

The Bazaar began yesterday and will continue through today and tomorrow.

Circus decorations with countless booths on the midway selling candy, novelties, blankets, dolls, household articles, gifts and hundreds of other articles; music, vaudeville and exhibition favor the dancing make the bazaar a veritable circus.

Among the entertainers are the Misses Marion Shaughnessy and Frances Warren, pupils from Miss Grace Kerrivan's studio, in exhibitions of fancy dancing; Fred De George, songs; Miss Grace Kerrivan, piano and cornet solos.

The executive committee for the bazaar is made up as follows: Paul M. Fitzgerald, chairman; John A. Dunton, secretary; John F. Gallagher, treasurer; Henry J. Kinchla.

WHIST PARTY

The first whist party by the women's committee working for the Co. H, 101st Infantry, M. N. G., field day was held Wednesday night in the State Armory with a large attendance. The committee includes Mrs. Margaret E. Drennan, chairman; Elizabeth Mitchell, Mrs. Joseph Levasch, Miss May Saunders, Mrs. Catherine Calder, Mrs. George Saunders, Eugene Drennan, Mr. John Calder, Daniel Crowley, Mrs. Pierce and James Mitchell.

The new Rotary Club held its first luncheon on Tuesday at the Newton Club in Newtonville. As is usual with new Rotary clubs, the meeting was under the management of an older Rotary Club, and members of the Boston Rotary were in charge. There was a good attendance and Mr. Frank de Chant of the Boston Club gave a talk on the principles of Rotary as applied to modern business.
Members of the Melrose Rotary Club will have charge of the meeting next Tuesday noon.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by Miss Grace M. Burt

The accompanying resolution, passed at the annual meeting of the Newton Community Club, and on of similar purpose from the Newton Social Science Club was presented at the annual meeting of the Newton Federation on Wednesday and passed unanimously. It will be forwarded to the State Federation with the hope that it will come before the annual meeting at Swampscott. When once the women are fully aroused to the matter, it should help in cleaning up the intolerable conditions that now exist.

Whereas:—It has been brought to our attention that a petition to Congress is being circulated by the Anti-Volstead League and the Women's Liberty League, to bring back the use of wine and beer.

Resolved:—That the Newton Community Club stands firmly for the maintenance of the law of the land, in particular for the upholding of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act by which that Amendment is rendered effective, and that we deprecate the present attitude of our own Commonwealth, by which Massachusetts with but two other States refuses to take part in the enforcement of this Amendment;

Resolved:—That our Legislative Committee be requested and empowered to carry this resolution to the coming meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, in the hope that it may in turn be presented to the State Federation, to enlist and to maintain the active interest and support of all the intelligent and public-spirited women of the State.

As a practical suggestion, we recommend that every woman inform herself on the subject by reading,

1. The speech of Senator Morris Sheppard on Sept. 29, 1922, published in the Congressional Record of that date.

2. The pamphlet, "Hold Fast America," which is the result of the investigation of Gifford Gordon, of Australia, on the operation of prohibition in the United States.

3. The special article, "Three Years of Prohibition" in the Outlook of March 21, 1923.

State Federation

Plans for the annual meeting are now completed, and there is every prospect of an unusually fine program and an enthusiastic gathering. The convention will open on Wednesday, May 23, at three o'clock, that session being given up to the reports of officers, special committee chairmen and one group of department chairmen. In the evening will come the report of the Atlanta Council meeting of the General Federation, music and an address by Dr. Tehyi Hsieh of China, "East and West, Once Back to Back, Now Face to Face." Thursday will be a full day with reports from further department chairmen, district directors, the election of officers. At the evening session a pageant, "Bearers of Light" will be presented under the direction of the state chairmen of literature, music, and art, followed by a reception to delegates and visiting club women. On Friday morning will come the concluding reports of departments and presentation of new officers. Mrs. Poole in her message to the clubs says of the annual meeting: "We hope many are planning to attend the annual meeting at Swampscott. For the first time in many years we gather under one roof, a happy family of club women. We shall tell of the year's accomplishments, plan for the year to come, listen to an inspiring address, travel in pictures and pageantry over the years of the world, and still find time to learn to know each other better."

Presidents' Club

The Presidents' Club will hold its annual meeting at Hotel Vendome, on Thursday, May 10, at 2.30. Mrs. Frederick G. Smith, first vice-president of the State Federation, will be the guest of honor. After the business and election of officers, there will be music by Mrs. Lester Bartlett, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur H. Davidson, and readings by Miss Winifred Stackpole, and a social hour over the teacups.

Local Announcements

Saturday, May 5, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will hold its annual meeting with its founder, Mrs. S. L. Eaton.

On Monday, three of the clubs will hold their annual meetings: The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. with the president, Miss Harriet M. Ward, 1080 Walnut street; The Newton Mothers' Club will meet for luncheon at one o'clock in the parish

Local Happenings

Two matters of business that promise to be of lasting significance for the Newton Community Club were passed at the annual meeting last Thursday, that the club become incorporated, and the appointment of a special committee to confer upon plans for a more adequate meeting place, the members being Mrs. Loren D. Towle, Mrs. Edward H. Keach, and Mrs. Sidney Peterson. The resolution given above, relative to the enforcement and upholding of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act was passed unanimously. Appropriations to the amount of $315 were voted, being divided among the following objects: West Newton Music School, Newton District Nursing Association, Newton Welfare Bureau, Pomroy Home, Newton Hospital, Newton Circle, Stearns School Centre, Stone Institute, Boys Committee of the Newton Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., Massachusetts Safety Council, Massachusetts Child Labor Committee, Near East Relief.

Committee reports brought together a record of much work done and general prosperity in the club. The membership has now reached 636; financially the club is well fixed, with a substantial sum in permanent funds and a working balance with which to begin the new year.

The committee has worked under Mr. Roy, gave an entertainment for some of her classes, collected magazines, and contributed $5 toward the piano for Thompsonville. The Civics and Social Service committee has followed up the local motion picture houses and checked up the membership list with the voting list, finding that the club is about 80% registered. Classes in Parliamentary Law, French, and Auction Bridge have been carried on under the Group Activities committee trips have been made to various museums and to historic houses.

Interest in Conservation has practically been limited to the members of the committee, a fact deplored by the chairman. Legislative matters have been studied into and hearings followed. A Literature Round Table with an enrollment of 36 has held four meetings for the consideration of current literature. The chorus has met for practice nine times during the winter notwithstanding intolerable traffic conditions, and has furnished music for many of the meetings. Songs by the chorus, Mrs. Foley and Mrs. Wales taking the solos, were interspersed between reports, relieving the program in a delightful manner.

At the close of the business, Mrs. Sidney Peterson, the retiring president, presented Mrs. Edward H. Keach, the newly elected president, who accepted her office with a few graceful words. Mrs. Royal C. Waring presented flowers to Mrs. Peterson and to Miss Emma E. Walker, who retired from the office of treasurer after four years of most faithful service.

The company then adjourned to the rooms below where the members had opportunity to meet the three presidents of the club, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, Mrs. Sidney Peterson, and Mrs. Edward H. Keach. Tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Allen with members whose name begin with B as her assistants.

Next year's officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Edward H. Keach; First Vice-President, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry; Second Vice-President, Mrs. George Lincoln Parker; Third Vice-President, Mrs. Harold P. Fuller; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Buckmaster; Treasurer, Mrs. Miriam Drury; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Stafford Johnson; Auditor, Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs; Directors, Term expires 1926, Mrs. Leslie H. Naylor, Mrs. Ralph W. Adams, Mrs. J. A. Whittemore, Mrs. Charles H. Barney.

man for four years. Mrs. G. E. Armstrong, who presented the report, spoke touchingly of the loss to the Federation in Mrs. Rice's going, and made the members feel what a power she had been in the work. The committee has worked for the zoning ordinance, has had members present at the meetings of the Aldermen, and has followed diligently the hearings at the State House on the bills selected by the State Federation for endorsement, and the passage of the Amy B. Rice Amendment, the Federation's own bill.

The annual meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held at the Free Barn Country Club on Friday of last week. Reports of officers and chairmen of committees showed a year of great activity and good work accomplished. Contributions have been made to the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association, West Newton Music School, West Newton Memorial Library Fund, District Nursing Association, Julia Ward Howe Memorial Fund, Americanization work of Newton Federation, Massachusetts Safety Council, and a partial scholarship at Radcliffe has been given to a Newtonville girl.

The following officers were elected for the year 1923-1924: President, Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald; first vice-president, Mrs. John R. McLean; second vice-president, Mrs. Charles E. Fenn; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Frederick A. Cole; corresponding secretary, Miss Ruth D. St. Amant; treasurer, Mrs. Adam Haug; auditor, Mrs. Wilfred A. Clark, directors for three years, Mrs. Harry S. Wells, Mrs. Josiah F. Whitney, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard.

The arrangements for the day were in charge of Mrs. John R. McLean, who presented a pleasing program. Mr. Paul Scarborough of West Newton, entertained delightfully with groups of songs. Several past presidents of the club, Mrs. Thomas Elwell, Mrs. George W. St. Amant, Mrs. Walter A. Beedle, and Mrs. Bernard Early, made brief speeches which were enthusiastically received. Mrs. Robert Gorton, a former president, and Mrs. George G. Phipps, honorary vice-president, were also present. The luncheon tables were prettily decorated with pink carnations, and beautiful bouquets of the same flowers were presented to the retiring officers. Mrs. Wells, the retiring president, passed the gavel to her successor with congratulations and best wishes, and Mrs. McDonald responded in a most gracious manner.

Saturday afternoon brought out a goodly number of friends and members of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club for its annual Guest Day, held this year in the parlors of the Congregational Church. The president, Mrs. H. W. Drew, together with the vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Bicknell, and the guest of honor, Mrs.

Ralph C. Henry, president of the Newton Federation, who also brought greetings, received the guests as they arrived. Violin and piano music was rendered during the reception by Miss Dagmar Lindequist, and Miss Rhoda Cohen, members of the club. Miss Mary E. Newhall, another club member contributed songs, which were also greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Parrett of the Lealand Powers School gave readings from "Twelfth Night" and from "The Taming of the Shrew" in a most charming manner. Mrs. F. H. Stratton was chairman of the program, and Mrs. C. G. Ward of Newton Centre of the tea. Altogether it was a very delightful afternoon.

The Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls held an art and loan exhibit at the home of Mrs. Ernest Cobb last Friday. There were many very interesting things shown including articles from Turkey, Syria, and Armenia. The exhibition merited an even larger attendance than was accorded it.

New England Woman's Press Association

Newton was well represented at the meeting of the New England Woman's Press Association on Wednesday, and particularly the Graphic. J. C. Brimblecom contributed to the discussion of Clean Journalism an interesting paper on the question, "What Is News?" At the business meeting Miss Grace M. Burt was elected second vice-president.

Newton Federation Annual Meeting

Club interest is focussed on the annual meeting of the Newton Federation each year as the first week in May comes around. Wednesday's meeting at Newtonville was fully up to the standard of previous years, and the reports of work done and more still to be done were listened to with keen interest. A new feature the past year has been that of the Federation's being the guest of some club on the occasion of each meeting. This time the Newtonville Woman's Club played hostess and a hearty welcome was given to the guests by the hostess president, Mrs. E. L. Gardiner. "America, the Beautiful," the song chosen by both State and General Federations, is finding a hearty response in the hearts of club women, so that any large meeting is beginning to seem incomplete unless it is sung at some time during the program. On Wednesday it followed the greeting, The West Newton Music School was voted into associate membership. As usual the annual reports of officers told of much work done. The Rummage Sale now in progress came in for considerable attention.

The Conservation committee, Mrs. D. M. Goodridge, chairman, reported centering interest upon birds, wild flowers, dangers from forest fires, plant pests, especially the corn borer, and the protection of the mountain laurel. This Civics committee, Mrs. W. G. Starkweather, chairman, has co-operated in the Americanization work, has checked up voting lists and club lists. The Newton clubs are 86% registered, while two of them were the first in the state to report 100% registered and voting,—the Christian Era Study Club and the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls. Investigation of movies has been carried on, billboards have been followed up, traffic regulations investigated, and the need for increased playgrounds considered. Mrs. Harry Tyler, chairman of the Education committee, reported work with the aldermen for the closing of Elm road to traffic during certain hours of the day, work for better lighting facilities in the school buildings, a survey of school lunch rooms, and much co-operation with the schools, and certainly a much wider knowledge of them and of their needs on the part of the members of the committee.

When it came to the report from the Legislative committee, a sweet presence was missing, that of Mrs. Abbott B. Rice, the efficient and devoted chairman.

Ralph C. Henry, president of the Newton Federation, who also brought greetings, received the guests as they arrived. Violin and piano music was rendered during the reception by Miss Dagmar Lindequist, and Miss Rhoda Cohen, members of the club. Miss Mary E. Newhall, another club member contributed songs, which were also greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Parrett of the Lealand Powers School gave readings from "Twelfth Night" and from "The Taming of the Shrew" in a most charming manner. Mrs. F. H. Stratton was chairman of the program, and Mrs. C. G. Ward of Newton Centre of the tea. Altogether it was a very delightful afternoon.

The Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls held an art and loan exhibit at the home of Mrs. Ernest Cobb last Friday. There were many very interesting things shown including articles from Turkey, Syria, and Armenia. The exhibition merited an even larger attendance than was accorded it.

The New England Woman's Press Association on Wednesday, and particularly the Graphic. J. C. Brimblecom contributed to the discussion of Clean Journalism an interesting paper on the question, "What Is News?" At the business meeting Miss Grace M. Burt was elected second vice-president.

Club interest is focussed on the annual meeting of the Newton Federation each year as the first week in May comes around. Wednesday's meeting at Newtonville was fully up to the standard of previous years, and the reports of work done and more still to be done were listened to with keen interest. A new feature the past year has been that of the Federation's being the guest of some club on the occasion of each meeting. This time the Newtonville Woman's Club played hostess and a hearty welcome was given to the guests by the hostess president, Mrs. E. L. Gardiner. "America, the Beautiful," the song chosen by both State and General Federations, is finding a hearty response in the hearts of club women, so that any large meeting is beginning to seem incomplete unless it is sung at some time during the program. On Wednesday it followed the greeting, The West Newton Music School was voted into associate membership. As usual the annual reports of officers told of much work done. The Rummage Sale now in progress came in for considerable attention.

The Conservation committee, Mrs. D. M. Goodridge, chairman, reported centering interest upon birds, wild flowers, dangers from forest fires, plant pests, especially the corn borer, and the protection of the mountain laurel. This Civics committee, Mrs. W. G. Starkweather, chairman, has co-operated in the Americanization work, has checked up voting lists and club lists. The Newton clubs are 86% registered, while two of them were the first in the state to report 100% registered and voting,—the Christian Era Study Club and the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls. Investigation of movies has been carried on, billboards have been followed up, traffic regulations investigated, and the need for increased playgrounds considered. Mrs. Harry Tyler, chairman of the Education committee, reported work with the aldermen for the closing of Elm road to traffic during certain hours of the day, work for better lighting facilities in the school buildings, a survey of school lunch rooms, and much co-operation with the schools, and certainly a much wider knowledge of them and of their needs on the part of the members of the committee.

When it came to the report from the Legislative committee, a sweet presence was missing, that of Mrs. Abbott B. Rice, the efficient and devoted chairman.

man for four years. Mrs. G. E. Armstrong, who presented the report, spoke touchingly of the loss to the Federation in Mrs. Rice's going, and made the members feel what a power she had been in the work. The committee has worked for the zoning ordinance, has had members present at the meetings of the Aldermen, and has followed diligently the hearings at the State House on the bills selected by the State Federation for endorsement, and the passage of the Amy B. Rice Amendment, the Federation's own bill.

ANNUAL MEN'S SHOW

The first performance of the "Gingerbread Man" with instant success at Players Hall, last evening.

The performance was under the auspices of the Men's Club of St. John's Church, Newtonville, and will be repeated this evening and tomorrow evening.

The action of the piece occurs in Santa Claus Land, and in the realm of King Sugar Plum and King Bun. There were twenty musical numbers, in which the principles were ably assisted by the young people of the chorus fifty in number.

The production was staged by George V. C. Lord who was assisted by Miss Marguerite Barnes.

The following are members of the cast:

Mr. Geo. N. Merritt, Mr. H. Bertram Potter, Mr. Harold B. Hambleton, Mr. Harold L. Earl, Miss Marion McKee, Mr. James J. Mitchell, Dr. Wilson, C. D. Dorr, Mrs. Sylvia Pettys, Mrs. Howard W. Niven, Mr. Gordon Stewart.

HOLLIS ST. THEATRE—"Lightnin'" the famous comedy now running at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston, promises to eclipse all previously established theatrical records in that city, just as it did in New York, where it continued on Broadway for over three years.

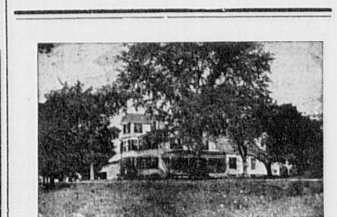

Being well on its way towards the 20th, consecutive Boston performance, "Lightnin'" continues to attract and amuse theatregoers in a manner that is positively phenomenal. Many of those who witness this delightful performance return the second and third time, and it is one of those rare plays that can be seen again and again and thoroughly enjoyed. "Lightnin'" is serious and humorous by turn, with a lovable, shiffling old man, perversely called Lightnin', as its central figure.

But the chief charm of "Lightnin'" is the simplicity and gentleness of the old man—Lightnin' Bill; his habitual lying, and his assumption of omniscience. He is one of the quaintest, most sympathetic, most genuinely humorous characters that the stage has seen in years.

Y. M. C. A.

The 46th annual meeting and banquet of the Association will be held on next Monday evening, at 6:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Building, 276 Church street, Newton, Mass.

The guest and speaker of the evening will be Dr. F. W. Hamilton, formerly President of Tufts College. Music and short reports by members will make the program attractive.

PRAISE FOR NEWTON SCHOOLS

To the Editor:

I was glad to see Mr. Cobb's sane and sound article in the April 20th issue of the Graphic. We need more publicity of the real facts about our schools.

I recently heard a man say, "There is not a boy nor a girl from the Newton High School on the honor roll of any college in the country." Some people will believe that rather than take the trouble to find out the facts. We have no apologies to make for our Newton High School. Out of eleven freshmen in Dartmouth College this year, one boy flunked one subject, no boy had to leave. To date, the semester reports have been received of fifty-six graduates who entered college last September. These reports came from fourteen colleges. One student had to leave college but many are on the honor rolls of Harvard, Dartmouth, Wellesley, Mt. Holyoke, and other colleges.

When one realizes how the very foundation of our High School was taken out by the deaths of Mr. Adams and Mr. Meserve, losing Mr. Thomas, head of the English department, Mr. Underwood, Mr. Lane, and others so hard to replace, and having a superintendent that through it all could keep our schools up to such a high standing, we should consider well before we criticize. I doubt if there is another school in the country with such a record.

As for our school board, I have had many occasions to call upon them and have always met with the most courteous replies. Never have I felt that their business was behind closed doors.

The foremost educators of the country are advocating Junior High Schools and all large educational centers have them.

I think that our clubs should take more interest in our schools and keep parents informed of the real facts.

MRS. A. M. BEERS.

WILBUR THEATRE—"Sun Showers," a musical comedy with Harry Delf, is presented by Jules Hartig and Lew Cantor at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston, where it proved a decided success during its first week. The second week opens Monday next, May 7th. Mr. Delf, who is a comedian and dancer of note, has an important role. He has surrounded himself with a large company of comedians, singers and dancers, as well as a chorus of girls who are more than decorative. "Sun Showers" was presented this season at the Astor Theatre, New York, and provides an evening of unalloyed enjoyment. The book of "Sun Showers" was shared from the clouds by Harry Delf, while the music and lyrics were being measured for spring and summer styles by the comedian-star also.

The plot concerns itself with the love affairs of young people, who, being poets and school teachers and such, are all in need of money. The schools teachers all go on a strike; some professors are called in for the mass meeting, which thereupon turns into a jolly party, and the strike is happily called off.

ANNUAL MEETING

CHINA CHALLENGES AMERICA

One of the most inspiring of the many interesting events held at Central Church, Newtonville, this winter was the church supper last Friday night under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold T. Sherman. This proved to be a community affair, many friends and neighbors from other churches coming to participate in the hospitality of Central Church and to hear Rev. D. Brewer Eddy who has just returned from a trip to the Orient under the auspices of the American Board.

Mr. Eddy had with him his interpreter, Mr. Chew, a very talented young man, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in China, who is in this country to study industrial relations.

At Mr. Eddy's request, Mr. Chew told briefly of conditions in China. "At this moment," he said, "China is facing a very serious situation in which there is special need of Christianity. In all her 5,000 years of existence she has never been in a serious condition. This is due to the fact that China is at present going through the various phases of civilization which have taken the Western nations centuries to achieve.

"As a result, the present condition of China is one of turmoil. There are labor troubles in China as there are in America, due to the sudden introduction of modern equipment and methods. China, however, has had no experience with these methods and she is looking to the Western world and especially to the United States for guidance."

Mr. Chew spoke of the various factories and industrial plants which he has visited in the United States in a hopeful way, saying that he had often found that employers were seeking the best good of their employees, and that he was convinced that modern industries might be made character building institutions.

Preceding Mr. Chew's analysis of China he pretended that his audience was a Chinese one and interpreted for Mr. Eddy is one of the latter's welcoming speeches. He then turned the tables and demanded that Mr. Eddy interpret for him which Mr. Eddy did, causing much merriment.

After the supper and the speeches of Mr. Eddy and Mr. Chew and a few words from Mr. Lichter relative to the plans of the church for next year, the audience adjourned to the room upstairs where Mr. Eddy showed slides illustrating his recent trip through China.

The spectator was impressed with a sense of the greatness of the land, of its physical barriers, and of the courage and persistence of the Chinese. It is these traits which, when they are once converted to Christianity, make the Chinese valuable adherents of the Christian religion.
Mr. Eddy showed pictures of the leaders of New China and told of their wonderful influence for good. A great and glorious future lies before China if she can only be guided in the right way.

As concluded by telling the dramatic story of Mary MacLure, a Mt. Holyoke graduate who with a Smith college graduate and a Chinese interpreter visited the fortress of a group of bandits and so saved an entire Chinese village from destruction.

LOUNSBERRY-STRONG
Central Congregational Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding last Saturday night when Miss Helen V. Strong, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William B. Strong of Lowell avenue, Newtonville, became the bride of Mr. Harold Hough Lounsberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lounsberry of Elkhart, Indiana. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by Rev. M. H. Lichter of Central Church. Mr. Robert C. Strong, brother of the bride, gave her away.
The bride wore a gown of white, with a train of white tulle. Her bridesmaids were of the same color. The wedding gown she had for attendants her sister, Mrs. Stuart M. Hill of Newtonville, matron of honor, who wore a gown of turquoise blue, and three bridesmaids, Miss L. Evelyn Mills of Annapolis Royal, N. S., Miss Bernice Lounsberry, sister of the groom, and Miss Virginia Montgomery of Montclair, N. J. The gowns of the bridesmaids were of orchid tulle.
Mr. Marvin Frederick of Schenectady, New York, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Stuart M. Hill of Newtonville, Mr. Stuart B. Stearns of Springfield, Mass., Mr. Pennell N. Aborn of Newtonville, Mr. Donald M. Hill and Mr. Clayton Ernst, of Newtonville, and Mr. Philip B. Bradbury of Boston.

"THE MIKADO"
The comic opera, "The Mikado" for which rehearsals have been in progress for the past few months, will be presented by the Newton Catholic Club Amateur Opera Company on the nights of May 7, 8 and 9, at the club hall in West Newton. Special scenery, a well-trained chorus and an all star cast bespeaks a popular performance of this popular Gilbert and Sullivan opera. The production is under the direction of Gene MacDonald. Among the favorites appearing in the cast are Frank Cunningham, Joseph Curran, Charles Laffie, Timothy O'Callaghan, Jack Joyce, Marie Laffie, Gladys Sullivan and Irene Cain.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—"The Monster"
The play, "The Monster," now playing at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, is one of the most talked-of productions of the season. The play is a novelty of the interesting sort, that grows in popularity with each succeeding performance. The stage settings required in the production are most elaborate. The story is written around a haunted house in a remote section of New England, and a mad old surgeon with a thirst for vengeance, provides the chief interest in the play, which develops thrill after thrill, and is well calculated to make the spectators—especially the feminine portion—grip the arms of the seats. It has an abundant supply of comedy, is entertaining and you can see it again and again and still enjoy it.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake
Junior High School

The Frank Ashley Day Junior High School will be in session on Wednesday, May 9, from seven to nine P. M. In order that parents and others who are interested in the school but are unable to visit it during the day session may have an opportunity to see the school operating on a regular schedule.

At this evening session the regular Tuesday program will be used, the periods being shortened to thirty minutes.

It is hoped that a large number of parents, particularly fathers, will avail themselves of this opportunity to see the work of the school and to meet the teachers and principal.

Thursday, April 26, a game was played between Frank A. Day Junior High and the Peirce School players. As it was only a practice game we were not much disappointed by the score which was 21-14 in favor of the Peirce School.

Friday, the Glee Club made their first public appearance in the seventh and eighth grade assembly period. They were much enjoyed by all and furnished a very interesting part of the program which was under Miss Manning's supervision.

The class pins were received Monday, the 23rd. They are much liked by all the pupils.

Part of the members of the eighth grade will participate in a debate upon the question, "Is the Monroe doctrine out of date?" Those taking the affirmative side are: Edward Ebelhara, George O'Neil, Harold Root and John Monahan. The negative speakers are: Lincoln Edmunds, Florence Hills, Fred Becker and Edith Schneider.

A debate is soon to be held by the Debating Club upon the question, "Resolved: That the compulsory day school age should be 16."

Great movements are being made towards the building up of a Library Fund. Each ninth grade is asked to contribute some idea towards this. If any pupil or outsider happens to have a good book by which the school will benefit and is willing to part with it we should be very much pleased to receive this book.

C. C. Burr School
Mrs. Holbrook sent the children of Grade V a coconut from Florida. It came through the mail with the address printed upon the outer shell.

The boys in Grade V have finished their book on the life of the American Revolution. They have been making while they put pictures in the frames and hung them up for Mrs. Holbrook to see when she returns.

Baseball practice has begun among the Burr School boys. Wilbur Cooney has been elected manager and the captain and members of the Burr team will soon be chosen.

A Garden Club has been organized by Mr. Smith of the Vocational High School and many of the seventh and eighth grade pupils are much interested in it.

Miss Alice Wilson, assistant kindergarten, is soon to be married to Mr. Philip Wilde of Hartford, Conn. She will be much missed among us. Miss Ethel Douglass is substituting in her place for the remainder of the year.

Hyde School

The Hyde School Orchestra was so successful in rendering "The Toy Symphony" here in the Highlands that this afternoon the performance was repeated at the Emerson School, Newton Upper Falls.

James Walker of Miss Ryder's fifth grade spent a portion of her last vacation in Central New York and Southern Canada. Her class was much interested in her talk about her trip.

Twelve pupils were selected from Miss Green's fifth grade to visit the Textile Exhibit prepared by Miss Ryder's class. The pupils explained and demonstrated to their guests, who, on their return, told their classmates all about it.

The Hyde School Baseball Team, under the able supervision and coaching of Mr. Alger, is about to open its season. Two practice games have been played. The first of these games was with the Angier School of Waban, in which the Hyde was defeated, 10-6. The second fray, with the Emerson School of the Upper Falls, was also lost, 11-7. The team will probably elect its captain within the next few days. With the fine spirit that prevails, great good is sure to result from the playing.

Great interest is displayed in Captain Ball contest between boys and girls' teams. We have three splendid girls' teams and four fine teams among the boys. The teams play at recess time and occasionally a picked girls' team plays a boys' team. The boys won the first game.

Miss Green's and Miss Ryder's classes are working hard on an entertainment they plan to give at the school the latter part of May. Miss Green's pupils will give a selection from "Robin Hood" and "The Return of Spring," while Miss Ryder's pupils will give an Indian Myth and a Grecian legend.

Stearns School

The Nutrition Class at the Stearns School, held special exercises last Thursday afternoon, April 26, for the eighteen boys and girls who have been coming to Miss Mellick's class for underweight children. The eighteen children had gained sufficiently to bring their weight up to grade from the class. Mrs. Bernard E. Taylor, Vice-President of the Newton Welfare Bureau and Mrs. O. S. Dillingham, a director of the Stearns School Centre, assisted in the presentation of the diplomas and pins. Following the exercises the children were all taken up to Echo Bridge in Mrs. Dillingham's Welfare Bureau and Stearns School Centre automobiles. They played games and wandered through the groves until late afternoon, when it was time to have the lunch and return home.

The Senior Girls' Club are still busy preparing for spring with two dress-making classes a week. Light skirts—waists, dresses, new and made over are developing into pretty things rapidly. The Junior Girls' Club started Wednesday night, with their spring athletics. Plans are also underway for a club get together in the woods later in the year.

The annual rummage sale will be held at the Stearns School, Saturday, May 5, at 1.30. All those who have clothes they would like to dispose of, please notify Mrs. Edwin P. Brown, N. N. 0120, not later than Friday, May 4.

Everybody enjoyed meeting and getting acquainted with Mr. Griffin our new Music Supervisor, who spent Wednesday morning with us.

THE LURE OF ALASKA

The "Spring Fret" and "Call of the Wild" are not mere poetic fancies, they are very real, and to everyone they come just as surely as the seasons change and summer's oppressive heat awakes the desire to abandon for a time the haunts of business, and get closer to nature.

The beauties of the Alps with their glaciers are more than equalled in our own Rainier National Park, and also in the Canadian Rocky Mountains, the fjords of Norway are reproduced in Alaska, but with the added charm of the great glaciers and the picturesque iceberg to which they give birth.

An attractive Alaska tour has been very carefully arranged, with due regard to scenic importance of the points visited, allowing ample time for sight-seeing, rest and general enjoyment, and yet are economical of time wherever feasible.

The fact that this tour is under the direction and business management of the Colpitts Tourist Company of Boston, is ample assurance that every detail will be carried out on a high plane, and combined with the expert leadership of Mr. Clarence C. Colpitts, who will travel in charge of the party, leaving nothing lacking to insure a most enjoyable trip.

Mr. Colpitts will personally supervise every detail of the tour, leaving the members thereof free from care and responsibility, which results in a maximum of enjoyment, with a minimum of effort.

Literature describing in detail the points visited, and full information relative to the tour may be had at the company's office, 281 Washington Street, Boston.

GOVERNMENT SAVINGS SYSTEM

The U. S. Government Savings System is permanent institution. Beginning as a helper in raising money to carry on the war it grew rapidly and finally developed into a real necessity. It was found that many people who had money would not invest it or deposit it with any institution that was not operated by the Government. The word of Uncle Sam is what such people wanted before they would take their money from the old stockpots or cubby holes and tea canisters and place it where it would earn a fair interest and have the principal returned to them at the end of the term of investment. War Savings Certificates proved popular with investors in small amounts, but they were not adapted to peace conditions, nor was the War Savings Organization of the Treasury Department able to handle after-war conditions. So a new savings security was devised and the U. S. Government Savings System was created and made a permanent part of the Treasury's fiscal policy.

The new system not only sells the new savings certificates but is conducting a nation-wide campaign to encourage savings and to discourage the tendency toward taking chances with all the fake investments that are offered by sharpers and swindlers who deal in bogus stocks and other worthless securities. In a brief but interesting form the Government Savings System tells what it is doing in a booklet recently issued. It is sent free to anyone who is interested enough to write to the Treasury Department at Washington for it.

WEST NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

MR. CASEY DEAD

Mr. John F. Casey, headmaster emeritus of the Boston English High School, and for many years a resident of Newtonville, died at the Brooks Hospital at midnight Wednesday. He retired in 1915 after 43 years of active service.

Mr. Casey, during his active service, had graduated some 10,000 boys.

Between 1872 and 1915 he saw the school's pupil population increase from 375 to 2200. He had to face the problem of the floods of immigration—the confusion of different races, each with a tradition different from that of the other, and from his own, many with but a scanty knowledge of English, hampered in their work by the fact that they lived in poverty.

He had to educate these races in harmony, to inculcate an American point of view and to harmonize the American point of view with the old racial tradition and make the pupils understand that in these racial traditions lie the possibility of tremendous contribution to America.

How well he succeeded he revealed unwittingly in a remark made at the time of his retirement.

"I think," he said, "that there are at least 500 Hebrew boys in the English High School at the present time who are working and supporting themselves outside the school, and often they are the main support of the family. And most of these boys were not born in this country and had to learn the English language after they came here."

"Some of these boys are pioneers in the true sense of the word, for they came here ahead of their fathers and mothers and have worked their own way as newsboys and bootblacks or in some other way, and besides educating themselves, they are sending money home to their parents or preparing the way to bring the parents to this country. We've never had anything like that in this country before. Out of 14 Franklin medals awarded a year ago, I think 11 went to these boys."

Mr. Casey, who was in his 78th year, was born in Bedford, of old American stock. His great-grandmother as a young girl, was an eyewitness of the Battle of Lexington. Her grandfather, who was 80 years old at the time, was one of the men fighting.

Mr. Casey was graduated from Harvard in 1868, having taught school one winter in North Weymouth, then known as old Spain. After his graduation he taught one year at Weston and three years at Canton, where he was a master at the high school. Then he came to the English High School. In 1901 he became the school's headmaster.

In 1905 he charged publicly that certain Boston business firms discriminated against certain races when they came to hire employees. These firms, he said, placed certain restrictions when they asked about the records of pupils at English High School. Mr. Casey's public answer was:

"Each student in this school stands wholly upon his record as a pupil. We are ignorant of other distinctions."

"City schools," he wrote in 1907, "need properly equipped playgrounds. Nearly all athletic sports take place out of doors and while in consequence of their youth and fine physical condition, most young athletes are able to endure present conditions, some suffer from the lack of opportunities properly to care for themselves after vigorous exercise."

"The effect of the growth of athletics in secondary schools has been beneficial in that it has compelled school authorities to enact and enforce legislation for the proper direction of these sports. Athletics left to themselves were developing along lines which did not promote scholarship, a spirit of sportsmanship and fair play, high sense of honor and even common honesty."

TELL OF PREHISTORIC TIMES

University of Chicago Professor Reads History in Specimens Thousands of Centuries Old.

Enormous ferns, gigantic rushes and club mosses and strange-looking trees, many of them more than 100 feet in height and with needles of two or three yards length, and a host of insects, among which huge dragon flies and cockroaches apparently predominated, once inhabited a swamp at Braidwood, Ill., according to Adolf C. Noe, professor of paleobotany at the University of Chicago.

Professor Noe reconstructed this picture of the vegetation and animal life of prehistoric times from fossilized remains found in Skinner mine No. 2, in the Braidwood district, fifty-seven miles southeast of Chicago.

"The Braidwood mine," Professor Noe stated, "is now the best place to find fossils in northern Illinois and has somewhat replaced the famous Mazon creek deposits in popularity with collectors."

"The coal is found at a depth of forty-nine feet and directly above it is a grayish shale which the miners call soapstone, and which contains round calcareous stones. If you crack these stones with a hammer they split into half like a sandwich, and on the inside of each half you see the impression of fern leaves and other plants of the coal era. Also insects, fishes, crawfish and other small inhabitants of land, water and air are found, but the plants are most predominant."

"A considerable number of plant species can be listed from Braidwood and we are able to reconstruct in our imaginations a lively picture of the vegetation of these long, bygone days."

"There was once in Braidwood a swamp which stretched far east, west and south, and which was inhabited by enormous ferns, gigantic rushes and club mosses, and strange-looking trees which had needles of two or three yards length. Many of the trees of that time must have been more than 100 feet in height, as we can judge from the size of the trunk and leaves."

"The animal population of these swamps contained small reptiles, amphibians, fishes and a host of insects, among which enormous dragon-flies and gigantic cockroaches seem to have been predominant. There were no butterflies, no warm-blooded animals, no birdlike reptiles, no flowers. Probably the only colors which living nature provided were green, brown, yellow and black. The sounds were the croaking of froglike amphibians and the noise produced by cockroaches and dragon-flies; no singing of birds, no chirping of crickets."

"A strange world! Of the enormous vegetable masses which fell into those swamps the coal beds were formed, and 100,000,000 years passed away before man came and ultimately utilized again the sunlight and heat which had been stored up in these millions of tons of coal."

"Ads" on Postage Stamps.

Advertisements, reports the Westminster Gazette, are to appear on the back of British postage stamps and on the walls of the post office, according to a statement by Mr. Kellaway, the postmaster general, at the 1920 club. Mr. Kellaway hopes to derive a substantial revenue from the innovation, stating that he was "not going to plaster the post office with advertisements, or have advertisements on the back of stamps, unless there was a decent return to be got out of it."

He stated that the post office had invited tenders from contractors for these advertisements. The Westminster Gazette understands that the advertisements will be affixed to the stamps before the gum is applied.

Although the work of obtaining advertisements and fixing the terms is to be delegated to contractors, the notices will have to be approved by the postmaster general. It is understood that all classes of advertisements except those dealing with alcoholic liquors will be accepted for approval.

Whisky Not Necessity of Life.

Whisky is not a necessity of life, even for a Scotchman in the tropics, according to a decision reached in the courts of Nairobi, Kenya Colony, East Africa, after lengthy legal arguments, reports the London Express correspondent.

The question arose over a case in which a grocery store sued a minor for goods supplied. The law says that the only debts which can be recovered from minors are those incurred in supplying the necessities of life. The debt in question included an item of three bottles of whisky. It was argued for the prosecution that as the minor was a Scotchman living in the tropics whisky was a necessity, but his arguments were overruled, and an order made for the debt, minus the value of the three bottles.

Shyness of Sandy.

In a rural district of Dorsetshire a young plowman went courting one evening. In vain he racked his brain for some interesting topic; he could call up no subject at all suitable for the occasion; not a sentence could he utter, and for two long hours he sat in silent despair.

The girl herself was silent; she no doubt remembered the teaching of the old Scotch song: "Men maun be the first to speak," and she sat patiently regarding him with demure surprise. At last he exclaimed suddenly: "Penny, there's a feather on your apron!"

"I widna ha'e wondered if there had been two," said Jenny, "for I've been sitting aside a goose a' night."—The Scotsman.

GOOD HUNTING FOR SHARKS

Unfortunate School of Porpoises Helpless in the Power of Their Inveterate Enemies.

Passengers on the Scandinavian liner, Frederick VIII., which arrived at New York a few days ago, told a remarkable tale of a grim battle between occupants of the deep, while off the Grand banks of Newfoundland.

The ship was proceeding swiftly in good weather about dawn when the lookout sighted a large school of porpoises ahead.

Instead of proceeding as usual in one direction in orderly fashion, describing an occasional graceful arc in the air, the fish plunged madly in all directions, leaping straight into the air and lashing the water to foam. As they became aware of the presence of the ship they quickly gathered closely about it, as though for protection, swimming rapidly alongside to keep pace with it.

Their number was estimated at 200, the largest school any of the crew had ever seen.

Suddenly a number of huge black shadows were noted stealing up on the school from behind. The sinister dorsal fin occasionally appearing above the water proclaimed them to be sharks. They gained steadily and finally plunged among the porpoises. Instantly the terror of the latter again became apparent as they strove madly to escape in all directions.

In their confusion they dived wildly against the side of the ship. Some were struck by the on-rushing bow. Others were drawn into propellers.

Meanwhile the sharks continued a methodical campaign of extermination. One after another of the frantic porpoises was ripped by the teeth of the pursuing monsters, and left to be consumed later at leisure.

The fight continued until half the school had been killed, when the sharks abandoned the chase.

For an hour after, the porpoises clung to the ship. At last, deciding the danger had passed, they swung off on a course at right angles and disappeared.

Giving Up the Game.

Twenty thousand people committed suicide last year in the United States, which fact seems to be a reflection upon our well-ordered life, writes William Allen White in Judge. It would seem that the great panorama which history is unfolding before us day by day, forever beckoning with its tomorrows and luring us with big events just around the corner from today—it would seem that that gripping panorama ought to hold us all in our seats upon this planet. We may be hungry, we may be forsaken, we may be cold, sick, unloved and unloving, and yet it would seem that the daily story of life about us, the great tragic events that are looming before us in Europe and in Asia, and the great comedy that should cramp our sides with anguished laughter here in America, should hold us tightly upon this planet. Yet 20,000 of us have voluntarily got up and walked out, left the show cold and flat and for what? Perhaps they are going to the big show, perhaps they are only going to bed. But they are missing a mighty good thing, nevertheless. The spinning world never before has held so much to charm the eye and engross the soul as it holds today.

Hospital for Plants.

A hospital for plants is the latest device, designed by an ingenious Englishman, for the aid and comfort of lovers of flowers, who are often distressed at sight of their favorite plants ailing and dying from maladies for which they know no cure. When a sick plant is brought to the hospital, it is immediately examined and sent to the room prepared for its case. If it is suffering from a cold it is tended with heat; if it has become anemic from an excess of solar rays, it goes through a freezing treatment. The unwholesome branches are removed, while those that are anemic are fed.

It seems that certain plants are very nervous. Some easily get nervous, while their neighbors show undeniable symptoms of hysteria. But special managements permit the application to each of them of the treatment it requires.

Danger of Sunset.

The death at Funchal of the ex-Emperor Charles, who succumbed to broncho-pneumonia, caused great astonishment, for it was supposed that in the warm atmosphere of Madeira people did not die from such affections, but were cured of them.

The action of the sun is, however, not uniformly beneficent, and many physicians distrust its last rays when it is disappearing on the horizon. It is well known that in warm countries people provide against the sudden lowering of the temperature which then occurs.

Thus, in all churches in Rome they sing the Angelus an hour before sunset to warn all those outdoors to take the necessary precautions.

Life-Saving Watercycle.

A watercycle has been invented by a Wisconsin man which can be used for life-saving purposes or as a pleasure craft for bathers. The frame is made of aluminum tubing and is of knockdown construction, held together by thumb screws. Buoyancy is supplied by two air-inflated tubes, in balloon-cloth cases, which slip over the side tubes of the frame. The watercycle is forced through the water by a gear-driven propeller which is operated by bicycle pedals, the machine being steered by a rudder and handbar.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

UNKNOWN PEOPLES OF AFRICA

Race of Beings Who Are Said to Live in the Trees, Among Those Enumerated.

In a part of unknown Africa a race of tree beings are said to exist, who live in the tops of the trees and are sheltered from enemies by the dense foliage. These folk, two-toed and claw-handed, pass from tree to tree with the ease and activity of monkeys, and are of a particularly ferocious nature. Then there are dwarfs in Central Africa which live like wild animals among the rocks and bushes. Their projecting jaws and protruding lips, slender, ill-shaped legs and protruding bellies give them the true ape-like appearance. They are singularly timid and fleet at the sight of strangers.

As mysterious is the race of gigantic natives in the unknown deserts north of Usso Nyiro and the Lorian swamp, East Africa. This strange race is known by tradition to the natives now inhabiting the land west of the Juba in the north and the Tana in the south. Their name appears to be "the Maanthine," and tradition has it they are Christians, and originally came from Abyssinia.

Until pestilence and native wars broke them they are said to have cultivated large areas, used irrigation to raise crops, owned camels and lived in great circular houses, the huge stones of which testify to their strength.

FOOD IN FIFTEENTH CENTURY

Beer and Salt Fish Inseparable Companions, According to Household Books of the Period.

In the fifteenth century, provisions for a noble household had to be on hand for a long while in advance, for stores were not convenient to the great estates. Breakfast is only one of the excitements chronicled in "The Pastons and Their England: Studies in an Age of Transition," by H. S. Bennett, but it was an extraordinary menu that began the day in the period of the Wars of the Roses. In the Northumberland Household Book Margaret Paston prescribes this meal "for the Nurcy, for my Lady Margaret, and Master Ingram Percy. Item a Manchete a Quartre of Bere a Dysch of Butter a Pece of Saltfish a Dysch of Spritts." My Ladis Gentrywomen, however, fared more simply: "Item a Loof of Brede a Pottell of Bere a Pece of Saltfish."

Throughout beer is the faithful companion of salt fish. Before Lent it was necessary for Margaret Paston to order fish by the "horse load" and quantities of eels. Luxuries came from overseas, and she frequently requested her absent menfolk to send home spices of all sorts. "I pray you that you will vouchsafe to send me another sugar loaf, for my old one is done."

Alfred Founded British Navy.

It was King Alfred the Great who founded the English navy. Toward the end of his reign the navy is said to have consisted of about 300 vessels, which were stationed on the east, west, and south coasts of the kingdom; and this system of stationing squadrons at different parts of the coast may be said to be in force today, though modern naval science has now substituted destroyers and submarines for the vessels of Alfred's day. With such ships King Alfred, the founder of the "blue-water school" of sailors, scoured the narrow seas so effectively that no invader dared approach, and he asserted such dominion in British waters that at last no pirate or sea-rover was to be found in them. A further advance in warship building belongs to the reign of Edward III, in the fourteenth century. The vessel most used was called a "cog," a word from which we get our "cogswain," or "coxswain," the master of one of those "cogs."

Turkish Capital's Tragic History.

Constantinople, the capital of the Moslem empire, received its name in the year 330, when the city was formally dedicated as the seat of the eastern empire by Constantine the Great, after whom it was named. The site of the city was that of the ancient Byzantium, which had been founded by Byzas and a colony of Megarians in 667 B. C. It was allied first with the Greeks and later with the Romans, but rebelled against the latter, was besieged for two years and finally laid in ruins. For over a century it remained practically uninhabited, until Constantine selected it as the capital of the empire, destroying all heathen temples and replacing them with the edifices of the new faith. In May, 1453, the city was taken by Mahomet II and the Turk has held it ever since.

Herbal Remedies

Most of the old remedies prescribed by the herbalists of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries contained some element which was extremely difficult to secure, such as "the fat of a mountain mouse" or "the pounded residue of a swallow's nest," while the greater number of them were always taken with red or white wine.

The peony was said to be efficacious for healing diseases at night, whereas, if the gatherer should chance to be seen by a woodpecker, he "risked the loss of his eyesight." The early root-gatherers were anxious to discourage competitors in their art, and therefore made it as dangerous as they could for anyone to obtain the "simples" in the right way.

MOCK TOWN MEETING

A Mock Town Meeting was held on Tuesday night in the vestry of the Congregational Church, Auburndale, by the members of the Men's Bible Class of the church.

Mr. Chauncey B. Conn was elected Moderator, and Mr. Charles Almy, clerk, and Mr. Raymond Perkins, sheriff, Mr. Arthur Kimball and Mr. Darius Alden, selectmen.

Most interesting questions were brought up for discussion. Mr. Harold T. Dougherty made an eloquent plea for larger doors, while Mr. Arthur Kelly pleaded for smaller doors in Auburndale. Mr. Stephen Wright and Dr. Eugene Ufford spoke in regard to turning the former Nye Park Inn into a place for discarded and stray automobiles; Mrs. J. A. Draper spoke in favor of the adoption of foreign dress and costumes on the part of the Woman's Club, and Mr. "Ever-Busy" Case spoke against this. Dr. Scott and Dr. Drew argued the question of Moonshine, and Mr. Bryant Nichols and Mr. Carl Ferguson discussed the question of the speed of automobiles. The question of naming different sections of Auburndale, "Kelvinatorville" and "Saints Rest," also received due attention. The speakers were interrupted from time to time by other members of the town meeting, and telephone calls from absent members were answered in regard to the way things were going in the meeting.

A radio from Medford Hillsdale added to the fun. Taken altogether this was a meeting of unusual interest which no one in Auburndale could afford to miss.

"Thou shalt love the Lord Thy God" said Jesus, "with all thy heart and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength, and thy neighbor as thyself." We believe that the centuries since Jesus lived and died have produced nothing more fundamental than these two commandments, which in a most solemn moment of his life he declared to be all the law and all the prophets. Therefore we aim to serve our brothers faithfully, and to worship God sincerely in the Unitarian Church.

First American Wood Engraver.
Alexander Anderson was the first engraver on wood in America. At the age of twelve he made quite successful attempts at engraving on copper and type-metal, and in 1734, when employed in copying drawings on wood, after Baskerville for an American edition of the Lock postures, he discarded the type-metal upon which he had been working and cut the rest of the illustrations upon boxwood, with tools of his own invention. Anderson signed his name to the first wood-cut published on this continent, and thus gained for himself the title of the American Baskerville. The vast number of books illustrated by him attest the skill and industry of this pioneer of the art of wood-engraving, who continued in the daily practice of his profession till a few months before he died.

Eggs Used to Announce Birth.
When a neighbor receives hard-boiled eggs from another in China he knows that a baby has come to bless the home from which the eggs come. The eggs are sent to the Chinese neighbor to touch. This is believed to insure the parents of the new-born child that the neighbor will not quarrel with their offspring when he grows up. This unique custom has been in vogue in China for centuries, and the Chinese are fully confident that the hard-boiled eggs insure peace and good will. It is considered a great insult if the neighbor refuses to touch the eggs, and trouble and quarreling usually starts then and there, even though baby is not big enough to join in the battle.

Aldermen Make a Good Start on Solving a Serious Condition

With one of the longest dockets of the year, the aldermen on Monday night adjourned at 9:40, after disposing of a large amount of important business.

All the members were present except Alderman Collins.

There were many hearings, on all kinds of petitions.

The Edison Co. asked for poles on Watertown street, Cook street, Farrow road, and Prospect street, the Edison and Telephone Companies asked for poles on Crown street and Holly road, all of which were granted. In addition there was a hearing on an Edison pole on Thorn-ton street.

Mr. E. E. Ferson spoke in favor of his petition to increase by 500 gallons the amount of gasoline authorized at 931 Watertown street, and this was also granted.

There were also hearings on 3 car garages for Catherine Murphy, Lex- (Continued on Page 2)

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A reception in honor of the 25th anniversary of their wedding was given to Dr. and Mrs. H. Grant Person of Eliot Church by their parishioners on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loren D. Towle on Franklin street, Newton.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Towle received the guests as they entered. Nearly three hundred people, a representative group from Eliot Church, were present, besides out of town guests.

Dr. Person has been pastor of Eliot Church for sixteen years. In token of their appreciation of his splendid services and in honor of the day, he was given by his parishioners a beautiful silver coffee service, and a chest of flat silver. There were also many other gifts, one being a set of silver candle sticks by Mr. Thayer, uncle of Mrs. Person.

Mr. F. Ashley Day was in charge of the ushers who were Mr. William (Continued on Page four)

TWO MEN DROWNED

Fatal Accident at Upper Falls when Canoe Overturns

Two young men, Carl L. Kraut and Bernard N. Landin of Jamaica Plain were drowned on Sunday afternoon, when their canoe capsized in Hemlock Gorge, Newton Upper Falls.

The young men obtained a canoe at the Spring street boat house West of the Spring street bridge, near the Hemlock Gorge, where the accident happened, is a favorite spot for pic-nickers all over eastern Massachusetts.

Here, the Charles becomes narrow with high banks on both sides. The current, especially in spring when the water is high, is very swift, and sharp rocks project at close intervals.

About 200 feet below is a dam with a drop of about 15 feet. At this time of year 4 feet of water is pouring over. Below, there are more rocks and eddies. The two canoeists passed under the Eliot street bridge and rounded a sharp bend in the river, approaching the gorge. Their frantic efforts to swing the craft to shore met no success, and the canoe, caught by the current, was overturned like an egg-shell.

ABOUT LOANS

The loaning capacity of the Newton Trust Company is very great compared with most Suburban Banks, on account of its large capital, surplus and deposits.

A customer keeping an account here and carrying good average balances may be readily accommodated in the way of a loan when he needs it.

To secure a line of credit at this $12,000,000.00 bank it is necessary for a depositor to make us a statement showing that he is entitled to it or else to place with us collateral of value to cover the amount which he borrows.

Of course, in granting a line of credit to depositors it is expected that they shall carry deposits with the bank sufficient to justify the accommodation. The amount required is about 20 per cent of the line used.

Men in business, manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, generally borrow on the strength of their financial condition. Professional men and others not having capital put up collateral for loans.

Owing to the large resources of this bank, together with the broad acquaintance of its officers and directors, we are often able to secure capital for meritorious enterprises, business extensions, etc., by bringing those desiring the accommodation to people who have money for that purpose.

SCHOOL NOTES

Junior High

On Friday the ninth grades entertained the eighth grades at the usual assembly period. Two speakers from the Classical High School gave interesting talks.

Miss Scheib's room is preparing for a debate on "The Munroe Doctrine." Monday the school baseball team played Waltham Junior High. The visiting team was defeated 8 to 5. Our team made a very good showing. We have great hopes for it.

On May 18th parents and teachers are giving an entertainment and food sale. This is for the library fund. Mr. Dacey's room has a very clever health poster drawn by Paul Nason.

This has attracted much attention. Among the visitors of the week are many from Belgium who are studying the Newton Schools. They are chiefly interested in the health work.

A prize has been offered to the room having the largest number of parents present on "Open Night," Wednesday, April 9. Apparently from rumors heard each room expects to receive this award.

Eighty girls in Miss Mason's gymnasium classes are busy practicing a dance for Field Day, May 22.

—The Cooperative Committee of the Young People's Societies of the New Church, will take a hike to the Blue Hills, tomorrow afternoon, weather permitting. They will meet at 2 P. M. at Mattapan Square.

—On Saturday, April 28, Miss Margaret Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bartlett of Mill street, became the bride of Mr. Albert E. Jernund of Newtonville. The marriage took place in Arlington.

—Mr. Leonard T. Jones died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frederick W. Whiting on Lowell avenue, on last Saturday, in his 73d year. He was born in Augusta, Maine, and has lived in Newton 9 years. He was foreman of the Dwinell-Wright Company. He leaves two sisters in Brookfield, Mass., his former home. Services were held at the home of his daughter on Lowell avenue, on Monday, Rev. E. E. Davidson of Newtonville officiating, and the burial was in Brookfield.

COMMUNITY CONCERT AND DANCE

A most unusual and highly enjoyable concert and dance was given last Friday night, in the State Armory at West Newton, by a committee composed of Messrs. Walter L. McCammon, Fred M. Blanchard and William S. Osborne, assisted by a citizens' committee composed of Mayor Edwin O. Childs, William L. Graves, George Keller, Roland C. March, Oswald J. McCourt, Daniel A. White and Major H. D. Cormerais.

The armory was beautifully decorated with bunting in rainbow colors. The music for the concert was provided by the band of Allepo Temple of the Mystic Shrine of Boston under the leadership of Lewis A. Harlow as concert master and Mr. Louis Harlow leader. The band of 135 players, all costumed in Arabian fashion, rendered splendid music, for both the concert and dance, and remarkable for the fact that every man played from memory.

Previous to the concert the members of the band and their ladies were entertained at dinner in Temple Hall, Newtonville. It is estimated that between 1200 and 1500 persons were present.

ington street; Robert Curran, Woodbine street; and Paul L. Mullen, 1550 Centre street, James A. Waters spoke briefly for the last petition.

The greatest interest apparently centered on several petitions for changes in the zoning districts. The petition of Mary A. Twomey to change the property 145 Auburndale avenue from the residence to the business district was strongly opposed by William Foran and Robert Stanfield.

That of Rose E. Cheney to change property on Norwood avenue from the residence to the business district was favored by James P. Gallagher and opposed by James S. Cannon for 30 property owners, by Frederick Erickson and Louis T. Kough.

The petition of W. I. Woodman that property on Newtonville avenue and Bellevue street be changed from the general residence to the private residence zone was warmly favored by Mr. Woodman, Fred A. Wetherbee, H. B. Schofield, while Edward H. Powers also spoke on the matter.

The petition of Ellen J. Lane and the Standard Oil Company to change the property at Centre and Boylston streets from the residence to the business district was favored by Mr. H. R. Morse for the Standard Oil Co. and by Miss Lane and vigorously opposed by Mr. George H. Mellen, (who bitterly assailed the Standard Oil Co.) by William M. Cole, Mrs. Gertrude Bernhardt, Joseph B. Watt and William J. Cozens.

Mr. John T. Burns headed off considerable trouble by asking that he be granted leave to withdraw on his petition to build a ten car garage rear of Hunnewell Circle.

No one appeared interested in the petition of Lester L. Brett for a 150-car garage and filling station on Brook street.

Similar indifference was manifested on the petition of the J. B. Juard Co. for a 10-car garage on Court street.

C. S. Brinlan spoke in favor of petition of F. L. Cameron for a 6-car garage at 100 Madison avenue. No one appeared on petition of the Charles River Country Club for an addition to their club house on Dedham street and the petition was subsequently granted.

No one appeared on petition of the Kearn Krete Products Company to enlarge their plant on Grove street.

One man spoke in favor of a sewer in Harvard Circle, William T. Miller favored a sewer in Bothfield road, George R. Grant and Henry R. Nealley were in favor of laying out of Garden road as a public street and no one appeared on proposed sidewalks on Waldorf road.

Emery W. Clark, of Allerton road; Austin R. Smith of Adams avenue; Arthur W. Rayner of Lake avenue; John E. Carter of Ionia street and William F. Hollings of Franklin street were drawn as jurors for civil business at Cambridge.

Mayor Childs recommended $470 for a flag pole at City Hall, $605 for laying water mains to city dumps, on Beacon, Elliot, and Pine streets, $1500 for widening Centre place at railroad driveway, $100 for clerk at Engineer's office, $10,300 for water mains in Tudor and Monadnock roads, and that $90,000 sewer bonds be authorized, all of which was subsequently approved by the board.

The mayor also sent in an offer of C. R. Bennett to purchase land of the city on Florence and Boylston streets for $500, request of the Master Plumbers' Association for change in building code, request of the Buildings Department for $150 for architects' fees and $65 for cutting door in partition at the F. A. Day Junior High School, and for $1000 for pensions for John Day and John Kelley.

Petitions or Austin M. Burns for a victualer license, Mrs. J. A. Rochette, for intelligence office, North Bennett Street Industrial School for permit to allow children to take part in a play on May 26th, of the Newton Boat Club to play tennis on Sunday afternoons and of E. B. Stratton, Lohrop street; Lilian P. Quinlan, Harrington street; F. W. Gay, Taft avenue; C. R. Wright, Derby street, M. W. Richardson, Woodbine terrace; G. F. Allen, Aberdeen road; H. C. Loud, Dickerson road; Q. Quacquarini, Chestnut street; A. W. Dowd, Ward street; J. M. Gonzalez, Playstead road; and Kennedy Crane, Fairview street for private garages were approved.

There were also petitions of A. Shordone, Watertown street and B. Itconia, at 400 Centre street for victualer licenses; Charles Korofan for bowling alleys at Upper Falls; Alice C. Guiney, Beacon street and John Potter, Westbourne road, for private garages; John Desmond for curbing on Cummings road; Frederick Palladino for sewers in Anita Circle; L. K. Liggett for sewers in Tudor and Monadnock roads; R. C. Bridgman for postponement of payment of sewer assessment; James A. Mills claim for damage on account of Cold Spring Brook; L. K. Liggett for laying out of Manet road; Julia N. Hollingsworth for a 4 car garage at 314 Newtonville avenue; E. R. Miller for a 4 car garage on Irving street; the Emergency Auto Repair Company for a filling station on Auburn street and the Norumbega Park Company for a filling station on Commonwealth avenue.

These petitions were also granted—John H. Nagle, victualer license; H. H. Read, auctioneer license; Boston Consolidated Gas Company to lay various gas mains; and Malcolm C. Borges, Nottingham street, Greenwood Bros., Grasmere street (2), C. H. Keeler and A. J. MacDonald, Oak terrace, T. A. Boyle, Waban avenue, M. A. Williams, Montvale road, L. M. Wetherbee, Manet road, W. H. Peckham, Penn avenue, P. R. Meisner, Auburndale avenue, H. L. Tange, and L. W. Gore, Central street, W. J. Cozens, Carver road and Louis Goldberg, Cherry street, for private garages.

Leave to withdraw was granted on petition for widening of Hammond brook near Homer street, and no further action was deemed necessary on the drainage on Fuller street. The matter of widening Watertown street at Walnut street was referred to the next city government.

Joseph Artuino was granted a victualer license on Langley road, private garages were allowed to William C. Strong estate, Windsor road and Pasquale Cetrobe, West street. Leave to withdraw was granted O. D. Brett for a gasoline permit on Park street and a gasoline permit was granted Allan McIntosh on Winchester street.

$12,784 was approved for alterations in the Adams school house. Hearings were assigned on widening Auburn street at Greenough street, on widening Charles street at Riverside road, for improving the Newtonville drain, for taking land for sewer in Tudor and Monadnock roads.

Sidewalks were ordered on Owatonna street, Walnut street and Centre street and Boylston road. Drains were ordered in Woodward street, Reservoir avenue, Cypress street and Chestnut street; amounting to over $50,000.

In favoring the order for drains Alderman Young said that the city was 15 years behind on its work on drainage and the committee plan this year to do the most important matters first and hoped that future boards would continue the policy until the drainage problem was settled. Mr. Young reminded the board that the Newtonville drain alone would cost about $100,000.

Henry W. Merrill was allowed to enter the sewer in Kirkstall road at a special grade.

NEWTON WINS

Newton High won a 7 to 3 award over the Cambridge Latin in a Suburban League game at Russell Field, North Cambridge, Saturday afternoon.

Captain Whitmore pitched for Newton, while Davies performed on the mound for Cambridge Latin. The former had all the better of the argument, allowing the "Cantabs" only seven hits striking out nine and passing three, while Davies was found for 13 hits, including a triple and double, fanned 8 and walked two.

Newton High started in the second. Duane tripled to left and scored on Tedesco's single to centre. Newton counted three more in the third, virtually tucking the game away. Dewing drew a walk and moved to second on O'Donnell's hit to left. Duane singled to right, Dewing and O'Donnell scoring. Then Duane counted on Tedesco's double.

Newton tallied one in the fourth when Brickett singled to left. Dewing sacrificed him to second and Brickett scored on O'Donnell's hit.

Cambridge Latin started scoring in the fifth. O'Donnell singled. Cronin batted for Rosenberger and walked, Carver singled, scoring O'Donnell, Keller hit to Vaughan, who made a good throw to Tedesco to head off Cronin at third, but the ball was dropped and they were safe all around. Conroy poked a short hit into right scoring Cronin and Carver.

Newton High obtained her last two runs in the eighth. Vaughan singled and advanced on Brickett's sacrifice, went to third on Dewing's hit and scored along with Dewing on O'Donnell's drive, which Sullivan muffed.

MR. CASEY BURIED

John F. Casey, headmaster emeritus of Boston English High School, was buried Sunday afternoon, in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. The funeral service was held in the Mt. Auburn Chapel, where high tribute was paid him in a eulogy delivered by Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt of Brookline. In the large attendance that crowded the chapel were men prominent in the various professions and a great body of former pupils of the popular educator.

The pallbearers were A. L. Norton, a member of the class of '86, of which Mr. Casey was an honorary member, and J. Porter Crosby, '89, who represented the alumni; Walter F. Downey, present headmaster of English High School, and Patrick Campbell, headmaster of Boston Latin School, representatives of the Headmasters' Association; and William H. Sylvester, teacher, head of the Latin department, and H. M. Wright, teacher, head of the mathematics department, representing the faculty.

In the eulogy Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt of Harvard Congregational Church Brookline, who officiated, declared that Mr. Casey was never merely a pedagogue. Mr. Casey shaped and molded the lives of his pupils and even after graduation, however so long, his ardent interest in them continued through their lives unabated.

The prominence of Mr. Casey as a Mason, in which he was a 32d degree member, was recounted by the speaker.

The Boston school officials were largely represented. Among those present were members of the School Board, city officials, headmasters of various schools, teachers, and a great body of former pupils of the noted former headmaster.

The Law of the Land, Must and Shall Be Respected

EDITORIAL

Governor Cox has done exactly the right thing in disapproving the so-called Adlow bill for a state wide useless referendum on prohibition. The bill should have been stopped at its introduction by the Republican leaders in the Legislature for it would have lost thousands of votes to the party at the coming election, if enacted into law.

Sometime the so-called party leaders will realize that the life of the Republic party depends on its attitude towards the enforcement of the 18th amendment, and this dilly-dallying with the "wet" element will cost the control of the state.

We are glad to note that the aldermen are embarking on a worth while plan to remedy the drainage problems which are so numerous in the city. The $75,000 contemplated ought to make a good start and future governments should continue liberal appropriations for this purpose. We hear that the Centre Place parking space is being used once a week for parking the cars of those who are taking the operators examinations on Wednesday morning. $8000 for this purpose is rather expensive for the taxpayers.

It is interesting to note that every petition for the change of zoning district lines from residence to business zones is being vigorously opposed. Just a straw to show that the people are supporting the zoning plan.

Friends of the local militia company will be pleased that it has been given its old title of "Company C."

This is "Clean up" week. Did you?

Ellison, Mr. George Angier, Mr. Harry W. Pitts, Mr. Louis D. Gibbs, Mr. Walter H. Barker.

Mrs. William S. Bacon and Mrs. Walter H. Barker had charge in the dining room. They were assisted by the following: Mrs. George Angier, Mrs. Fred L. Trowbridge, Mrs. Edgar M. Horne, Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins, Mrs. William T. Foster, Mrs. Benjamin S. Hinckley, Mrs. Charles D. Kepner, Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs, Mrs. Arthur H. Kendrick, Mrs. Franklin Smith, and Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Towle were ideal hosts and the occasion was a delightful one socially.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Great and General Court had a field day yesterday, with the House sustaining the veto of Governor Cox on the Adlow bill by a vote of 107 to 111 on the question of passing the bill over the veto. This was followed by a joint convention with the Senate on four proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Two of these passed by the previous Legislature were reindorsed and will now go on the ballot in the election of 1924, for approval by the people. These amendments allowed women to hold office and eliminated the word "male" from the constitution. A third amendment had been passed by the preceding Legislature but was not endorsed yesterday. This amendment would have allowed towns of 4000 or more to adopt a city form of government, the present limit being for towns of 12,000 or more. The amendment should have been adopted as the advent of the woman voted has doubled the voting list in all towns and it is difficult to get all the voters into an average sized town hall.

A fourth amendment to the constitution was also considered and overwhelmingly defeated. It called for biennial sessions of the Legislature. This vote was 51 to 209.

Newton representatives voted as follows on the matters: Mr. Early and writer voting YES on the first three amendments and against the biennial sessions and Mr. Saltonstall voting YES on the first and third amendments and for biennial sessions and against the small towns amendment. Mr. Saltonstall also voted to pass the Adlow bill over the veto while Mr. Early and the writer voted to sustain the Governor.

The Shea resolution to memorialize Congress for legislation to allow a higher alcoholic content than 1/2 of 1% was overwhelmingly defeated in the House by a voice vote.

The House also passed the resolution relative to a new location for the state prison by a substantial vote after quite a discussion in which the opponents of any legislation tried to kill the bill. The matter now goes to a commission to report next October with recommendations as to what should be done.

The Ways and Means Committee has reported a two cents a gallon tax on gasoline and has had the matter held up for an opinion of the attorney general as to its legality. In the meantime there is considerable pressure being brought to bear by the automobile interests to kill the bill.

Newton residents should carefully consider some of the facts on this question with special reference to the share of taxation borne by real estate, 85% of the total. Admitting that it is necessary to raise $4,000,000 for road construction—and there is not much question as to that—it should be borne in mind that if this money is not raised by the gasoline tax it must be raised by general taxation. This would mean that Newton would be called up on to pay $64,000 for this purpose, and which would add more than $2.50 per $1000 to the present tax rate. In other words if the automobilists do not pay for the road construction the real estate owners will have to do so. Tax payers of Newton please ponder these figures.

The Senate has killed the bill for a state criminologist, although an effort is being made to revive it. The Republican leaders of the Legislature ought to realize that this bill will save many votes to the party if passed and will lose many votes if killed.

J. C. Brimblecom.

GIRL SCOUTS

Owing to the bad weather on Wednesday of this week, the Annual Meeting of the Girl Scouts Officers' Association was held in the Vestry of the Unitarian Church, West Newton, instead of at Camp Mary Day as had been planned. After the election of officers and reports, the year's work was discussed and plans for another year talked over. The officers elected were:

President, Capt. LeClear of Troop 4; Vice, Pres. Lieut. Skipwith, Troop 1; Sec. Lieut. Holmes, Troop 7; Treas. Lieut. Ball, Troop 8. Capt. Lovell, Troop 7, was made Chairman of the Program Committee with Capt. Collins, Troop 11, and Lieut. Wilson, Troop 2, to assist her. Lieut. Fuller of Troop 5 was appointed head of the Supper Committee.

Troop 8, Auburndale, spent Saturday, May 5, at Camp Mary Day. They entertained, as their guests, Troop 1 of Natick. The girls of Troop 8 laid a "Treasure Hunt" in the morning, while the Natick Scouts passed off their fire and knot tests. After dinner, cooked over the camp-fire, the Natick girls started off in quest of the "Treasure," the winning Scout finding a splendid compass at the end of the Trail.

Troop 1, Newtonville, also had a hike on May 5. The girls went to Norumbega Tower, where they had lunch, returning home in the late afternoon.

WINS AGAIN

The High School ball nine won its second victory of the week by defeating Medford High yesterday on Claffin Field by the score of 4 to 3.

The visitors nipped Leonard and Whitmore, Newton pitchers, for 10 hits but Medford was unable to hit with men on bases.

Connors, on the mound for Medford, should have won his game, but the home team managed to bunch their hits.

Newton scored the winning tally in the fifth when Vaughan singled and went to second on Leonard's hit to the second baseman who fumbled the ball. Brickett sacrificed and Stumpf scored Vaughan and Leonard with a triple.

W. C. T. U.

The Automat Supper held in the parlors of the Baptist Church under the auspices of the West Newton W. C. T. U. on May 2nd was a gratifying success both socially and financially. In the evening an orchestra composed of five young girls played and Mrs. Alice G. Ropes, State President, gave an interesting talk on "Wonderland of America," with lantern slides which was interesting and instructive.

"A SUCCESSFUL CALAMITY"

Members of the Auburndale Club were most fortunate in selecting the well-known comedy, "A Successful Calamity," by Clare Kummer, as their first play, given in the Club House on Wednesday night.

The play deals with a modern city home of wealth in which the children's every wish is gratified, and there is no sense of responsibility and no home life.

The tired business father, longing for the love and companionship of his family, decides to pretend that he is ruined because in the words of his faithful butler, "the poor do not get to go out." The plan works most successfully resulting in showing the real character of his son and daughter and young wife, all of whom stand loyally by him.

The part of the father was ably taken by Mr. Lowell D. MacNutt, as was that of his young wife by Mrs. Austin W. Fisher.

One of the most appealing parts was that of the butler, taken by Mr. Ernest L. Johnson with great dignity and poise.

The young son, "Eddie," and the daughter, "Marguerite," taken respectively by Mr. Arthur Shaw and by Mrs. Carl Ferguson were delightful in their naivete.

The supporting cast included Miss Marion Eaton, Mr. Donald D. Williams, Mr. Percy F. Crosby, Mr. Stephen Wright, Mr. Myron White, Miss Mary Benger, and Mr. James Dunlop.

The comedy was produced under the personal direction of Mr. Frank Fowle, assisted by the stage committee: Mr. L. B. Berry, Mr. E. A. Hancock and Mr. F. B. Stearns.

Judging by the attendance on the first night, the financial success of the play is assured. There is to be a second performance this evening. Both performances were followed by dancing.

SCHOOL FIELD DAY

There will be a Field Day for the Newton schools on Claffin Field, Newtonville, on Tuesday, May 22nd.

CRONIN-RILEY

On Tuesday morning, Miss Katherine Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Riley of Cranberry street, West Newton, became the bride of Michael Lawrence Cronin of Cherry street, West Newton. The ceremony took place in St. Bernard's Church, Rev. Father O'Brien officiating, using the double ring service.

The bride's gown was of cocoa Canton crepe with hat to match. The bride's sister, Miss Marguerite Riley, was her bridesmaid. Her costume was of green silk with hat to match.

The best man was William Cronin, brother of the groom. The wedding march was played by the church organist, while Mrs. Mary Curry of Waltham sang several selections.

At reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony at the church, the house being attractively decorated for the occasion.

The bride is a graduate of the Newton schools. After the wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Cronin will make their home in Waltham.

Solving Problem of Living. Learning how to live is the thing we should think of. This involves tact, a blessed and priceless quality. It means the cultivation of exemplary habits. It means earning a living, and earning a right to live. It means self-control. It means solving one's own problems before counsel is given. It means living upon the heights. It is a noble desire for something else than the flippant, frivolous, shallow, cross way of living that second-rate people are satisfied with. "Of making many books there is no end." Let us relish the great books, and let more come. But knowing how to live is the chief end of our existence. Great books alone can't teach it, but right living will make great books.

The average woman has only one objection to camping out—she is afraid of leaks and otherwise unreliable tents. We make tents that assure her of the comforts of home. Lowest prices.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by Miss Grace M. Burt

Club women who have motored through Dixville Notch will recall the busy North Country city of Berlin, the only one in northern New Hampshire, not the most inviting of places, so far as its material appearance is concerned, yet possessing one of the grandest views of the Presidential Range to be had anywhere in the White Mountains. Its mushroom growth in the early days was responsible for much that the townspeople have since been overcoming. One potent factor in its upbuilding has been the Woman's Club, which according to the local newspaper, has been interested in public welfare for nearly twenty-three years. With the co-operation of the Gorham Woman's Club, the public welfare committee of the club chaperoned the dances last summer at the Casino, so that the orderly dance-loving public enjoyed the dances without fear of unpleasant incidents. They have also been instrumental in the appointment of a police matron. As Berlin was one of the few cities in the country having no ordinances controlling public dance halls, the committee sought information from the Police Commissioners of the leading New England cities and selected an ordinance adapted to the needs of Berlin. It was submitted to the city council in June and finally became an ordinance in October. Now every public dance hall must be licensed with a matron and a police officer in attendance. The account concluded:

"The Woman's Club of Berlin with a membership of three hundred and seventy-two earnest women is one of the largest in the state and wishes other women to become members and take their part in making a finer and better Berlin."

State Federation

Word has been received from the New Ocean House at Swampscott that owing to the very large number of applications for rooms for the annual meeting of the State Federation, the management is temporarily holding up reservations and listing them in the order of their receipt. The pageant which was announced for Thursday evening has been postponed until fall because of the immense amount of work entailed to produce it properly. Because of the very meager bits of news from the Council Meeting at Atlantic that have filtered into the daily papers, the reports of those who were present will be listened to with great interest at Swampscott.

Professional Women's Club

Tuesday, May 15, 12.30 P. M. May Breakfast for members only. Mrs. H. A. Beach will be the guest of honor and will play from her own compositions. Mrs. Mary B. Slack, soprano, will sing two songs by Mrs. Beach. Mrs. Elliot Enneking Long will read two poems by Josephine Peabody Marks. "Opera Up to Date," a humorous sketch, will be presented by club members.

The annual outing of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. F. L. Milliken, Brush Hill Road, Milton, on May 22, at 3 P. M.

Local Announcements

The Christian Era Study Club will hold its annual at the home of the president, Miss Ella B. Smith, of Vista avenue, on Monday, May 14, at three o'clock.

A kitchen shower will be held in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House Monday afternoon from 3 to 5. Everyone is asked to consult Mr. Skelton who has a list of the articles needed, and bring her donation to the Club House Monday afternoon and join the Activities Committee in a neighborly cup of tea.

Local Happenings

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. has elected the following list of officers for next year: President, Mrs. Isaac Goddard; vice-president, Miss Cora Standwood Cobb; secretary, Mrs. William E. Leonard; assistant secretary, Miss Mabel Hurd; treasurer, Mrs. E. G. Swift.

On Monday the members of the Newton Mothers' Club met for luncheon at the Unitarian parish house at West Newton, after which came the business of the annual meeting. These officers were elected for 1923-1924: President, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson; vice-president, Mrs. Norman Bingham; secretary, Mrs. Arthur C. Dunmore; treasurer, Mrs. Herbert Andrews; chairman of charity committee, Mrs. Hubert Carter; chairman of program committee, Mrs. Shirley Ladd. The club has contributed about $200, divided among the following philanthropies: Floating Hospital, Neighborhood House, Blind Babies Hospital, Newton Circle, Mothers' Rest, Newton District Nursing Association, Baby Clinic, Newton Welfare Bureau, Pine Mountain Settlement, West Newton Music School, for the milk supply for the Barnard School, and for the Massachusetts Safety Council.

Boston Civics Club

Mrs. W. E. Birdsall, the first president, Mrs. S. L. Eaton, a vice-president, Mrs. C. W. Heizer, a former vice-president, and Mrs. Flora D. Sampson, the oldest charter member, were among the Newton members of the Boston Civics Club, who attended the annual meeting and luncheon held at Hotel Brunswick. Some of the guests included Mrs. Grace M. Poole, president of the State Federation, and Mrs. E. H. Wright, secretary of the Boston City Federation, both of whom brought greetings from their organizations. The following humorous verses were read by one of the Newton members:

tered the room she was given a slip which sent her to "Walden Pond," "Norumbega," "Charles River," "Echo Bridge," or "Spot Pond," as the case might be.

There she found a table decorated with forsythia and barberries, with a real pine grove surrounding a lake, a big sign pointing the way. Here also were the lunch boxes which Miss Brant and her committee provided and which every lady enjoyed in true picnic fashion.

Mrs. Decatur presided delightfully and the toasts which followed were full of sparkle and wit. Miss Dickinson recalled the Newtonville of forty years ago, when it was a struggle even to keep the old church in repair, when the railroad tracks were on the street level and private houses stood where business blocks now stand. Mrs. Hunt gave pleasing reminiscences of school days, and Mrs. Rose recollections of Sunday school work.

Mrs. Strong told, in her inimitable way, amusing stories of the experiences of a pastor's wife. Mrs. Coleman spoke very gracefully of her impressions as a newcomer, paying a fine tribute to Mr. Lichtner, and expressing thorough appreciation of the welcome she had received from the people in Central Church.

After the toasts the picnicers adjourned to the Sunday School room where they had as special guests about forty High School girls. Miss Lotta Clark, of the Boston Normal School, gave an inspiring address on "The business of being a woman nowadays." She emphasized the need of courageous common sense in solving the present day problems. She spoke of the young people of the present generation as the finest in the world, and said: "Let them have a good time, but be sure it is a wise good time." She pointed out the advantages of a college education, of the opportunities for sharing the finest that had been produced in art, literature, and music, of the friendships formed, this fitting one "to carry the torch one lap further than the older generation."

"THE MIKADO"

The Newton Catholic Club players gave three excellent performances of the well known comic opera "The Mikado" on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, in the Newton Catholic Club Hall, in West Newton.

Frank L. Cunningham of Auburn, soloist of the choir of the Church of Corpus Christi, played the title role of the Mikado, and Timothy O'Callaghan, well-known West Newton tenor, that of Nanki-Poo. Charles A. Laffie had the role of Ko-Ko, lord high executioner, while his partner of Catholic Club minstrel show fame, Joseph J. Curran, appeared as Poo-Bah. Jack Joyce had the role of Pish Tush, a noble lord, and the three little girls were Marie Laffie, Gladys Sullivan, and Irene J. Cain. Mrs. George Brophy was the Katisha. Vincent Hargadon had the role of Huri Karl.

The Nipponese schoolgirls were Loretta Carley, Margaret Clancy, Marie Curran, Katherine Deleahanty, Catherine Donohue, Margaret Fanning, Veronica Fanning, Nora Ford, Agnes Green, Ruth Kneeland, Mae Monahan, Lena Mullin, Arlene McCourt, Helen Smith, Dorothy Stumpf, Mary Welch, Gertrude Welch, Margaret Welch, Mary E. Welch and Annie Tedesco.

The Nipponese noblemen were Harry Daley, Joseph Deff, Leroy Fay, Frank D. Kane, Vincent Hargadon, John Leary, Jr., James Mitchell, John Mitchell, Jr., Charles McCarthy, Fred Delaney, Arthur McHugh, James Mullin, William Robblee, Jr., Joseph Ryan and Joseph M. Ryan.

Frank D. Kane was stage manager, assisted by William Robblee, Sr., and John Cahill. Gene L. MacDonald was the stage director and Mabel Jordan Supply, musical director.

ODE TO SPRING

The telephone it loudly rings
How harsh and sharp it tingles!
A kindly call, a sweet voice sings,
"Come, and bring to us some jingles."
At one on Wednesday we will dine,
We never mind the weather,
And at the Brunswick, rain or shine,
We'll surely meet together.
Those chilly snow-drifts we'll forget
Nor hail nor sleet remind us,
The stormy tempests we have met,
We gladly cast behind us."

Ah! when we rose at break of day,
And sought for cheering light,
When skies above were black with clouds,
Though ground below was white;
And when we reached the cellar's depths
To ope the furnace door,
And when we scraped and scraped and scraped
That empty coal bin's floor;
And when we reached coal merchant's den,
To say, "All gone, our hoarded store."

And pleaded like poor Oliver
"O give a little more."
Then when we slipped on icy streets
And feared for broken bones,
And bounced about in taxi-cabs
And uttered doleful moans;
When motors stalled at crucial point,
And engines all went dead
Or lurched—till thought of turtle turns

Distracted aching head;
As winter waxed who could expect
Huge mounds of snow to wane!
Or sun's dim rays to cheer our hearts
Till came the spring-time rain!
When Ground Hog sought again his lair.

And days yet longer grew,
When winds of March mustered their force
And chill and chiller grew.

At last came April, pleased to show
Her false and fickle mien,
And presto—change! a hint she brought
Of summer to the scene:

Has Nature's stern forbidding mood
Now changed to life and mirth,
And strengthening sun brought brilliant rays

To stir the gladdened earth;
O, wilt thou come to us at last,
Thou long delaying one!
And throw off Winter's icy coat,
And don the shining sun!

Nor longer 'neath the winter's pall
Shall linger icy sting,
When May shall come our hearts re-call

The magic lure of Spring.
She smiles—and from the woodland's shade
The birdies chirp and sing;
And close beside us on the lawn
The robins welcome Spring.

From flowers that gleam with golden sheen,
From swelling buds of trees,
From grassy fields of brightest green
Floats fragrance on the breeze;
The joyful summons, too, we heed
And merrily today
With song and speech we gaily speed
The royalty of May.

Old England's usage 'twixt, I ween,
To meet on heath or down,
And dancing on the bright-hued green
The Queen with flowers to crown.
New England's clime still stays aloof,
Her breezes are so keen,
We gather 'neath a friendly roof
To greet our chosen Queen.

O happy folk! Whose numbered ranks
To such wealth holds the key,
For such rare gifts this club gives thanks

With grateful loyalty.
Two Queens are given us today
To deck our festive scene,
And on the thrones of royal May Sit two beloved Queens.

One, member of our own dear band,
And high in station still,
When meets the Council of the Land
A more spacious niche may fill.

The other rules our State with grace,
And though we hold her dear,
Should she be called to higher place
We yield her without fear.

All hail, O lovely Queens of May!
All hail, our Civic Club!
All hail, O Spring! come earlier, pray,
Each year to bless our Hub!

CATHOLIC WOMAN'S CLUB

The annual meeting of the Catholic Woman's Club of Newton Centre, was held in the New School Hall on Crescent avenue, Monday evening, May 7, at 7.45.

The election of Officers resulted in the following appointments for the ensuing year: Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, President; Mrs. Charles J. O'Malley, Vice-President; Miss Margaret Mutch, Recording Secretary; Miss Cora Cooper, Financial Secretary; Rev. T. A. Curran, Pastor, Treasurer. Executive Board: Mrs. John G. Schroeder, Mrs. John B. Kneeland, Miss Ella M. Turner, Miss Laura Belle Daley.

Mrs. Marshall was presented with a spinet desk, the gift of the club, as a testimonial of their appreciation of her deep interest in and loyalty to the club.

The meeting closed with an entertainment by the Dramatics Committee under the direction of Mrs. Elmer W. Davis, Chairman.

DEATH OF MRS. PAGE

Mrs. Susan Prentice Page, wife of Harrison P. Page, who for the last twenty years has been connected with the Edison Electric Light Company, died Tuesday, at the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital. Her home was at 195 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, where the family has resided for some time.

Mrs. Page was a native of Watertown, and her parents were Nathaniel C. Sanger and Rebecca (Banks) Sanger, the latter being a sister of the late General Nathaniel P. Banks. She was married, May 3, 1877, to Mr. Page. Besides her husband Mrs. Page is survived by three sons, Perry N. Page, Miles G. Page and Harrison P. Page, Jr., and three daughters, Mrs. Victor D. Haven, Mrs. Lionel H. Young and Mrs. Guy Munroe; also one brother, Frank Sanger, all of these residing in Newton.

THE PERSIAN ARMY

The following letter was written by Mr. James H. Flanagan, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Flanagan of Newton.

In Teheran the Persian Army was recently formally turned over to the Shah. The entire ceremony was very impressive and interesting, and I felt sorry there was no Pathé Weekly or other movie man here to record all the proceedings for the benefit of the American public.

The Minister of War very kindly issued invitations to our entire party to attend the review of his Army. We were certainly glad to accept, as such grand occasions are rare in this country. Two years ago there was no army worthy of the name in Persia. The great change which has taken place is a remarkable tribute to the man who has risen from the very lowest ranks in soldiery to become the most powerful figure in his country. When it is taken into consideration that the Minister of War has had no education, having learned to read and write only during the last few years, his accomplishments appear really wonderful.

At about 1.30 P. M. we arrived at the parade ground, which is reputed to be the largest in the world. The ground was quite muddy, so carpets had been spread from the entrance to a tent which had been carefully prepared and placed at our disposal. The sides of this tent being left open, we could view everything with ease, and yet were afforded some protection from the cold. The sun very obligingly shone all the afternoon, and the weather was ideal for such a show. In the tent, which was floored with carpets and rugs, had been placed tables and chairs. Cigarettes were in abundance, and tea and cake were served continually.

The American Minister, the British Minister and other European Ministers, together with various men of importance, occupied the tent. They were accompanied by their wives, so it made quite a party.

We had a grand view of the entire parade ground. The infantry, artillery and cavalry were stationed in different sections of the square. A feeling of expectancy seemed to grip everybody. For once, everything started on schedule time—in fact, great order was observed throughout, which showed that real planning was done beforehand, and that each responsible person knew just what was expected of him.

At exactly 2 P. M. the Shah appeared on a beautiful white Arab horse. He was greeted by a loud shout by the companies of soldiers nearest him, which greeting was taken up and sustained by the soldiers as he passed completely around the square, reviewing the troops. I can't say that the Shah made a very impressive figure on horseback, nor on foot, either. He is about twenty-six years old, and is short and stout, with nothing of the military in his bearing. An attendant bearing a stool walked beside the Shah's horse in order that His Majesty might dismount more easily. Another attendant held the horse's bridle continually. After the Shah had passed completely around and viewed the troops, he proceeded to a balcony overlooking the grounds. He was accompanied by the Minister of War, the Crown Prince, and the other Ministers of the Cabinet. Here he remained while the troops went through very interesting maneuvers.

A large group of soldiers first went through a drill in the isthmus. This seemed rather peculiar for such an occasion, but it provided a wonderful exhibition of drill work. After this, other groups went through bayonet drill, formations, etc. The infantry was followed by the artillery, who maneuvered with light field pieces with great order and speed. Next came the cavalry. Their drill was rather thrilling and when they finished with a grand rush from one end of the grounds to the other, we all thought there would surely be a few casualties. Only one horse became fractious, however, and he gave a very good exhibition of bucking. His rider didn't stay on him long.

Circus riding was provided. This was pretty fair, although I don't believe it excelled the work of some of our cavalry troops. However, some of the stunts were well executed and they afforded a lot of fun for everybody. After some delay, the Shah left the balcony and came down to within twenty-five yards of our tent. The entire section of the Army collected in Teheran then passed in review before His Majesty. This gave us a very good opportunity to inspect the country's best in the way of soldiers. It was a very serious occasion for them, and their majesty showed how deeply it made an impression upon them. It was certainly amusing to note the facial expressions as the files passed before the Shah, eyes right. Some of the men looked vicious enough to bite his ear off; others were so nervous they stumbled all the time they were within range; still others wore their caps at a rakish angle and bore a look of being right in their glory. Various hands took turns at providing the martial music. When one had played for quite awhile, another would come up, replace the old band, and do their best to make the notes come out of one end of their instrument the same way and just as good as they put them in at the other end. This proved to be a very difficult job for the members of the band that was mounted. The horses became quite frisky, the lead horses were very excited, and the buglers had a hard time quieting a nervous horse and making a noise at the same time.

It naturally took a long time for all the companies to pass before us, but each company furnished something new to look at. In some squads the men looked to be no more than between four and five feet tall, while others seemed to be comprised of more boys. The back muscles would break out every now and then and would drag their attendants out of line for about twenty-five yards or so before they could be got under control. One of the ladies wanted a picture of the Shah, so while he was reviewing the parade, I stepped out where I could get a good view of him, and when I thought he was looking my way, pulled the trigger of the vest pocket Kodak. Later on I saw a photographer taking a picture, so, being very gallant, I beat it out in front of His Imperial Majesty, about twenty feet away. The Shah turned away from the photographer and very kindly faced me until I could snap him. Every minute I thought I would be seized and beheaded, but it all passed very quickly and satisfactorily. At least, I hope I got him satisfactorily, but so far I haven't seen how the film developed.

Everything considered, a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. Such an event may not occur again for a year or more. For real defense, this Army would have to be greatly augmented, but the start has been made and more order has been maintained during the last two years than was formerly the case. No air service has been developed and Persia has no navy. One of the chief internal questions to be solved consists of the various tribes which inhabit different sections of the country and occasionally behave in a lawless manner. In fact, some of the tribes are a continual source of trouble and expense to the Government. If they could be induced to really settle down to agricultural development, much might be gained, but this phase is contingent upon several other improvements, such as railroads, better means of communication, etc. Strong rule is necessary, without dishonesty, greed, graft and continual working for personal advancement. When such conditions will exist is a matter for conjecture, but it all makes for a very interesting study as there is never any lack of opportunity to improve matters on all sides. It is generally conceded that the present Minister of War is really interested in the welfare of his country, and there is no doubt but that he works for and with his Army.

THE NEW STATE POLICE

The new idea of State Police has recently come to the front when a troop graduated from the camp in Framingham where, for three months, they have been in rigid training. Because the detective organization of Massachusetts is not sufficient to guard all the little outlying towns that do not have an adequate force of police, troops of state police are formed to furnish protection to these towns, as well as to enforce the laws of the state, even in the very remotest districts.

The state police have to be trained in an entirely different way from the city police because of the difference in their duties and environment. The city policeman is always within reach of his chief, so that he can refer to him all the difficult serious decisions but, since the state policeman must be his own judge, he must have keen insight and a clear understanding of the law. The city policeman is more or less protected by the sheltering buildings, but the state policeman has to combat the severest weather conditions. He must always be alert and ever "on the job," despite the weather conditions. In order to maintain this standard, he must know how to care for himself and his horse or motor cycle, as the case may be. He must be reliable, because his actions can not be checked up as can those of the city police. His three-month training course fits him to meet these requirements. First, he must pass such a rigid physical examination that the man who is finally accepted is almost physically perfect. Then mental tests are necessary so that only the mentally alert will be accepted. During his training period, he has comprehensive and concentrated courses on subjects pertaining to his duties, such as horsemanship, mechanics, self-defense, laws of the state, infantry drill, and current events. The men are under the strictest possible discipline and may leave camp only in case of severe illness at home. Because their training fits them so well for their duties, Massachusetts can be assured that they will adequately protect her towns and enforce her laws.

These men are now patrolling the highways and are conspicuous even in well-protected Newton. They will relieve the now overworked police force as well as more effectively protect the state. They have long been needed, and, because of their strict and thorough training, they are competent to fill successfully their important and difficult positions.

Millions of Briar Pipes.

The increasing popularity of briar pipes is not confined to this country, but extends throughout the tobacco-smoking world, as is apparent from the number produced. Most of them come from a few departments in the south and east of France, to wit, the Jura, the Var and the eastern Pyrenees. In those departments no fewer than 70,000,000 briar pipes are yearly manufactured, about half of which go to England. One may thus form an idea of the mountain of tobacco that is smoked in those pipes.

WHITE HOUSE TEAS

White House Tea
 Just as Good as White House Coffee

D. A. R.

The Daughters of the American Revolution of Newton have decided to embark on a great bread-baking contest at their Chapter House, Newton Lower Falls, May 19th. The ladies believe that many of the ills to which the flesh is heir may be traced to poorly-baked bread. They will give many large cash prizes to the girls and women who will compete. Nobody is barred. There is no set rule to govern the construction of a first-class loaf of bread. The skill of the loaf-maker wins the award, not the quality of the flour. Each contestant is privileged to bake her loaf or loaves according to her own recipe, and enter in the contest as many loaves as she desires. It will cost twenty-five cents for each entry.

The loaves will be delivered to the Chapter House, Newton Lower Falls, on Friday afternoon or Saturday morning, May 18th and 19th. Each loaf will be numbered and the name of the contestant will be kept secret until the award is made. A committee of practical bakers will select the best twenty-five loaves from those received. Then a committee of three prominent ladies, including the State Regent and the Chapter Regent of the D. A. R., will choose the prize-winners from the twenty-five loaves. The bread remaining, not winning prizes, will be distributed among the charities in Boston and Newton. The flour to be used are the well-known brands: Swansdown, Regent, Gold Medal and King Arthur.

The prize-winning loaves will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. The ladies who win the prizes will give the recipes to the buyers of the loaves.

The ladies of the D. A. R. who have charge of the contest are as follows: Mrs. Charles J. O'Malley, chairman; Mrs. Harris O. Poor, Mrs. Otho L. Schofield, Mrs. E. B. Parker, Mrs. William H. Lucas, Mrs. W. A. Goodman, Mrs. Bernard Early and Miss Emily F. Jordan.

The proceeds of this unique contest will be used to pay off the indebtedness of the D. A. R. Chapter House at Lower Falls. This ship, "Beat the Dough" has aroused quite a lively interest among the ladies of Greater Boston.

BIRTHDAY BANQUET

The first birthday of the Newton Y. W. C. A. was held in the Association rooms, Newton, on last Friday night. The event was celebrated by a banquet followed by an interesting program.

The tables were decorated in the colors of the association, bouquets of yellow forsythia and blue candles adding much to the artistic effect. The tables were arranged in the form of a triangle. Members of the association wore blue ruffs with emblematic head bands.

In the absence of Mrs. Arthur Kendrick, president of the association, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman presided. It was moved by Mrs. Newton A. Merritt and unanimously passed by the members of the association, that a vote of appreciation of her splendid work in the association during the past year be sent to Mrs. Kendrick.

The program of the evening began with singing by the Business Girls' Club. This was followed by the Girl Reserve Ceremonial which included marching, singing, the salute to the flag, and an expression of the aims of the Reserve given by Miss Edith Pearson.

The report of the treasurer, Miss Emma Walker, showed a most gratifying increase in membership. Over last year, there being now 1,100 subscribers. The association has also been so fortunate as to obtain a good piano, shower baths, and gymnasium equipment during the year.

Miss Doris Badger, secretary of the association, dwelt upon the educational and social features of the association, and emphasized the religious life. In conclusion she said that she hoped the organization would have an ever advancing goal which they would be striving to obtain.

Mrs. Wallace M. Leonard then reported for the Health Committee. She told especially of the Basket Ball Teams and gave letters to those who had taken part in the Inter-Association Games. The following received their letters: Elinor Sheridan, Isabel MacNeil, Doris Stormont, Margaret Sheridan, Madeline Stoughton, Louise Harris, Genevieve Bougard, Second team: Lucy Shea, Alta Blakeley, Hazel Beckwith, Doris Payne.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Charles Todd Wolfe, General Secretary of the Boston Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Wolfe's address was divided into two parts, the first dealing with what the association is not, and the second with what it is.

Mrs. Wolfe stated that there were 600,000 members in the United States, 60,000 volunteer workers, and 4,000 secretaries. She dwelt upon what the association meant in the way of the interpretation of national ideals, especially to the foreigner. Another valuable phase of the work is the bringing together of the students and the business girls, each having much to learn from the other.

In conclusion the speaker quoted the following as indicating the aim of the association: "Formed in body, informed in mind, and transformed in spirit."

Following Mrs. Wolfe, a series of tableaux were presented showing the Five Ages of Girlhood: Age of Innocence, Miss Ruth Benyon; Age of Curiosity, Pandora opening the chest, Miss Helen Nagle; Age of Vision, Joan of Arc, Miss Rosalie Brown; Age of Accomplishment, a group tableau representing different phases of life, and Christian Womanhood as embodied in the Y. W. C. A. represented by Miss Grace Franklin.

The following had charge of the supper: Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodrich, Mrs. Emma King, Mrs. George R. Aston, in charge of decorations, Mrs. Clifton S. Mason, Mrs. Bushnell, and Mrs. Ellie Nagle, in charge of waitresses.

Members of the Board of Directors for next year include Mrs. Louis S. Drake, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., Miss Helen A. Woodman, Miss Emma E. Walker, Mrs. Willard Sampson, Mrs. H. W. Jackson, Mrs. John Lankena, Miss Priscilla McClellan, Miss Todd, Miss Florence White, Miss Eugenie F. Bradshaw, Miss Hazel Beckwith, Miss Mabel Louise Riley, Mrs. H. H. Powers, Mrs. Franklin P. Lowry, Miss Norita Gulian, Mrs. Wallace M. Leonard, Jr., Miss Martha O'Brien, Mrs. William W. Colton, Mrs. Emma King.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL

The Musical Festival of the Sunday Schools of Norumbega District, last Sunday afternoon at Eliot Church, Newton, brought out a record attendance of over 1500 children. Some adults found seats, but a large number were turned away, while others stood during the entire program.

Farlow Park proved a most attractive setting for the out-of-door professional. Two long lines wound their way across the Park from Grace and Channing churches, with Mr. William Hanson and Mr. Ralph W. Angier acting as marshals, Mr. George H. Bridgen of Waltham as trumpeter, and Mr. A. A. Cole of Newton Highlands as general manager. Vested choirs, some in red and some in black and white vestments, led the professional, preceded by crucifers. These choirs were from St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands, Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, and St. John's Church, Newtonville. Children from over 35 churches in the District were in line, many carrying Sunday School banners, Christian flags and American flags.

A very pretty feature of this professional were about thirty Primary department children in their flower, sunbeam and raindrop costumes, ready for participation in the dramatized Spring story, which took place in the Primary program in Eliot chapel. Credit is due Miss Grace Wright of Newton Highlands for taking charge of the costumes for this dramatization, and to Miss Persis S. Richardson of Belmont for drilling the children. Another attractive feature of the Primary program was the Toy Symphony Orchestra, composed of Kindergarten children from Newton Centre, under the charge of Miss E. B. Jackson.

The auditorium program, for the older boys and girls, included two special features, in addition to the singing of hymns under Mr. Harper's direction. One of these was a talk given by the director on the pipe organ, the various stops being demonstrated by Mr. Truette, and the purpose being to develop some appreciation of the organ as a wonderful instrument for church and home.

Boy Scouts, under Marshal Fellows as assistant Scout Master, contributed their services as guide and messengers. Mr. Arthur Kendrick and older boys of his class in Eliot Church were in charge of the ushering. The ideal weather, and the active cooperation of many church leaders made possible this most successful Musical Festival, the fifth annual Festival to be conducted by the Norumbega District Sunday School Association.

MANY NEWTONIANS INTERESTED

The first general reunion of all the classes that attended the old Bellingham High School, Chelsea, from its erection in 1873 until its destruction in the great fire in 1908, was held at Hotel Somerset, Boston, on the afternoon and evening of May 5th, with an enthusiastic gathering of 1000. A number of the former teachers and several of the now-famous graduates of the school received an ovation, and among those present were many who came from distant states to meet again their classmates of many years ago.

Among those present who had been students of the school were Mr. William T. Rich, Mrs. William T. Rich, Miss Sophronia Rich, Rev. Charles Blackett, Mrs. Charles Blackett of Newton, Mr. George W. Reche, Mrs. George W. Reche, John Norton, Mrs. Edwidge Strout, Mrs. Florence C. Cook, Mrs. Bertha Calley Rose, Mrs. Mabel Bartlett Rimbach of Newtonville, Mr. Fred Sanford, Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee, Mr. Charles W. Mercer, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler, Mrs. John Wright, Miss Ruth Stevens of Newton Highlands, Mr. William M. Noble, Mrs. Nellie Bakeman Donovan, and Mrs. Albert M. Powle of Newton Centre.

LODGES

Court Nuova Italia No. 266, Foresters of America, will hold their fourth annual benefit dance Wednesday evening, May 23, at the State Armory, West Newton. Colonial Singing Orchestra will furnish the music.

There will be a dance under the auspices of the Summer P. Rebekah Lodge at Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville, next Friday night, May 18th.

Dalhousie Lodge is to have an unusual meeting on Wednesday, May 23d, when the service flag which was used during the war for the members of the lodge will be carefully put away with appropriate ceremonies. All ex-servicemen who are members are invited to the meeting, whether belong to Dalhousie Lodge or not.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—Manager Giles of the Boston Stock Company of the St. James evidently has in mind the success achieved by Miss Adelyn Bushnell in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," for he has chosen "The Brat," Maude Fulton's play for this week's offering. This play was quite a success both on the New York and Boston stages just a few seasons ago.

"The Brat" narrates the whimsical romance of a nameless child of a charity institution, who drifts into the chorus of a cheap musical show, is insulted and then hailed in the night court on a trumped up charge. An author present in the court sees in her just the "type" he has been seeking as the heroine of a novel he is to write. He takes the bedraggled child to his home and complications follow thick and fast.

Landin made a grim fight for life, but could not save himself. Carried down stream, he caught the end of a boom that stands above the dam to break up blocks of ice and snow. He hung there for a bare moment, and onlookers on the high banks shouted words of encouragement.

The current again caught him, however, whirling him for a moment and then carried him swiftly to the brink of the dam and swept him over the edge. He did not again rise to the surface. The canoe, swept over the boom was carried over the dam and dashed against the rocks below. Its contents paddles, cushions, lunch kit and man's pipe, were tossed in the whirlpools below.

Somebody telephoned and Sgt. William Chasson of the Metropolitan District Police was on the spot with patrolmen William Kinney and J. W. Smith before the people on the bank had really gathered all that had happened.

Immediately the policemen began dragging under the greatest difficulties. To launch a boat on the rapids was impossible. The draggers had to brace themselves on the slippery rocks and manipulate a heaving iron. The job was not without danger. Two hours brought the discovery of Kraut's body, which Medical Examiner George L. West immediately viewed. The watch in the dead man's pocket had stopped at 2:30.

The body of Landin was not found until Monday afternoon, although the police were dragging the river all night and Monday morning. Both young men were veterans of the World War and highly esteemed in Jamaica Plain.

Y. M. C. A. SUNDAY

Mr. Edward C. Carter will be the speaker at Elliot Church next Sunday the occasion being Y. M. C. A. Sunday.

For twelve years Mr. Carter was National General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of India and Ceylon. During the war he had charge of the Young Men's Christian Association overseas work. After the war he served for three years as Foreign Secretary with the British Young Men's Christian Association with headquarters at London. He is now Executive Secretary of the National Conference of the Christian Way of Life.

Mr. Carter was born in Lawrence, Mass., and is a graduate of Phillips Andover Academy and Harvard University.

Newton Centre

—Ellsworth Baker, James M. Halliwell, Jr., Wells Wilbur of Chestnut Hill and Charles Collins of this village are on the honor list of the Country Day School for the spring term.

—Delegates to the Unitarian Church to the May meetings in Boston May 20-25, are: the pastor, Rev. George F. Parker and Mrs. Parker, and Mrs. Alice J. Melcher.

—Mr. Harold Turner of Albion street, who has been in Buenos Aires, South America, for the last three years in a business position has returned to his home for a month's vacation.

—A very enjoyable Pop concert was given last Saturday night by the orchestra of the First Church. The hall which was decorated with Japanese lanterns was most attractive. Decorations were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Follett.

—Supper of the Unitarian Church organizations held on Tuesday, at the home of the pastor, on Homer street. It was a most enjoyable occasion, the children having their games and the older folks an evening of fellowship.

—There will be a Rummage Sale on Saturday, May 19, under the auspices of the Laymen's League of the Unitarian Church. If contributors wish their contributions called for they are asked to notify G. F. Spaulding, S. C. Dalrymple, J. D. Melcher, F. L. Richardson, or M. I. Stone.

—The Annual Meeting of the Stebbins Alliance was held on Tuesday, at the home of the pastor on Homer street. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Graham Spencer; First Vice-President, Mrs. George L. Parker; Second Vice-President, Mrs. G. H. Crosby; Secretary, Mrs. Marshall Stone; Treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Webber; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. John McKey. The members of the Alliance presented the retiring President, Mrs. K. C. Tabor with a handsome travelling bag to use on her trip abroad this summer.

—Mrs. Helen A. Hamline, wife of Edward F. Hamlin, died at her home on Pleasant street, on Wednesday, in her 79th year. Mrs. Hamlin was born in Worthington, Massachusetts, and has lived in Newton about forty years. She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and in her earlier years of the First Congregational Church. Besides her husband, she leaves one son, Frank Hamlin of St. Louis. Services will be held this afternoon, at her late residence, Rev. Edward M. Noyes of the First Church officiating, and the burial will be in Plainfield, Massachusetts, her summer home.

MISS MCGILL TO LEAVE

That Miss Margaret McGill is leaving the Newton High School after seventeen years' service as head of the History department is a matter of keen regret not only among her associates and pupils, but among the parents as well, for she has proved herself an unusually able executive, and has exerted a far-reaching influence over the boys and girls of the school. Miss McGill leaves Newton to accept the presidency of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston, an institution well-known to Newton women. From small beginnings it has expanded in many directions until there are now departments of Vocational Training, of Research, of Social Science, of Thrift, lectures and exhibitions. It operates a Book Shop, a Food Shop, Handicraft store, a lunch department, and the New England Kitchen.

Miss McGill was born in Dover, Mass. of Scotch parentage received her early education in the public schools, and graduated from Mount Holyoke College. She came to Newton in 1906 from Melrose.

While her first interest has always been in educational work, she is keenly alive to civic needs and has identified herself with her community through work in the Newton Women's Club and upon other local boards. She has been president of the High School Women's Club of Newton, of the New England History Teachers' Association, and of the Boston Mount Holyoke Alumnae Association, while for the past year she has been treasurer of the College Club of Boston. In 1918 the alumnae of Mount Holyoke College chose her to be one of the three alumnae members of the Board of Trustees of the college, a position she still holds.

Miss McGill was keenly interested in youth led her to desire to do something for the boys overseas. In the summer of 1918 under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Miss McGill went across as leader and Mount Holyoke representative of an intercollegiate unit, working at first in England and later with the 33d Division in Luxembourg.

Dr. Frank E. Spaulding, who was in charge of the educational work for the Y. M. C. A. during the war, wrote her: "Why are you wasting your gray matter making cocoa and doughnuts? Come up to Beaune and use it!" She was thereupon appointed to teach history at Beaune, but preferring to do this more personal work for the boys, declined the appointment and remained in Luxembourg.

In addition to her regular teaching Miss McGill has lectured upon civics in the University Extension courses under the State department of Education, and upon the teaching of history at Boston University and at Wellesley College.

One of her co-workers says of her: "Miss McGill stands for experienced resourcefulness and reliable common sense. Her professional work has won general recognition. Her distinguished personality arouses instant attention and permanent confidence; her balanced judgment and rational grasp of large issues fit her for effective work in her new position."

Dr. Henry LeFavore, president of the Board of Trustees of the Union, expresses himself as well pleased at Miss McGill's acceptance of the position and feels that she will make an able and successful administrator for the Union.

Last week's Newtonite, the high school weekly, pays the following tribute to her work in Newton:

"As a leader she has raised the History department by a steadiness and breadth of power and will to its present high degree of excellence. The machinery never creaks. As a teacher she has left the impress of a strong, clear, impartial, and wholly uplifting tone."

"As a woman—fearless in thought and action, strong with almost masculine strength, tender with the finest of womanly tenderness, sane and sane, 'A patron, wise and commanding.' 'A partner, ready to lift in any good work.'"

A friend, loyally at hand in time of closest need—

"Miss McGill, we salute you!" She enters upon her new duties September first, and the best wishes of her many friends in Newton go with her.

Y. W. C. A.

A great event is being planned for Saturday, June 2, by the Girl Reserve Club of the Newton Y. W. C. A. in the form of a large out-door fête to be called "The Whirligig," where amusement and entertainment will be found for all ages, starting with grubs, merry-go-round and side shows for the young people, ending with a dance for the young people. Watch for further notices as to place, hours, etc.

Track practice in preparation for Inter-Y. W. C. A. track meet in Brockton, Saturday, May 19th has begun, and it is hoped that a full team will be in shape to participate.

THE ROTARY CLUB

The Rotary Club of Newton held its weekly luncheon on Tuesday noon at the Newton Club, and was assisted by members of the Rotary Club of Melrose. Rev. Lester Lewis of Melrose was the speaker. Next Tuesday the Club will be assisted by members of the Rotary Club of Framingham.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The annual meeting of the club will be held on Monday, May 14th. On Wednesday and Thursday, May 16 and 17, the club will hold its fourth annual minstrel show and for which careful preparations are being made. There will be dancing each evening after the show.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Albert Edgar Angier School

Pupils of grade eight are looking forward with great joy to their entrance to high school next September. Mr. Crowell and the teachers are doing all possible to guide these children in the choices of proper courses. The parents of children in this grade may consult with the high and grammar school masters and receive information as desired regarding first year high school work. This should be done immediately where confusion of mind on this matter exists.

The recess baseball league for grades six, seven, and eight has been formed. Six teams composed of five boys and four girls each are in the contest. Much enthusiasm has been created in this way.

The first team this year is having wonderful success particularly if early results against private school teams may serve as criteria of making judgment. The game against the Longwood Day School of Brookline was won by a score of nineteen to one; against the McAllister Boys' School of Concord, our team won by a score of eighteen to three. Frank Spain, the captain of the Albert Angier team, is a fine grammar school player as well as being in the Newtons. He is the team's catcher. The team is fortunate this year in having three first string pitchers, Wesley Walton, Roger Handcock, and William Pelham. The play ground instructor, Donald Houghton, who also serves as coach of the school team, has succeeded in developing a high morale. Richard Anthony, at first base, plays a fast game, and hits the ball hard.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The 1923 baseball team is organized and playing practice games. Games have been won from the Hyde and the Angier teams. Newton Hanscom is captain and Melvin Chambers manager of the team. A fund has been raised to buy suits. The team is very happy over this feature for this season.

Miss Kelly's class gave a selection at the last assembly in the Hall. The title was "A Health Creed."

The Hyde School Orchestra, numbering over 20 players, visited our school on Friday afternoon, May 4, and played in our hall to our entire school. Hayden's "Children's Toy Symphony" was rendered in artistic manner and received much praise. One of the players gave an outline of the production and called in turn the toy instruments. The players of these instruments took their positions on the stage and gave a brief demonstration of their instruments. The entertainment was very pleasing and reflected great credit upon the leader, Miss Grossman.

Miss Marion D. Bassett gave a card lecture on "Switzerland" to Miss Dow's class last week.

Mrs. Elsie M. Oakes terminates her services as teacher in Grade 1 this week. She has taught here three years. She intends to live in Nova Scotia after her wedding at an early date.

Mrs. Helen H. Leavitt has announced her intention of giving up her position in June as teacher in Grade 4. The music of the opera has been memorialized State rehearsals for the action are started under the general direction of Miss Bassett.

Mrs. Lecroix had charge of Grade 2 during the absence of Miss Dill occasioned by the death of her mother.

Newton High School

Boston High School of Commerce outscored Newton High, 38 to 34, in a dual track meet at the Newton Centre Playground on Saturday.

The summaries:
100-Yard Dash—Won by Bauckman, Newton; second, West; third, West. Time, 10.25.
220-Yard Dash—Won by Weeks, Newton; second, West; third, West. Time, 10.25.
440-Yard Dash—Won by Weeks, Newton; second, West; third, West. Time, 24.25.
880-Yard Dash—Won by Weeks, Newton; second, West; third, West. Time, 56.45.
1760-Yard Dash—Won by Weeks, Newton; second, West; third, West. Time, 2m. 10.35.
Running High Jump—Tie for first among Newton, Nelson and Garrity, Commerce; height 5 feet 2 inches.
Running Broad Jump—Won by Rumpf, Commerce, 20 feet 14 inches; second, Newton, 19 feet 3 inches; third, West, 19 feet 3 inches.
120-Yard Hurdles—Won by Rumpf, Commerce; Bauckman, Newton, second; Consonine, Newton, third. Time 16.25.
12-Pound Shotput—Won by Taylor, Commerce; 38 feet 8 inches; Bauckman, Newton, second, 35 feet 3 3/4 inches; Bowen, Newton, third, 34 feet 8 inches.

The senior class play, "My Lady Coquette," will be given this afternoon and tomorrow evening in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. Elaborate preparations have been made for the play and there is keen anticipation about the production.

Stearns School

The annual rummage sale of the Stearns School Centre was held at the Stearns School last Saturday with Mrs. Edwin P. Brown as chairman. Owing to the fact that people were considerate and contributed to the sale and to the efforts of the chairman, the Mothers' Club members and the Senior Girls' Club members who assisted in disposing of the articles was the sale a success. The satisfying proceeds will be used in the Community Work.

A special meeting was called by the Mothers' Club, May 7, and all the mothers are looking forward to the annual banquet that will be held at the Stearns School Monday night, May 14, at seven o'clock.

Now that the dressmaking class is most over the Senior Girls' Club are turning to baseball and a few weeks more should determine the champion pitcher and catcher.

High School Notes

This year the Student Council expects to edit an "Orange Book" which is to be a hand-book for the whole school. The committee in charge consists of: Raymond Rockwood, chairman, Robert Adams, Marion Maxim and Miss Haworth, faculty adviser.

Bauckmann was the feature of Newton's 38-34 defeat by Boston High School of Commerce, scoring 11 points for Newton and getting one "first" and two "seconds." Howard Weeks, captain of Newton Track was first in the 220-yard and second in the 100-yard.

At a recent meeting of the Senior class of the Classical High committees were elected for the purpose of running a class banquet and dance. President Kohler requested that some one write a class song to be given at this time. According to Miss McGill, Mr. Bacon and several students the hall in the F. A. Day Junior High School would be the most suitable place for this Senior dance. The class also voted to purchase a page of the Newtonian for forty dollars as a contribution toward the annual.

The last meeting of this season of the Hi-Y Club will be held this Thursday. Tudor Bowen was elected President to lead activities in the fall and Howard Weeks, vice-president; Alan Shaw, secretary and Kenneth Kepner, treasurer.

The Auburndale Woman's Club is again offering a scholarship of $200 to be given to some Auburndale girl or boy toward tuition for the Freshman year in college.

An inter-school tennis tournament between Newton H. S., Fessenden, Allen and Country Day Schools will be staged at Brae Burn Country Club on Tuesday, May 15 at 4 o'clock. There will be two double matches and three single matches in the Boys' class (15 and under). The same matches will be played in the Senior class (16-18).

The Spanish Club meets every Wednesday afternoon under the direction of Miss Lewis.

At the Spring meeting of the Association of New England Teachers of Mathematics held in Boston University recently, a special feature was the presentation of "A Mathematical Trial" by the Alpha Gamma Tau, the mathematical club of the Newton Classical High School, under the direction of Mr. Charles H. Mergendahl.

Mr. Roland R. Smith of the Newton Classical High School has been appointed on the committee to investigate the relation of mathematics to art.

Mason School

The teachers of the Mason and Rice Schools were most cordially entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Paul, on Tuesday, May 8th. The evening was spent in playing cards. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her daughter, Louise.

The Mason teachers are especially fortunate in having such a principal as Mr. Paul who stands for the best things in the present trend of education.

This fact was ably demonstrated at the recent open meeting of the N. C. School Association, wherein his teachers illustrated very successfully what he has been advocating and working for, in the Mason District. The Mason team has played two league games; winning the first with the Bigelows, and losing the second to the Pierce boys.

Lasell

Dr. and Mrs. Winslow entertained the Senior class, which numbers sixty-four, at their home on Friday evening. The members of the Secretarial Department will attend the Convention of the Chandler School, to be held at Loew's State Theatre, on Saturday morning.

On Saturday evening, the Junior Class will present "Daddy Long Legs" at Bragdon Hall.

FERDINAND-WILDE

Miss Margaret Wilde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Wilde of Baldwin Street, Newton, became the bride last Saturday of Mr. Alfred E. Ferdinand of Ontario, Canada.

The ceremony took place in the Church of the New Jerusalem, Boston, and was performed by the Rev. H. Clinton Hay, pastor of the church. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion with pale pink carnations and greens, with palms in the vestry.

The bride was unattended. The ushers were Messrs. Philip Canby of Waltham, Franklin Blackmer of Melrose, Horace Briggs of Melrose, Arthur V. Westwood, and Elliott Rexford of Winthrop.

The bride wore a travelling suit of dark blue with hat to match, blue fox fur, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the vestry of the church, the bridal couple being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Wilde.

After their wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand will live in Kitchener, Ontario.

The bride graduated from the Perry Kindergarten School in 1916. Until recently she was a teacher in the Waltham public schools. Mr. Ferdinand served in the Royal Flying Corps during the World War and is now a building contractor in Kitchener where the couple will make their home.

LODGES

The last of the informal dances of the season by the Masonic Association will be held on Saturday evening, May 19th. This is to be a Costume Party and prizes will be given for the best costumes.

Mrs. A. E. Cunningham, Tent No. 2, D. of V. will hold a whist party in G. A. R. hall Newtonville Tuesday, May 15th at 8:30 P. M.

Newton Lodge 92, I. O. O. F. celebrated its 104th anniversary in Odd Fellows Hall on Monday. There was a banquet, followed by a musical and literary entertainment. About 200 were present including the members of the Tennyson Rebekah Lodge. The committee in charge were Mr. Harry Gammons, Mr. Will Cotter and Mr. Elwood Barker.

There will be a Hurdy-Gurdy party and Costume Dance given by Newton Lodge, No. 92, I. O. O. F. at Odd Fellows' Hall, West Newton, Wednesday, May 16, at 8 P. M. Refreshments will be served.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Endeavoring to Solve Half Holiday Problem for Local Stores. Insurance Adjustment Progressing

The question of deciding upon a uniform summer half-holiday, to apply as far as possible to all the stores and all the villages of Newton, was the chief topic of discussion at a meeting of the Mercantile Division Committee of the Newton Chamber of Commerce at the Newton Club on Monday of this week.

A large proportion of the Newton stores have for several years been closing one afternoon each week for varying periods during the summer. While a majority have closed on Wednesdays, the closing time each day has varied, and the period for the individual closing schedules have ranged from two to four months, according to the individual inclinations of the respective merchants.

Being conversant with the desires of the average Newton merchant to recognize the summer half-holiday plan and believing that it was only the inability of these merchants, due largely to the fact that Newton is peculiarly a city of several distinct communities with the business men of all seldom coming in contact with each other, the Mercantile Division committee felt that the formal naming by a representative organization of a certain day of the week, and the designation of a certain period of the summer season, would in itself be sufficient to make the summer closing schedule practically uniform throughout the city.

The advantage of this to the buying public is obvious. While a majority of those stores closing in previous years have chosen Wednesday as the day most acceptable to themselves and their clerks and, because in the middle of the week, of the least inconvenience to their patrons, some have pre-

TWILIGHT BASEBALL

The Newton Twilight Baseball League will open its season on Wednesday evening, May 23rd with games between West Newton and Newton Highlands at Newton Highlands, Newton Upper Falls and Newton Centre at Newton Centre.

The league is composed of four teams this year, Newton Centre, Newton Highlands, West Newton and Newton Upper Falls.

Mayor Edwin J. Childs will throw out the first ball at Newton Highlands in the game between West Newton and Highlands while Captain Sinclair Weeks will start the Falls and Centre into battle by throwing the first ball at the Centre.

The officers of the league this year are Mayor Edwin J. Childs, Honorary President; Joseph Barry, President; W. P. Kellher, 1st Vice-President; Fred Martin, 2nd Vice-President, and F. M. Bergin Secretary-Treasurer. Arbitration Board, Capt. Sinclair Weeks, Chairman; H. C. Berger, Thomas J. Lyons, Thomas W. White and Dr. Oscar Martin.

All games this year will start promptly at 6:30 P. M. The officers of the league invite the citizens of the Garden City to support the teams by attending the games.

The following schedule of games will be played this year:

WHIRLIGIG

The out door fete the 'Whirligig' which the Girl Reserve Club of the Newton Y. W. C. A. is planning to hold on the Hibbard Estate, June 2nd, bids fair to be a huge success. Entertainment will be found to appeal to all ages and tastes. For the children there will be grabs and pony rides. For those a little older, fortune tellers, games of skill, etc., while there will be candy, ice cream and other goodies for all with hot dogs and doughnuts for the more serious minded.

At four o'clock there will be an entertainment for which an attractive programme is being planned, immediately following which will be tea and dancing for every one.

Run in connection with the 'Whirligig' will be a tennis tournament, entries for which should be made at once to Miss Marion Maxim, through the Y. W. C. A., 251 Washington street, Newton.

HUNNEWELL CLUB MINSTRELS

The annual performances of the Hunnewell minstrels took place on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week and proved as enjoyable as ever.

The first part of the program was of the usual black face variety with Mr. Henry P. Curtiss as interlocutor and Messrs. Ralph W. Angier, David K. Grant, Dr. L. H. Naylor and Prescott Warren as end men. The chorus work was very well done, the voices splendid in several negro songs. There were end songs and solos from Dr. Naylor, David K. Grant, Ralph W. Angier and Clark Hodder. Dr. Naylor working in some capital stage business while Mr. Grant convulsed his audience with a stuttering song. Mr. Curtiss and Dr. Mellus gave a clever imitation of Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean in which several club members were pilloried in song. Mr. Carl J. Thornequist was musical

AMATEUR THEATRICALS

"Clarence" given a Most Successful Presentation at Centenary M. E. Church, Auburndale

Wednesday night, the young people of Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale, presented to an audience that filled the Auburndale Club House to its fullest capacity, Booth Tarkington's Comedy-drama, "Clarence."

From the moment Mrs. Rose Hammond, as Mrs. Martyn, the efficient, business-like secretary to Mr. Wheeler, came upon the stage in the first act, with well rendered and splendidly characterized lines introducing the play, until the curtain descended on Cora Wheeler, weeping disconsolately in the beautiful drawing room of her father's home, interest was unflagging, humor was contagious, illusion complete.

The play, a particularly clever and artistic work in the field of comedy drama, clean and free from coarseness and vulgarity, as befits a play to be rendered by a group of young people

NEWTON CLUB

The mixed bowling tournament took place at the Newton Club on Monday night. The members have been playing since February 26. There have been twelve teams competing. Prizes were won as follows: Team 8, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Henderson, and Mr. and Mrs. George P. Gregory were tied with Team 4, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Niven. In the roll-off Team 8 won, Team 4 taking the 2nd prize.

The third prize was won by Team 5 consisting of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hunting, and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hanna.

The 4th prize was won by Team 10 consisting of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Noyes.

After the prizes had been awarded, Mr. Hendrick was given a rising vote of thanks for his able management of the affair.

ROSE-CLARK

Grace Church, Newton, was the scene of a pretty wedding last Saturday, when Miss Dorothy Porter Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Urann Clark, Jr., and Stephen Darwin Rose, were united in marriage by Rev. Laurens MacLure, D. D., rector of the parish.

Miss Clark was graduated from Wellesley College in the class of '13, and received the degree of master of science from the Massachusetts Agricultural College, last June. Mr. Rose is a graduate of Dartmouth, class of '13, and is a son of Mrs. Stephen Curtis Rose of Clinton.

LOSES BALL GAME

Seven errors figured in giving Malden High a win over Newton High School in a suburban League game at Clafin Field Wednesday afternoon, 4 to 3.

Sullivan, on the mound for Newton, held the winners to five hits, all singles, and should have won the game, but was poorly supported.

Newton staged a batting rally in the sixth, scoring three runs on a double by O'Donnell, a safe bunt by Whitmore, and singles by Duane, Shaw and Dewing.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Hyde School

Last Sunday afternoon the West Newton Music School gave a recital, the second one this winter. There was a satisfactory number in attendance.

A garden club is being organized under the direction of Mr. Smith of the Vocational High School. They are to elect officers very soon.

A delegation of Belgian teachers who are studying American schools recently visited the Hyde with Miss Bragg.

Tuesday afternoon the Hyde Teams played a practice game on the Highlands Playground. The first team won. A second attraction of the afternoon was a game of Fist Ball between the Waban girls and the Highlands girls. Miss Dorothy Leach, playground instructor, coached them. The Waban girls won.

Miss Hanscom's eighth grade held a debate on "Resolved: That the United States Government treated the Indians justly." The affirmative side was Dick True, captain; Dick Schroeder, Charles Green and Timothy Lane. On the opposing team were Dorothy Thompson, Captain; Ruthena Warren, Dorothy Jordan and Anna Bacon. The judges, Charles Parker, Joseph Russo and Elizabeth decided in favor of the affirmative.

The Captain-Ball team, under the captaincy of Elizabeth Bicknell, has established the admirable record of winning every game played this season.

The children in Miss Greene's 4th grade had a very interesting and instructive trip through Boston last Tuesday. Their trip included Franklin's birthplace, Spring Lane, Old South Church, Old State House, scene of Boston Massacre, Post Office, King's Chapel, Hood's, where each child had his morning lunch of milk and crackers, New State House, Boston Common, Public Garden, and the Public Library. Each child was delighted to have an opportunity to shake hands with Gov. Cox. Mrs. Everett Lewis acted as guide, and twelve mothers helped to make the trip a success.

F. A. Day Junior High School

Last Wednesday evening, from seven to nine o'clock, a regular school session was held for the benefit of parents and friends who were invited to attend to see the regular work of the pupils in Junior High School. Many were present and were conducted around the building by members of the Student Police Force. It was voted a great success by all.

During the regular assembly period on Friday morning, the pupils of the seventh grade gave a play entitled "The Conversion of Mrs. Slacker." This was followed by a talk on China given by Phillip Bruce, a member of the seventh grade. It was a very enjoyable period for all present.

A group picture of all ninth grades was taken on Monday of last week. The pictures have been distributed among the different classrooms and orders are now being taken.

Monday, May 7, 1923, there was a game of baseball between the Waltham and Newton Junior High Schools. It was a fast game, the score resulting 8 to 5 in favor of Newton.

Friday, May 11, 1923, the Junior High School played baseball with the Wellesley Junior High. Due to the many fumbles on Wellesley's part the score mounted up to 12 to 0, the favor being Newton's.

We hold great anticipations for our Field Day which is to be held May 22nd at Clafin Field. Girls of the Junior High will participate in the balloon dance, which is one of the events. Boys of the Junior High will be in the relay race.

There will be an entertainment, dance and food sale on Friday, May 18th for the Library Fund.

Stearns School

Mr. Smith of the Vocational School gave our fifth grade children who are to have gardens a good talk last Thursday morning.

Mr. Winslow had complimentary tickets for twenty Boy Scouts to the outer Scholastic meet at Harvard last Saturday but the rain prevented their being used.

Mrs. Drysdale of Cambridge gave demonstrations in several rooms Thursday, showing how Victrola records may be used to greatest advantage.

Miss Yetten has had two of the Belgian Social Workers going about with her this week and several of the Belgian teachers have been visiting the school.

The teachers of the Stearns District gave a card party and shower for Miss Vera Ross, Tuesday afternoon at the school building.

Miss Ross, who came to the scene of the party to attend a teachers' meeting was surprised by a shower of confetti and many presents as she entered the room. After the excitement of opening the gifts the guests retired to another room where they played bridge.

Mrs. Cecil W. Clark, formerly Miss Sara Schlechter of the school staff, won the first prize. Refreshments were served by the teachers of the Eliot School. Miss Ross has been teaching in the Stearns District for two years and is to be married in June.

Lasell

The students and faculty were the guests of the Brotherhood of the Congregational Church, on Thursday evening, when they heard a most interesting lecture by Dr. Ferri Felix Weiss, whose subject was "On the Trail of the Spy."

On Wednesday morning, the Lasell Missionary Society served a strawberry breakfast to the members of the school and friends.

Thursday evening, the French Club with Josephine Curry '23 President, held their last meeting for the year. A reception preceded the program which consisted of French Songs, the

Willys-Overland Dealer in NEWTON

WILLYS-KNIGHT and Overland owners are invited to make this address their headquarters with the assurance of receiving thoroughly satisfactory service.

We know that this organization is not only willing, but adequately equipped, to give the best kind of service—to supply promptly genuine Willys-Knight and Overland parts, to furnish efficient mechanical attention at reasonable cost.

THIS SERVICE is planned to measure up to the high standards of performance set by these two cars. We want owners to feel at home here—to drive in with the certainty of securing courteous treatment of every request.

Our new dealer will be particularly pleased to demonstrate any Overland or Willys-Knight model to prospective owners.

THE OVERLAND is America's truly low cost comfortable light car. It is the best Overland ever built; it is sold at the lowest price in Overland history.

The Willys-Knight with the Sleeve-Valve Motor gives tremendous mileage that is free from care. It brings fine-car luxury and comfort within practically everybody's reach.

TODAY is a good time to become acquainted with the new Willys-Overland dealer in your town. Call and inspect the facilities provided for your comfort and convenience.

"LADY COQUETRY"

"Lady Coquetry," the play of the seniors of the Newton Classical High School was given on last Friday afternoon, and on Saturday evening, in the Newton Centre Woman's Club, every seat being taken.

The play has been rehearsed under the direction of Mrs. Mills and the result was a most finished performance. Caroline Cummings and Roger Case in the leading parts won great applause, while Harland Sisk, Herbert Hansen and Mary Reynolds did equally well in their parts.

Hazel Bell as the country girl was excellent. Indeed, all of the actors acquitted themselves with credit.

The stage settings were very attractive. The change from the school hall to the Newton Centre Club House seems to have been a happy one.

HOSPITAL DAY

Hospital Day was observed last Saturday, at the Newton Hospital, as in many of the hospitals of the state.

Open House was kept from three until five o'clock. There were many visitors among them, aldermen, Councilors of Newton, Mayor Childs was unable to be present, but sent a letter regretting his absence and commending the work of the hospital.

The Superintendent, Miss Humphreys and her assistant, Miss Wellington, acted as hostesses. They were assisted by pupil nurses who showed the visitors over the building.

Each of the heads of the various departments, such as the X-Ray, the Social Science Department, the Maternity Department, Nurses Home, etc., were present to explain the work of the department.

DEATH OF MR. GORE

Mr. Theodore Woodman Gore, one of the oldest residents of this city, died on Sunday at Shadwell, Virginia, where he had been spending the winter. Mr. Gore has been an invalid since he retired from active business in 1918, but has not been seriously ill until the last two weeks.

Born in Boston, Jan. 17, 1847, he was educated in the public schools, and was graduated from the English High School in 1865. In 1866 he entered the office of General John S. Tyler, an average adjuster and insurance broker in Boston, and in 1879 on the death of General Tyler, continued in the business in partnership with the latter's nephews, under the name of Winship Brothers and Gore, until one of his partners died and the other retired in 1882. Mr. Gore continued his practice by himself until he became connected in 1901 with Johnson and Higgins as manager of their office for average adjusting at Boston, in which position he continued until forced to retire by illness in 1916.

In his fifty-two years of continuous work as a marine insurance adjuster he became widely known to shipping and marine insurance men of both America and Europe and was a recognized authority on marine insurance and average adjusting.

He was a member of the Association of Average Adjusters of London, Association of Average Adjusters of the United States, and correspondent for the Paris Marine Underwriters. His special study of marine insurance law and his unique library of reference books and original records of marine cases made him the consultant of admiralty lawyers and marine underwriters of two generations.

Mr. Gore had lived in Auburn since 1873, always occupying the house which he built at that time. In 1887 and 1888 he was a member of the Newton Common Council.

Mr. Gore was twice married and is survived by his widow, seven sons and two daughters, Theodore A. Gore of Leonardville, N. Y.; Christopher Gore of New York City; Bancroft Gore of Rapid City, South Dakota; Mrs. C. Warren Dillaway of Newton Highlands; Lyman W. Gore of Auburn; F. Porter Gore of New York City; Mrs. Daniel W. Howells of Pittsburgh, Pa.; John Gore of Canajoharie, N. Y.; and Samuel Gore of New York City. There are also nine grandchildren.

The funeral services were held in the Church of the Messiah, on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Percival M. Wood, the rector, being assisted by Rev. Dr. Edward P. Drew of the Auburn Congregational church. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

NEWTON LOSES

In a hard fought game which went to 11 innings, Newton High was beaten 2 to 1 by Somerville High on Monday in the latter city.

The game was a pitcher's battle between Dan McFadden of Somerville and Howard Whittemore, Newton's star pitcher.

McFadden had slight the better of the argument, with 15 strikeouts, making a total of 91 for the six games in which he has worked this year. He allowed only five hits and passed two. Whittemore fanned 13 and only six hits were made off his shoots although he was a little wild and hit two.

Somerville scored in the second inning. Hogan grounded to second, was safe on Holbrook's error and made second on a wild throw to first. Simpson beat out a bunt to first, advancing Hogan. On a hit and run play, Kelson laid down a pretty grounder, Hogan scoring.

Newton tied the count in the seventh. Corliss made a pretty catch of Duane's fly to centre. Tedesco flied out and Whittemore was passed. Dewing hit to centre and on Corliss' error Whittemore scored.

In the second extra inning Harrington of Somerville singled. Jeremiah beat out an infield hit. John Fannon, batting for Cole, hit a pop fly that Whittemore couldn't get. The hit and run play was used again with success. Griffin coming through with a perfect grounder that scored Harrington with the winning run.

D. A. R.

Mrs. Frederick J. Fessenden, retiring regent, presided at the annual meeting in Newton of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., which was held at the chapter house on Monday, May 14. In recognition of her efficient and successful administration and devoted service during the past nine years, Mrs. Fessenden was presented with an ex-regent's pin and D. A. R. jeweled emblem, from the members of the chapter. Reports of the various officers were given, after which the following named officers were elected: Regent, Miss Lucy Ellis Allen; vice regents, Mrs. Ellery Peabody and Mrs. David E. Baker; directors, Mrs. Walter A. Corson, Mrs. Arthur D. Dana, Mrs. John N. Eaton, Mrs. Frederick J. Fessenden, Mrs. Frederick W. Blakemore, and Mrs. Charles D. Meserve. Mrs. Eaton explained fully the annual budget, after which Mrs. Meserve and Mrs. Fred Mann gave interesting reports of the Continental Congress held in Washington in April. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. D. R. Puffer, Mrs. R. B. Rand, Mrs. H. A. Robbins and Mrs. A. D. Sallinger.

KIDDER-BROWN

Last Saturday, Miss Elvira Latham Brown, daughter of Mrs. William Edwin Brown of Lowell avenue, Newtonville, became the bride of William Judson Kidder of Newtonville. The wedding took place at the home of the bride on Lowell avenue, and Rev. Clifford B. Newton of the Universalist Church, was the officiating clergyman.

The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with palms, snap dragons, and festoons of apple blossoms. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Willard E. Higgins. The bride's dress was of white silk crepe with veil caught with orange blossoms. The matron of honor, Mrs. Fred Phillips of Natick, wore a gown of light pink georgette. Elizabeth Higgins of Newtonville, was the flower girl. The best man was Mr. Edwin Cooper Kidder of Newtonville. Mr. and Mrs. Kidder are now on a wedding trip to Weirs, N. H.

Your Laundry

WHETHER you've a washing and ironing machine or not, the right light in your laundry cuts down the time you spend there. If you can't see whether clothes are clean or not, the chances are they won't be. That's time wasted.

Three simple things will light your laundry right:

1. Have the lamp hung as high as possible directly above the tubs or trays.
2. Use a 100-watt bowl-enamelled Mazda C lamp (bulb), or a 150-watt Mazda Daylight lamp, which shows fabric colors in their actual daylight value.
3. Use an RLM metal reflector to spread the light evenly throughout the room.

You can do these things for a reasonable cost, and save that cost in time the first few washdays. Call your electrical contractor today—he'll give you a fair estimate, and he'll do the work swiftly and neatly.

Let the right light make your house a home.

EDITORIAL

The conditions at the waiting room of the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. at Newtonville square are such that the proposed enlargement and placing a caretaker therein should be a great improvement.

With the spreading of tar and oil by the Street department, the troubles of our housekeepers will be greatly increased.

Tax payers of Newton should realize that the two cents a gallon gas tax just passed by the Legislature will prevent an increase in the Newton tax rate of about $2.50 a $1000. Good roads are expensive and when authorized must be paid for, either by the automobilist or by the real estate owner.

Newton tax payers have a deep interest in the action to be taken on the method of taxing national bank stock. Our revenue from this source is well over $100,000 and any material reduction would have a serious effect on our tax rate.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

This week has seen the most exciting discussion held in the House this year, and almost equaling the tension aroused two years ago in the passage of the so-called Springfield bridge bill. The subject this week was the proposed tax of 2 cents per gallon on gasoline and there was a bitter fight against it. On Tuesday afternoon, after a long discussion the bill was defeated by a vote of 113 to 118 and an interesting parliamentary situation was immediately created when an opponent of the bill asked for reconsideration hoping that it would be defeated. The roll call on the matter had been taken so late in the day that many members, after voting, had left the Chamber, hence no one knew just how the vote would result. Friends of the bill urged postponement and after a strong debate secured a favorable voice vote to put the matter over and before that vote could be doubted, moved and carried a motion to adjourn.

This brought the matter over to Wednesday and reconsideration was obtained by a vote of 126 to 103 and subsequently the bill was passed favorably by a vote of 121 to 111. All subsequently the bill was passed favorably by the bill at all its stages.

Senator Rice who has been absent for the past few weeks on account of sickness was able to resume his seat on Monday.

The Senate has taken from the table, the bill to increase the maximum pension for foremen and inspectors, which has been waiting the return of Senator Rice, reconsidered its previous adverse action and passed the bill along to be engrossed. There has been quite a fight made for this bill by the Newton City Employees' Union.

The matter of the taxation of national banks and other monetary institutions and individuals is still undecided and is the only matter which will delay proration. It is hoped that some temporary measure can be passed next week, the whole matter considered by a recess committee and a special session in the fall to take definite action. At the hearings this week on this matter Mr. Philip Nichols of this city, an acknowledged expert on taxation, has taken a prominent part.

Speaker Young was given a complimentary dinner on Wednesday by the House chairmen of committees and the committee on Rules, at which his candidacy for lieutenant governor was discussed.

The Beacon Hill Square Club, composed of members of the Legislature who are Masons held an enjoyable luncheon yesterday at which Representative Saltonstall, who has just become a member of Fraternity Lodge was presented with a Masonic emblem.

DOES NOT LIVE ON NECTAR

Department of Agriculture Corrects Misapprehension About Food of the Humming Bird.

There are some misconceptions about the humming bird, the smallest of the bird race, but there are many misconceptions about other birds. However, the Department of Agriculture desires to correct a very popular misunderstanding as to what the little humming bird eats.

Speaking through its biologists and its ornithologists, the department says that, contrary to almost universal belief, the humming bird does not live upon the nectar of flowers, though nectar forms an important part of its diet. The bird will hover in front of a cobweb, picking off insects and perhaps the spiders entangled in the net. They will capture food on the wing, after the manner of the flycatchers. Stomach examinations show that a considerable part of the food of the bird consists of insects, with sometimes a very little of vegetable matter. The rubythroat is the only humming bird which inhabits the eastern part of the United States, and it is more or less common everywhere in that region. It eats concentrated sweets, but its favorite animal food is spiders. Gnats or small flies are eaten.

KILLED ENEMIES BY PROXY

Many Races of Savages Had Implicit Faith in Their Power to Bring About Death.

Sympathetic magic used as a means of wreaking vengeance upon an absent enemy was believed in and practiced by savages in widely separated parts of the world.

The principle on which the theory was based was that like produces like, or that by hurting an image of a man you would thereby hurt him. The Ojibway Indian desiring to harm an enemy made a little wooden image of him and ran a needle through its head or heart. Or he shot an arrow into it, firmly convinced that his foe would at the same instant be seized with a sharp pain in a corresponding part of his body.

A Malay charm consisted in making a wax image of the person marked for destruction, in which were some of his hairs. The figure was scorched over a lamp every night for seven nights with the following words: "It is not wax I am scorching, but it is the liver, heart and spleen of So-and-So that I scorch." After the seventh time the figure was burned and the victim was then thought to have died.

Monarch Admired American Poet.
Louis I. King of Bavaria, was one of Edgar Allan Poe's greatest admirers.

A writer for the Figaro chanced one day to leave by mistake the proofs of an article on Poe where it came to the attention of King Louis. The king sought the writer to question him. "Until then," runs the description of the scene that took place, "the king's manner had been quiet and gentle almost to effeminacy, but the moment Poe's name was mentioned he became all eagerness and animation. His magnificent eyes lit up, his lips quivered and his whole face was beaming and radiant. 'Is it a personal account of him?' he asked, referring to the proofs. 'Did you know Poe? Of course you did not though; you are too young. I cannot tell you how disappointed I am. Just for a moment I thought I was in the presence of someone who had actually known that most wonderful of all writers, and who could, accordingly, tell me something definite and authentic about his inner life.'"

Punish Flirts With Death Penalty.

Flirts are not tolerated in Zululand on the east coast of Africa, according to Olaf Linck, Danish author and explorer.

The Zulus usually kill men when they make advances to married women. The status of women has greatly improved, the explorer found. The high cost of living has had the effect of limiting the practice of polygamy to the extremely rich. In former years a man could purchase a wife for eight oxen, but now the price has gone up to almost twice that number of animals. Parents are adopting the expedient of disposing of their marriageable daughters on the installment plan, the terms generally being two oxen down and the remaining at fixed intervals. If a husband defaults on his payments there is a law which provides for his going to work in the service of his father-in-law until the value is covered.

The Cheerful Robin.

It would go hard with the birds if their case were left to be decided upon argument alone. But robins are their own best advocates, says the Detroit Free Press. They come in the spring—vandals that they are—and start a deeply planned campaign to cultivate everybody's friendship. The deep woods know them not; they never skulk in the bushes nor flee the presence of man. Instead they choose the lawn for a hunting ground, build their nests even on porches and window sills, and never let the sun go down without a song delivered from the most conspicuous perch on the place. The robin's cheerfulness is irresistible; his neighborliness compelling. It is absolutely impossible not to like him when he offers such convincing proofs every day that he likes men.

WHEN THE BIRDS FLY NORTH

Have you ever arisen before the birds awakened you, when the dawn sky was still flecked with clouds that drifted, it may be, across the face of a dying moon, and heard far, far above you, the speech of unseen voyagers going north?

It is a strange, a memorable sensation, to look into the blank sky while your ears tell you that the aerial migration is winging past. Perhaps, with a glass, you can pick out the specks against a rosy cloud or the moon disk. Birds, it may be no larger than a humming bird, hundreds of them, thousands of them, all the spring, threading their way for endless miles by the gleam of a river far below, the dark patch of a mountain forest, the haze and glow of a town—straight, sometimes, to last year's nest.

When their little voices drop from the mist or the darkness, bearing a message of their passing, it is a poor soul, indeed, which does not thrill in answer, and in answer to the sweet twitter of some flock of tiny warblers no less than the heroic clang of the Canada geese, flying in battle formation with a sound like the dragging of a chain over some vast corrugation of the air.—Walter Prichard Eaton in Harper's Magazine.

ORNATE COIFFURE OF GEISHA

Headdress of Japanese Dancing Girl Is Expensive and She Is Careful of It.

Probably the Japanese geisha has erected her hair into the most elaborate coiffure that fashion has accepted for one of her modes in any country in the world. Except that it is more ornate than that of the average woman of Japan, the geisha headdress, in general structure and line, in its use of silver and gold papers, of artificial flowers and jade or coral hairpins, expresses the conventional Japanese idea of what woman's crowning glory should be like, says Asia. She requires a professional "kamigama" to do it for her. Naturally she does not feel that she can afford to pay 10 or 20 cents every morning for this adornment of the outside of her head; so at night she props her neck on a tiny hard pillow—in the ancient days "mahots" were made of porcelain or wood—and takes care to keep her coiffure in as good order as she can.

The long black hair is oiled so that not a single strand shall be out of place, and the final effect is that of a curved black lacquer frame around the delicate yellow of the face.

Nevada Natural Wonder.

"The Devil's Postpile" is located in the Sierra Nevada mountains on the middle fork of the San Joaquin river. The "pile" is a mile long, half as wide, and 400 feet high. The odd formation whence its appellation is derived is not everywhere in evidence, cropping out only in certain places. The most striking columns constitute more than 1,000 feet of its western face. They rise over 100 feet above the talus—a vast heap of broken "posts" accumulated through the process of weathering. How far downward they extend is a matter of conjecture. The columns in this amazing bluff are arranged in rows as regularly as the pipes of an organ. Almost perfect prisms, they are fitted together like cells in a honeycomb, and really look as if carved by human hands. These columns range from 14 inches to more than 3 feet in diameter. Most of them are pentagonal, whereas elsewhere the general shape is hexagonal.

A Helping Hand.

My sister and I were on the boat which was to take us up the river when I remembered an important telephone message I ought to have made. I hurried off the gangplank, up the street, and into the nearest drug store. As I returned the last passengers were going aboard the boat.

"Where is your ticket, miss?" asked the white-ducked official.

Where, indeed! I dashed back to the drug store. Fortunately, my purse was where I had left it.

But when I reached the boat again the plank had been taken in.

"It's all right, miss," said the grinning negro porter on the wharf. And before I knew what was happening he had picked me up and thrown me lightly over a foot or two of water into the arms of a sailor on the boat.

Toxicological Studies.

Poison squads are not always made up of humans or guinea pigs. Famous toxicologists have gained their lore by hiring companies of men to whom they have fed many kinds of poisons. Some of the men have gotten over it, but they generally showed the effects of their diet. Other scientists attack a lonesome-looking guinea pig or a squad of guinea pigs and give them enough diseases to fill several hospitals. Tiny germs that cannot be seen with the naked eye are fed and housed and studied for the benefit of mankind.—New York Sun.

Born With 'Em.

"I don't see any sense in that monkey gland operation the papers made so much fuss about."

"Why not?"

"From the way the man who had the operation performed has been acting I should say he was born with monkey glands."

Met Death at Hands of Indians.

Charles Bent, who was appointed governor of New Mexico in September, 1846, and who served until January, 1847, went to the Far West in 1828, over the Santa Fe trail. In the early morning of January 19, while visiting at Taos, he was attacked in his residence by a party of Indian insurgents. While parleying with the mob he was wounded and scalped alive. Covering his bleeding head with both hands, he tried to escape, but was shot dead at the feet of his wife and children. Bent was an old trader among the Indians, and the owner of Bent's Ford or Fort William, a trading post on the Arkansas, well known for its hospitality to travelers in the Far West. He was exceedingly popular with the hardy trappers and mountaineers because of his firmness of character and personal bravery.

Colored Spiral in Glass Agate.

How many people have ever wondered how the colored spiral gets into the glass marbles that children are so fond of playing with? These marbles are principally made abroad in Czechoslovakia, and the spirals are put in this way: The glassworker gathers a lump of flint glass onto his blowpipe, or iron rod. This is dipped into a mold with straight ridges cut inside, in which are placed rods of glass of the required color. When the lump of flint is withdrawn from the mold, the colored rods stick to the flint glass. A further quantity of flint is then gathered over the first lump, with the colored rods attached, and the twist is obtained by holding the extreme end of the mass rigid, and turning the iron rod. The same method is carried out in the legs of old English wine glasses one still sees occasionally.

To Secretaries of Local Organizations

Why not let this newspaper save you labor?

Labor-saving devices are the modern methods.

They spell efficiency.

Why stay in the old rut?

This is what you have been doing for years—wasting your time and energy in sending out separate notices of meetings regarding your lodge to each member. This means that you have to address from 50 to 100 postal cards or envelopes in addition to preparing the notices for mailing out.

Why not put your notice in an advertisement under "Lodge Notices" in this paper? You could do it for $1.25 and save all that labor.

It's the modern way. It's the way most lodges are doing in the up-to-date communities.

What would be more interesting in this paper than a column or two of such notices? Your members would look for this feature in every issue. And then, think of the labor it would save you.

Just write out one notice and bring it to us. That's all. Simple, isn't it? You bet. Try it and you won't do it any other way.

We are here to serve you and ready to make suggestions.

Last Tuesday, Judge Crosby of Supreme Judicial Court denied the application of Mrs. Byfield for an order to restrain the city of Newton from taking her home at No. 15 Eldredge street. At once, Mrs. Byfield's attorneys filed a bill in equity in the Superior Court for Middlesex County to obtain an injunction against the city, claiming in the bill that under the law she is entitled to have the premises viewed by a jury which right would be denied her if the home were destroyed as is threatened by the city authorities. In her bill, she asserts that to carry out such threats would be subversive of good government and could be accomplished only by commission of crimes whereby she would be subjected to danger of life, assault upon her, and destruction of her valuable property without due process of law. It is claimed by her that the certiorari case against the city is pending in the Supreme Judicial Court and also she claims protection of the Court until this case has been decided by the full bench. Order of notice was issued by the Superior Court on Wednesday last, and there will probably be hearing in the matter in Boston next week.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Capt. James F. Pressey, for twenty years a well-known former resident of Newton, died on April 28th at his home in Los Angeles, Cal. Capt. Pressey was born at Deer Isle, Maine, on June 17, 1836, and was therefore 86 years of age. He retired from the army in 1884, and made his home in Newton for about 20 years, moving to Los Angeles in 1906. He is survived by his widow and four children, James F. Pressey, Jr., Alonzo R. S. Pressey, Mrs. Fred C. Tandy, and Judson C. Pressey, all of Los Angeles.

To the Editor: As a retired teacher of thirty four years experience, I find Mr. Hendrick's article of April 27 interesting. But what four studies would he and Dr. Pritchett of the Carnegie Foundation select? Reading, Writing and Arithmetic, but for the fourth, which out of Spelling, Grammar, History, Geography, Music and Drawing? All nine of these have been considered fundamental in city and suburban schools ever since I began going to school, sixty years ago. It would be decidedly hard to shorten these nine down to four, to be studied "for thoroughness and intellectual vigor."

I wonder if he knows that teachers nowadays separate their pupils into the "academic minded" (those who can easily learn from books) and the "manual-minded" (those who can not, but are skilful with their hands) what a dog's life the "manual-minded" led in the old days, called stupid, scolded and ridiculed by teachers, schoolmates and parents! Now they are happy getting credit for drawing, cooking, carpentering, moulding, sewing, playing a musical instrument, typewriting, athletics, although the Pritchett theory would call these "fads and frills." The fact is that the schools simply follow the tendency of the times, as, for instance do the publishers, with their vast array of books, magazines and papers in place of the few we had when I was a child.

I smile when I think of an incident in my short experience as superintendent of schools. A teacher applied for a position with me. I asked, "can you teach music?" "drawing?" "nature study?" "Oh, yes, I would like to, I learned that at the Normal School, but in my last position, the committee would not let me. They said I must teach nothing but plain facts." Now the up-to-date school does not give "plain facts" merely. It gives vision, opening a goodly number of doors through which the children of both major and minor book ability can see their natural adaptation to life. In one or two of the lines they choose to follow, they will acquire "thoroughness," become professional, but the others, "superficial" though they may have been in them, will be a background which makes us call them liberally educated, even though amateur.

EDWARD COX,

[Wintering in the South and everywhere visiting schools.]

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association was held in the Congregational Church Vestry, President Coan presiding, the regular routine such as purpose of the call. The reading of the last annual meeting, the Treasurers' and Secretaries' reports, and a general summary of the activities of the Association for this year were disposed of quickly in the usual parliamentary manner, a few of the many things done of interest to the citizens are the entertaining of the G. A. R. on Memorial day, the Christmas and July fourth celebrations, the Donald MacMillan Lecture and the enthusiastic attendance at meetings of the board, handling such questions as Tree removal, Bill board, Gasoline Stations, Garbage, and Street Railways service. The Treasurer showed a 100% increase in membership and that it cost almost $1.00 to get a dollar membership.

Mr. Bonner of the Sports committee, reported that three new tennis courts were practically completed on the play ground and the rink at Crystal Lake had been kept in condition for hockey by the Boy Scouts. Snow shoeing parties, skiing and general outdoor sports during the summer and winter had been planned and successfully carried through on three occasions.

Edgar J. Smith reported the inability to arouse the community to a sense of duty musically speaking and for the coming year, a community chorus would be again started and it was hoped greater interest would be taken.

Mr. Kingman chairman of the Nominating committee offered the following ballot and these officers were elected: Mr. William F. Coan, President; Mr. John H. Elwell, Vice-President; Mrs. Fred G. Sandford, Secretary; Mr. Ronald D. Birch, Treasurer and these directors, Mrs. Joseph C. Allen, Mrs. Curtis Chipman, Mr. Harry P. Forte, Mr. Harry R. Lamphere, Mr. Charles W. Hawkes, Mr. Raymond R. Fuller, Mr. Everett C. Winslow.

The President read excerpts from a letter from the Newton Chamber of Commerce regarding the proposed traffic ordinance for the City of Newton, and it seemed to be the general opinion that the Highlands was in need of traffic regulation only at three points, namely Centre and Walnut, Chester and Lincoln, and Walnut and Lake avenue and that Station street be made a one way street, and the meeting so voted.

The gravel side walks of the town came in for a general condemning. "Fine roads for the motorist and the horse, but the poor pedestrian could walk ankle deep in water and mud," was the comment of one speaker.

Duplication of effort and a means for a remedy on the part of the various clubs and associations was the subject of Mr. Lewis, all of which was referred to the executive board for action.

POLICE NEWS

Frank Dudek, 26, of Pine street, Wellesley, while crossing Watertown street, Nonantum, Sunday night, fell in front of a Middlesex and Boston street railway car, William Furey, motor-man, and W. J. Main, conductor. Dudek was cut about the head and taken to Police Headquarters, where he was treated by Dr. Lowe and booked for being drunk.

Wilfred Doucette, 22, of 74 Church street, Waltham, was in Court Monday morning, charged with being drunk and with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Saturday night while driving his car he was in a collision with a car driven by Robert Hart of 212 River street, West Newton. The police were called and patrolmen Murphy, Jenkins and Roche found three quarters of home brew in Doucette's car and Doucette, together with Moses Povrier, who was with him, were both seen to be drunk. Doucette was given a month in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon. He appealed. Povrier was fined $10 for being drunk.

Robert C. Young, 51, of 129 Hicks street, West Newton, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction Monday morning by Judge Bacon, for assault and battery on his son, Philip Young, 14. The boy returned home about midnight Sunday night, and the father, according to testimony, angered at the boy for coming in so late, started to beat him with a heavy strap. After a severe lashing, the boy jumped from a second-story window to the ground and told his story to patrolman Murphy in West Newton.

The boy was taken to Police Headquarters, where he was treated by the city physician, Dr. Lowe. A warrant was sworn out for the father and he came to court this morning.

Dr. Lowe testified that the boy was struck with the strap 25 times and the boy's shirt was removed that the court might see the evidence of the welts. The father and mother testified that the boy was unruly and of no help, but the boy was uncontradicted in his statement that he earned $10 a week, $8 of which went to the father and $2 to the mother. Young appealed the sentence.

Joseph Sacco of 12 Ritchie street, Roxbury, was in Court Tuesday morning charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and with being drunk. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one month in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon. Sacco appealed and was held in bonds of $300. The drunk charge was filed.

Everett H. Neale of 128 Union street, South Natick, was in Court Tuesday, charged with being drunk and with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He pleaded guilty and because of his family was given a suspended sentence until Nov. 10, of one month in the House of Correction.

ANNUAL RECEPTION

The Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People will hold their annual reception and sale on Saturday, May 26, from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Newtonville

Mrs. C. Haviland Morse of Brookside avenue, entertained her bridge club on Thursday.

Mrs. George B. H. Macomber of Highland avenue, is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Clark, of Erie, Pa.

At the annual meeting this week of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Clarence G. McDavitt was elected a director.

Miss Eleanor Leighton of this place took part in the Annual May Day Pageant on Wednesday, at Skidmore College, Saratoga, New York.

An automobile owned and operated by G. F. Wyman of Willow Farm, North street, struck a hydrant on Crafts street, Saturday night, Wyman was uninjured, but the car was put out of commission.

An automobile owned and operated by Mrs. W. A. Goodman, who was accompanied by her husband, Sunday afternoon, struck a tree on the north side of Commonwealth avenue, at the corner of Lowell avenue. She escaped injury, but her husband sustained a number of cuts and bruises. The police ambulance was called, but Mr. Goodman refused to go to the hospital and was taken to his home in a passing car.

Services were held in the Mount Auburn Cemetery Chapel on Monday.

SHUBERT THEATRE—The musical comedy attractions now playing Boston have been joined by Oliver Morosco's "Lady Butterfly," a new arrival from New York which began a limited engagement at the Shubert Theatre Monday night, May 14. A visit to Boston without planning a call upon this reputedly delightful theatrical personality and her associate hosts, is something not to be considered in making up the visitors' program. She was a great favorite in New York during her five months stay on its famous Broadway at the Globe and Astor theatres, where seen by many Boston and New England theatregoers it has been highly recommended to the folks back home.

DEATH OF MRS. FURBUSH
 Following a residence of fifteen years with her daughter, Mrs. John Parker Holmes, in Otis street, West Newton, Mrs. Caroline C. Furbush died Saturday in her eighty-eighth year. She was a native of Groton, N. Y., but most of her girlhood was spent in Deerfield. Before her marriage to Merrill A. Furbush, who has been dead several years, she was Caroline C. Stone.

Services were held in the Mount Auburn Cemetery Chapel on Monday.

Newton High School

On Wednesday morning the members of the Technical High School heard a very interesting talk by the captain of the Massachusetts State police. He pointed out in particular that an officer is really "human" and desires a square deal and friendship. The orchestra rendered several selections.

On Friday, May 18th, the English Club will make a trip to Concord, where they will visit places of literary note such as Louisa Alcott's house, Sleepy Hollow Cemetery and the Minute Man. Supper will be eaten at Walden Pond.

The Juniors of the Classical High School have voted to give this year's graduating class a reception in the Drill Shed on June 15th, following the graduation exercises.

On Monday, May 7th Miss Kennedy's Biology Class went on a "hunting-trip" in the nearby woods to take notes on birds, insects and worms seen.

On Thursday the same class and Miss Currier's pupils made a visit to the Agassiz Museum in Cambridge.

ferred to close their stores at 12 o'clock, others a half hour later, and a considerable number at one o'clock. A few, because of the character of their business, have felt that Saturday afternoon was the best closing day and have acted accordingly. In a few isolated instances, Tuesdays and Thursdays have been chosen.

The result has naturally been much confusion on the part of the public. Because of this, various merchants have originally announced a closing schedule early in the season and then abandoned it after trying it out for two or three weeks. The general result has been anything but satisfactory and would likely continue so without any carefully considered plan that can meet with the approval of practically all merchants and made effective without inconvenience to the people of the city.

In adopting the closing schedule the Mercantile Division Committee is relying upon widespread publicity—through the Newton Progress and other mediums,—to acquaint the public with the schedule decided upon and to thus educate the public to do their mid-week buying on Wednesday mornings and to place all orders for delivery early in the day.

Under the plan of the city become familiar with the plan. It is believed they will readily adjust themselves to it, arranging their personal marketing and buying schedules so as to conform to the uniform schedule. In other cities it has been found that the weekly summer half-holiday works no hardship on the public, while it gives the merchants and their employees a reasonable and welcome respite from the long business hours during the remainder of the year.

It was deemed best by the local committee to first endeavor to make the closing period uniform for a period of two months. The months of July and August were chosen, with the thought that in subsequent seasons the closing period could begin earlier, or continued later in the season, if a majority favored such action.

Under the plan adopted, the schedule for the present season would involve eight half-holidays, following July 4, which is the first Wednesday of that month. The opening date would be on September 5, the Wednesday day following Labor Day. There will be no objection to any merchant closing his store on one Wednesday afternoon if he should care to do so, but the cooperation of the public will be invited only during the two month period.

The time of day that the stores should close during these two months was carefully considered and the hour of 12 o'clock eventually decided upon as the best time. Should the stores remain open until one o'clock, it gives the clerical force but a short half-holiday, at best, assuming that nearly all will desire to go home to lunch, while in some classes of stores employees cannot possibly leave their work until an hour or more after closing time, which, after lunch, would leave but little time for recreation.

The Mercantile Division Committee is to have cards printed announcing the new closing schedule, which will be distributed gratis to all cooperating merchants, whether or not they are members of the Chamber. Every effort will be put forth to make the Wednesday afternoon closing as general as possible, during the above two months, and an invitation extended to all Newton business men and business institutions to cooperate in the movement. That the buying public will be glad to assist in helping the merchants and their employees to enjoy one half-holiday weekly during the hot months is assumed by the committee, the members of which believe that they have developed a plan that will meet with the approval of all and which can with reasonable cooperation, be developed as successfully and advantageously in Newton as in other cities.

Assurances have been given the Newton Chamber of Commerce by the inspection department of the New England Insurance Exchange that the hydrant tests, completing the re-inspection of Newton as to present fire risks and to ascertain the things that Newton must do to qualify as a Class A City, and bring about a substantial reduction in insurance rates, will be made within the next ten days.

Following these tests, a report will be submitted within a few weeks to Mayor Edwin O. Childs, indicating the exact conditions which prevent Newton from already enjoying the same advantages of low insurance rates as Brookline, Worcester, Springfield, Holyoke, and New Bedford, the first-class cities in Massachusetts. When this information is available, it is the plan of the Insurance Committee of the Newton Chamber to endeavor to find a way to meet the requirements of the Insurance Exchange, one by one, until conditions are sufficiently changed and improved to insure recognition by the insurance companies as a Class A city.

Of the point scoring system, known as the Beane Schedule and used universally by the insurance exchanges throughout the country, the necessary number of points to enable a city to qualify as a Class A city is 170. Of this necessary total Newton is already credited with 164. It is therefore hoped that the task of making up these necessary six points, through changing existing conditions or adding additional protection through improvements to the water system, fire department equipment, and in other ways that may be indicated by the Insurance Exchange, will not be too great to be accomplished in a comparatively short time. Those most conversant with the situation are inclined to feel that, when the report from the Insurance Exchange is received, that a systematic program of action and perhaps some cooperation from the City Government will in time overcome all deficiencies which are responsible for Newton's present position in the Class B group of cities.

The Newton inspection is being made upon the request of Mayor Childs, in accordance with a plan worked out last October by the Insurance Committee of the Newton Chamber. This includes Clinton H. Scovell of Newton, chairman; Arthur W. Hollis of Newton, Herbert M. Cole of West Newton, Sam T. Emery of Newton Centre, and Herbert W. Colby of Newton Highlands. The greater part of the inspection was completed last November and December, the hydrant tests necessarily going over until spring until weather conditions would permit the flushing of streets by the opening of hydrants, without freezing and endangering of traffic conditions.

"CLARENCE"

representing the church, first presents and then unfolds the mystery of the person, character, and occupation of "Clarence." Appearing in the first act as an ill kept private in the quarter-master's department of the United States Army, suffering from an injured liver, and recommended by the fact that he cannot "drive mules without swearing at them," he progresses from scene to scene, winning the confidence and friendship of many and the love of not a few, until in the final scene he turns out to be Clarence Smith, rated in "Who's Who" as one of the great entomologists of his day, a graduate of great universities of America, France and Germany, one of the leading authorities on the coleoptera. This character, played by Mr. Harold McNay, was given one of the finest portrayals from the standpoint of amateur acting in the memory of the writer. Establishing his character in the very first lines he spoke, he carried it through every change of environment, scene, and association, through every change of attire and fortune, through intimate association and acquaintance in the "rowing household and family" of the business man Mr. Wheeler, and finally through a most effective and natural love scene with the Wheeler governess, Violet Penney.

Mr. Wheeler, played by C. Kendrick Smith, and Mrs. Wheeler, played by Mrs. Lillian Larkin, who entered into the role of the suspicious and jealous young wife and the inexperienced young step-mother with the complete absorption of herself in her part necessary to good acting, progress from a kind of "edginess" and animosity to the love and affection of sympathetic understanding. The transition in mood on the part of Mrs. Larkin was particularly effective.

Bobby and Cora Wheeler, brother and sister children of Mr. Wheeler, impressive school age, fighting with one another continually, sarcastic and spiritedly contentious, condescending and disdainful at times, at other times romantic and eager, were impersonated by Arthur Shaw and Miss Dorothy King respectively. They were the "life of the play." No better acting acquaintance with lines, not more complete abandon to the character and spirit of part and play, no intenser grip on the spirit of the audience, rousing them to gales of laughter innumerable times would be found in amateur playing. Personality, appearance, careful preparation, and dramatic instinct combined to make this a couple long to be remembered by those present.

In Miss Helen Brooks, Mr. Tarkington's created character, Violet Penney, governess in the Wheeler home, beloved of many men but finally won by "Clarence," found an ideal medium. Charming in appearance, thoroughly poised, at ease and in command of every situation, the prettily stern and dignified governess in dealing with the impetuous Cora, the sympathetic friend to Mr. Wheeler, when that poor man was nearly distracted with trying to make something of his children, self-controlled when the young Mrs. Wheeler accused her of making love to her husband, sincere and beautifully affectionate in her discovered and admitted love for Clarence, she carried her audience with her through every moment of her presence on the stage and in the action. To her, as much as to Mr. McNay, is due the credit for the effectiveness and naturalness of the restrained love-making in the last act, one of the most difficult things in amateur playing. Poise and grace, charming smile and eager eyes were lent to the portrayal of this important character throughout the play.

Della, the Irish maid, played by Miss Lillian King, and Dinwiddie, the butler, played by Fred Van Wormer, made another contrasting pair who played their parts with such ability as to recommend them for bigger things.

Hubert Stem, the grass-widow lover of Violet Penney, who finds his only entry into the Wheeler home to be through winning the youthful affections of Cora, was played by Albion J. Tavenner, with effectiveness and characterization fully worthy of the company in which he found himself.

The scene where Mr. Stem attempted to express his admiration and love for Miss Penney in the same room and at the same time when Clarence was tuning a piano with a monkey wrench and a screw-driver, was exceedingly well handled by both Mr. McNay and Mr. Tavenner and was one of the most truly humorous episodes, both in conception and presentation, one would ever witness.

Miss Lillian Gerrold, was of very great help throughout the preparation and presentation of the play. Off stage she took the part of "The Voice." As prompter and assistant to the coach, she has attended many rehearsals and given valuable help in making the play as successful as it was.

The play was coached by Mr. Ralph Somers, of Newtonville, and to him is due very great credit for the splendid result achieved in presenting one of the most ambitious and difficult works amateurs might attempt. Mrs. Somers's fine hand was also evident in the make-ups and costumes.

The stage was adequately set and furnished. The drawing room as lighted for the evening scene was particularly beautiful, drawing involuntary applause from the audience as the curtain ascended. Everything in the way of furnishings, setting and decorations, in general atmosphere and impression was in keeping with and worthy of the play itself. The dress of the players, particularly in the third act, when the tuxedos of the men, and the attractive evening gowns of the ladies gave color and glamor to the beautifully lighted evening scene, was always well thought out and carefully planned.

A musical program, more than worth the total price of admission, was played by the Harry Wellcome Trio, violin, cello, and piano during the intermissions. It is to be hoped this group of artists can be heard under more favorable circumstances at another time. There was no "jazz," but artistic playing of beautiful and inspiring music.

The Auburndale Club House and stage proved a splendid setting for such an effort. A beautiful and well-controlled curtain, graduated lighting effects controlled by rheostat, and good acoustical properties recommended the new hall highly. Mr. Berry, for the Club, handled lights, scenery, and curtain with the greatest acceptability.

The play is the first of three dramatic productions, this one secular, the other two religious, to be presented as part of an ambitious young people's program in Centenary Church during the coming year, and everything Wednesday night, quality of production, character of presentation, dignity of musical program, and interest of the townspeople, make happy augury for the future efforts.

The play committee, composed of Helen Brooks, chairman, Lillian King and Milton Hall, consulted with the pastor, Mr. Harper in choice of play and cast, but handled rehearsals and general plans entirely. Wellington Harper was stage manager. Young men of the church ushered and young women sold candy between acts.

It is thought that the financial return was great enough to cover the very heavy expenses of the production, with perhaps a very small margin of profit. The determination was to make the play worthy of the institution sponsoring it and of the support given it first, to make it serve as a kind of standard for future efforts, rather than to clear a large amount of money. The total cost of production approximated One Hundred and Seventy-Five Dollars. The door receipts were a little less than Two Hundred Dollars.

"MR. PIM PASSES BY"

"Mr. Pim Passes By," one of the cleverest of the many clever plays written by Mr. A. A. Milne, was presented at the Waban Neighborhood Club last Friday and Saturday nights before crowded houses.

The play evolves around the relations between Mr. and Mrs. George Marden, J. P., an English gentleman and his wife of the conventional type.

Into this smoothly running household comes a certain Mr. Pim who happens to be "passing by," bringing news of a man whom he professes to have known in Australia bearing the same name as Mrs. Marden's former husband.

Mrs. Marden at once feels that the man is her former husband, and that she has committed bigamy. The scene in which she and her husband talk things over is very clever. It is evident that Mr. Marden, with all of his eccentricities, is genuinely fond of his wife, and wishes to make her happy, although the situations calls for nice adjustments.

Among the difficulties with which the play abounds, is the situation between Dinah Marden, a daughter, and Brian Strange, an artist in love with her. Mr. Marden has so far disapproved of this affair, although Mrs. Marden is in favor of the marriage.

In the various "passing bys" of Mr. Pim he manages to win Dinah's confidence, and to help on her love affair, although ignorant of the havoc he has wrought by recalling the name of Mrs. Marden's first husband.

In the last act Mr. Pim discovers that he has the man wrong, and that the man whom he had in mind was the former husband of Mrs. Marden. He "blames himself" for the trouble he has caused.

In their relief at the outcome of the affair, Mr. and Mrs. Marden renew their youth, Mr. Marden consenting to the renovation of the house to please Mrs. Marden, and also to the marriage of his daughter.

Mrs. Caroline E. Hosley did an especially good bit of work as Mrs. Marden and Mr. Harold W. Cheney was admirable as Mr. Marden.

The character part was ably taken by Mr. H. L. Andrews, and Miss Virginia Griley was very attractive as Dinah, with Mr. George R. Walker as the artist lover. Mrs. Katharine M. Cheney took the part of the maid very well, as did Mrs. Marion G. Stevens the part of Lady Marden.

The audience evidently enjoyed the play exceedingly, and in the opinion of many, it is the best thing the club has done so far.

The play was produced under the very able direction of Mr. George N. Roberts whose long experience in such matters makes success assured.

Others assisting him were: Messrs. H. L. Tilton, L. O. Tilton, Mrs. Eugene Bissell, Mrs. George N. Roberts, and Mrs. George R. Walker.

There was a musical program by Mrs. S. A. Clark (violin), Miss Helen Chase (violin), Mrs. E. J. Shiland (cello), and Mr. H. W. O'Leary, (piano).

SOTH BIRTHDAY

Mr. Milton A. Chandler, senior member of the well-known firm of Chandler and Barber of Boston, and a resident of Newton Centre, observed his 80th birthday on Wednesday. His desk at the store that morning was decorated with a bouquet of 80 pinks. In the evening the employees of the store gave him a surprise supper at the home of the junior member of the firm, Mr. D. Fletcher Barber on Newtonville avenue, Newton. Following the supper there was an entertainment given by the employees with dancing afterwards.

Mr. Chandler was born in Monmouth, Me., on May 16, 1843, the son of Calvin and Martha (Howard) Chandler. He is a descendant of William Chandler, who came from England and settled in Roxbury, Mass., in 1635. Mr. Chandler was educated in the public schools and at Towle Academy in Winthrop, Me.

He first engaged in the hardware business in Boston in 1870, and was a member of Gardner & Chandler from that year to 1887. He has been the senior member of Chandler & Barber Company at 122-126 Summer street since 1888. He is a Republican in his politics and a Methodist in his religious interests. He is a Mason and a member of the Twentieth Century Club. He is fond of fishing and traveling.

Mr. Chandler married Abbe K. Hatch of Lewiston, Me., on Nov. 22, 1868. She died on Jan. 24, 1913.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Henry A. Rattigan to Ora D. Bailey dated July 18, 1922, recorded with Land Court Records of the South Registry District of Middlesex County as Document No. 35771; noted on Certificate No. 14295, and duly assigned by said Ora D. Bailey to Donald E. McKay, by assignment dated July 18, 1922, recorded with said deeds as Document No. 35772, noted on said Certificate, and again assigned by said Donald E. McKay to said Ora D. Bailey, by assignment dated August 4, 1922, recorded with said deeds as Document No. 40088; noted on said Certificate, and again assigned by said Ora D. Bailey to the Pilgrim Mortgage and Realty Company, by assignment dated August 1, 1922, recorded with said deeds as Document No. 40088, and by said Pilgrim Mortgage and Realty Company, by assignment dated August 1, 1922, recorded with said deeds as Document No. 40088, the premises described in said mortgage deed and hereunder docketed, on Tuesday, June 19, 1923, at two o'clock in the afternoon, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, all and singular, the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage deed, to-wit: A certain parcel of land together with all the buildings thereon situated in Newton, Middlesex County, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and described as follows:—Southeasterly by Walnut Street, forty-eight (48) feet; Southwesterly by North Main Street, one hundred and twenty-eight (128) feet; easterly by the lot of Edgar Y. Swail, one hundred and twenty-eight (128) feet; westerly by land now or formerly of Abbie L. Withee, eighty-eight (88) feet; and Northeasterly by land now or formerly of Edgar Y. Swail, one hundred and twenty-eight (128) feet. All of said boundaries are determined by the Court to be located as shown on a plan as modified and approved by the Court, filed in the Land Registration Office, a copy of which is on file in the Registry of Deeds for the South Registry District of Middlesex County. In Registration Book Eighty-four (84), Page 541, with Certificate number 13586. The above described land is subject to the restrictions set forth in a deed from Samuel A. Walker and to William T. Tillinghast, dated May 13, 1875. Deed recorded in Book 156, Page 225. The mortgage above referred to is a second mortgage upon said premises, and the sale hereunder is subject to the first mortgage thereon, which was given by Henry A. Rattigan to the Massachusetts Trust Company dated April 25, 1922. Recorded with said deeds as Document No. 35720, noted on said Certificate. The above premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes or any municipal lien thereon. TERMS OF SALE: The purchaser will be required to pay FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS at the time and place of sale, the balance of the purchase money to be paid within ten days thereafter.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL ATHLETIC MEET

Peirce School Wins an Interesting Contest at Chaffin Field on Thursday

Several hundred people assembled on Chaffin Field Thursday afternoon to witness Field Day of the Newton public schools.

The scene reminded one of a football game with the crowds, the music, and the cheers.

The program opened with a grand march in which all of the children took part, marching two by two and carrying banners indicating the school from which they came. Young America facing the future was, indeed, an inspiring sight. Many a heart thrilled as the youthful army passed by.

The opening number was the salute of the flag which was carried by the Scouts accompanied by a bugler.

Then followed, appropriately, the flag drill. This was very well done by Grades 5 and 6 and was very effective.

A group of simple dances by Grades 1 and 2 came next. Their very entrance onto the field irradiated joy and happiness.

The Mimetic drill of grades 7 and 8 in imitation of different sports, which was the third number on the program, was exceedingly well done. One could not fail to guess what sport was indicated even without the help of the program.

Grades 5 and 6 entered into the new Carrousel, or Highland Schottische, with great zest.

A second group of Grades 5 and 6 did some gymnastic exercises with such snap and precision that they brought forth much applause from the older folk who well remembered how difficult some of the exercises were.

The Relay Races were, perhaps, the most exciting, at least to the side lines which cheered on their classmates. These were in charge of Dr. Oscar Martin, and were won in the following order Peirce School, Emerson School, Burr School, and Mason School.

The Balloon Dance of Grades 7 and 8 and the Junior High School presented several unusual features, the gaily colored balloons adding much to the artistic effect.

The five games which came next were difficult to follow as they took place simultaneously on different parts of the field. All seemed to be heartily enjoyed.

The Maypole Dance of Grades 3 and 4 was one of the most enjoyable features of the afternoon. Five Maypoles were used in different parts of the field, all five being decorated with red and white streamers.

The final number on the program was the crowning of the Health Queen, Susanne Slocum, by the fairy. Four groups of children entered into this scene representing the four elements which enter into health, namely, Play, Diet, especially Fruit and Vegetables, Milk, and Fresh Air and Sunshine.

Play was represented by a group rolling hoops, skipping rope, etc. Fruit and Vegetables were represented

SERVICE FLAG RETIRED

An unusual and impressive service was held Wednesday evening, by Dalhousie Lodge of Masons. It consisted of retiring the service flag showing the number of members of the lodge engaged in the World War and placing it in a case where it could be preserved for future generations.

The program included a parade of the national and service flag, the singing of the national anthem and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. This was followed by remarks by the Worshipful Master, William L. Graves, and an address by Hon. Edwin O. Childs. There was singing by a male quartet and the flag was then escorted to the Lounge room where it was placed in its case, after which taps were sounded on a bugle.

The roll of honor of the lodge includes the following: Benjamin B. Shedd, Elwood M. Carley, Alonzo H. McCertney, John H. Berquist, Charles N. Waterhouse, Carl B. Graves, John Lucas, W. H. Rand, Jr., Luther G. Eastman, Richard L. Cooley, Lewis E. Moore, Charles N. Young, William E. Earl, Frank W. Horne, Alfred E. Sweet, Harold H. Brown, Joseph J. Beatty, Irving H. Chadwick, Ashley G. NEWTONVILLE WAITING SHELTER

A large number of persons attended the hearing last Saturday morning at City Hall, West Newton, before Street Commissioner George E. Stuart on the request of the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. to enlarge the waiting station at the junction of Washington and Walnut streets, Newtonville.

The Company was represented by its president, Mr. Pitt F. Drew, who said that the waiting room in winter when heat is needed requires an attendant which the Company cannot afford to pay. Mr. William A. Sweatt had offered to assume the care of the station if it was enlarged enough to make a periodical and soda water stand. The Company desired to add ten feet to the present building, to be built with a brick wall and what is known as second class construction.

Mr. Sweatt presented the Commissioner with a large signed petition requesting that the permit be granted.

Most of those present were remonstrants to the petition. Mr. Harry D. Cabot, president of the Newtonville Improvement Society was the first remonstrant. He said that the village was already well supplied with stores of this nature, that the enlarged building would obstruct the present open view of travel at this congested corner, that the place would become a loafing place for the idle and that the enlargement would not add materially to the waiting accommodations of patrons of the road. He also added that it would detract from the appearance of that part of the square, as well as from the parkway appearance

GIRL SCOUTS

The annual meeting of the Newton Local Council Girl Scouts was held on May 17th at Camp Mary Day. About 55 Council members and officers were present. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

Commissioner, Mrs. Frank A. Day; Deputy Commissioners, Mrs. L. O. Palmer and Mrs. George Angier; Secretary, Mrs. C. D. Meserve; Treasurer, Mrs. John Eaton; Chairman of the Executive Committee, Mrs. Albert P. Carter; Chairman of the Court of Awards, Miss Jeanne B. Kendrick; Chairman Finance Committee, Mr. Charles Hatfield and Mrs. A. E. Andrews; Director, Miss Caroline Freeman. The Director's report showed a very material growth during this last year in the number of Scouts and officers in this city. She also said that the quality of the work is better and that the enthusiasm of both Scouts and Leaders is very great. She emphasized particularly the cooperation existing between Council, Committees, Officers and Scouts and said that the success of the work here in Newton is due to this co-operation as well as to the high ideals and standards which the Leaders are holding up to the Scouts.

Each of the Captains gave a short report of the work accomplished by her Troop during the year and these reports were most interesting. The Chairmen of the different Troop Committees also reported and their reports showed in what close touch they keep with their Troops and of how

MEMORIAL DAY

Unusual Exercises Arranged by Charles Ward Post, Grand Army of the Republic

Charles Ward Post, Grand Army of the Republic will observe Memorial Day next Wednesday with the usual services.

Graves of the soldiers will be decorated at the Newton Cemetery and at Evergreen Cemetery, Needham in the morning, after which there will be the usual service at St. Mary's Church Lower Falls.

Contributions of flowers are earnestly solicited and may be left at the following places Tuesday afternoon and evening:

Newton, Residence of John Flood, 405 Washington street.

Newtonville, Post Hall, Masonic Building.

West Newton, Residence of S. A. Langley, 919 Watertown street.

Auburndale, Hose House, Auburn street.

Newton Upper Falls, Residence of George H. Osborne, 117 High street.

Newton Lower Falls, Residence of Frances A. Fitzgerald, 671 Grove street.

Newton Highlands, Engine House. Newton Centre, Engine House. Waban, Rhodes' Drug Store, Beacon street.

Lunch will be served at the Newton Centre Woman's Club house through the courtesy of that organization and the Newton Centre Improvement Association.

The usual parade will form at Newton Centre green by Lieut. Col. Henry D. Cormerais, adjutant general, and will march over Centre, Beacon, and Walnut streets to the Newton Cemetery for the Memorial exercises in the Newton Cemetery. The parade will then reform and march through Walnut and Washington streets (with a detour to pass the John A. Andrews home on Washington Park) to the State Armory at West Newton where dinner will be served.

Hon. Edwin O. Childs is chief marshal for the day with Lieut. Col. H. D. Cormerais as adjutant general and Major Joseph W. Bartlett as chief of staff.

The VETERAN MOTORIST gives a few rules of the road

"A vehicle, overtaking another, shall pass to the left, but must not interfere with traffic from the opposite direction, nor pull over to the right before entirely clear of the overtaken vehicle."
(Council of National Defense)

"I'VE picked up a lot of motoring experience

since I first drove the old two-cylinder bus 'way back in—guess it must have been around 1906 or '07. And there are two rules of the road that I've always stuck to. 'Safety first' is one of them, and 'consideration for the other fellow' is the second.

"I really believe that it's because I have stuck to them that I haven't had a single smash-up. (Three taps on wood, as I write this!) Just take the matter of passing a car. Simple enough—sure. And the driver that uses common sense and a little consideration never has any trouble. But this habit—and it's mostly a habit—of always trying to get ahead of the fellow in front of you is the cause of more close shaves and real accidents than any other one thing I know of.

"Make sure there's plenty of room ahead of the car you're going to pass. And remember—it's bad business to pass a car near the top of a hill, or on a curve. In fact, it's against the law in some States to pass another car on a curve."

EDITORIAL

The Standard Oil Company is doing a real service in giving "A Few Rules of the Road" in its advertisement for Socony gasoline. The public cannot be too well informed on this important question in view of the fact that the number of automobiles is increasing enormously. With a large percentage of the automobile registration in Massachusetts within 30 miles of the State House, it is doubly important for residents of Metropolitan Boston to be well acquainted with the use of motor vehicles.

While at this time of the year our thoughts are closely allied with the memories of those who have passed to the Great Beyond, let us not forget that there should be "flowers for the living" as well as for the dead.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The closing hours of the Legislature have been saddened by the death of Representative George E. Webster of Roxford, one of the most popular members of the House. Mr. Webster was one of the best speakers of the Legislature, if not of the Commonwealth and his silvery tongued eloquence always attracted a large audience. He had a wonderful memory and his addresses were illumined with apt quotations and illustrations. In addition he was so frank and sincere, and so thoughtful of others that he had a large and warm circle of men who were glad to be called his friend. I had the pleasure of serving for two years on a committee of which he was House chairman and so had unusual opportunities to know and appreciate his abilities and character. His untimely death at the age of 46 years is a distinct loss to the Commonwealth.

Prorogation will probably be reached some time today as most of the important matters have already been acted upon.

The most important matter of the session went through both branches yesterday without opposition although there was two hours' debate in the House. This was the so-called National Bank tax bill under which a compromise has been made with the national banks who have sued the state for the return of taxes illegally assessed the past six years. Their claim for some nine million dollars has been settled for three million dollars and an agreement that in the future they will be taxed at the rate of 12 1/2% on their net income instead of a tax on their capital stock. I am informed that this will reduce the revenue of Newton from this source by some $50,000.

It was a most complicated matter and its settlement is highly complimentary to the committees who have been considering the question and of which Representative Early was a member.

The failure of the bill to require compulsory insurance of automobiles is one of the regrets of the session, but it was thought that to pass a gasoline tax of two cents a gallon and to require compulsory insurance at the same time was "treating" them rough.

The bill to allow an $800 pension for foremen which passed both Houses last week met a snag when it came before the Governor and on his insistence it was recalled and amended so as to allow a pension of but $500 for this class of employees.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—"The Man Who Came Back," the Jules Eckert Goodman melodrama of modern life, based on the popular short story by John Fleming Wilson, will be presented at the St. James for an indefinite run beginning tomorrow night. Adelyn Bushnell will appear as Marcelle and Walter Gilbert will play the role of Henry Potter, waster and profligate son.

POLICE NOTES

Two Newton school girls, Alice Macrae, 14, of 19 Higgins street, Auburndale, daughter of David S. Higgins, and Mary Bostwick, 15, of 16 Islington road, Auburndale, daughter of Mrs. Grace Bostwick, were arraigned Monday morning before Judge Weston in the Newton Court on the charge of being delinquent children, and the cases were continued until Friday, Juvenile Court day.

Harry W. Dennison of 558 Grove street, Newton Lower Falls, and Edward Harrington of 2233 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls, companions of the two girls, who were allowed to go by the police, as the parents of the girls would prefer no charges against them, did not appear in court Monday morning.

Their plans for a wedding and an automobile trip through Canada were frustrated by the Newton police who caught them Sunday at the North Station, Boston.

Joseph V. Milligan, 19, of 21 Cottage place, West Newton, and Fred Cavallo, 19, of 54 Oak avenue, West Newton, were in the Newton Court Monday morning before Judge Bacon, charged with breaking and entering the tin shop of D. Caliguri on the second floor of 107 Elm street, West Newton, and the bar shop of Joe Valenti on the first floor of the same building, and with the larceny of two wrenches, two bottles of hair tonic and a flashlight. The men were arrested by Sgt. Moran and Patrolmen Gaquin and King. According to the testimony, the two young fellows are alleged to have entered the tin shop by breaking a window and then to have forced a door in the barber shop. All the drawers in the shop were opened and the place generally ransacked. Judge Bacon found probable cause and held them in bonds of $1,000 each for the next sitting of the Grand Jury.

Richard T. Riley of 2 Bay street, Dorchester, was in Court Monday morning, charged with being drunk and with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested by Patrolman Hoyt early Sunday morning. Judge Weston sentenced the man to one month in the House of Correction. He appealed and was held in bonds of $300.

POLICEMAN INJURED

Motorcycle Officer Edward Chadwick of the Newton police traffic squad received minor injuries yesterday morning when he was thrown from his motorcycle in Newtonville Sq. by an automobile. The auto sped on but Chadwick secured the registration number and a short time afterwards Patrolman Conlon secured the same number of an automobile that sped past him at such a high rate of speed that he was unable to signal the driver to stop. Conlon gave chase in a commandeered machine and located the fugitive car near the West Roxbury line.

Unaware of the accident to Chadwick he did not place the driver under arrest, but went to the nearest police box and called Police Headquarters. While there the driver and car slipped away to West Roxbury. Later officers went to West Roxbury and arrested John T. Duggan, 25, of 641 Baker street, West Roxbury. Chadwick sustained a severe cut on the left knee, and a possible dislocation of the left shoulder.

of the B. & A. railroad. The Society, he said, would oppose the enlargement or location of such a building on that side of Washington street.

Mrs. R. C. Henry, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, said that the Federation was responsible for the location of the present waiting room and therefore took some interest in it. She opposed the grounds that it would be a leading place and a constant temptation for high school pupils to spend money.

Mr. James S. Cannon, spoke for the business men in Newtonville square in opposition and questioned the room for stock and fixtures in only a ten foot enlargement and also questioned the right to use city property for commercial purposes.

Remarks on similar lines were made by J. R. Prescott, Mrs. E. L. Gardner, Miss Margaret McGill, Mrs. I. O. Palmer, H. W. Orr, J. C. Skelton, H. G. Tuttle, William H. Zoller, Charles D. Cabot, E. F. Quinlan, Mrs. A. D. Rice and Mrs. P. A. Evans.

Girondists Too Moderate.

The Girondists were a party of moderate republicans in the national assembly and national convention during the French Revolution, so called because their earliest leaders, Vergniaud, Gaudet, Gensonne, Grangeneuve and Ducos, came from the department of La Gironde. Their opposition to the "September Massacres," and to the execution of the king, incurred the hatred of the Jacobins, or Mountain party; and July 2, 1793, the Girondists, after an ineffectual attempt to impeach Marat, were overthrown and 31 of their deputies were arrested. October 30, 21 of their number were tried and sentenced to death, and of these 20 perished by the guillotine on the following day. Valaze, one of their number, having stabbed himself on hearing his sentence pronounced.

Saving Lives With Cannon.

Saving people's lives by shooting at them with a cannon sounds paradoxical, but that is the first step in the method of rescue followed by life saving stations throughout the world. When a ship runs on a shoal near shore, life savers shoot an iron projectile attached to a coil of rope or fine steel cable over a cross arm of the vessel by means of a small brass cannon. Those aboard the ship haul in the rope to which is attached a heavier one. The heavy rope is stoutly secured at both ends and, by a breeches buoy, the passengers are permitted to coast to the shore and to safety, one at a time.—Washington Star.

WANT MORE PAY

Employees of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, which operates in 15 cities and towns, including Waltham, Watertown, Newton, Natick and Wellesley, have submitted demands for a 30 per cent increase in wages, beginning July 1, when their present contract expires. The men also ask for a standard eight-hour day, overtime rates and a new ruling which gives them eight hours' wages for 11 hours of waiting. The men now receive six cents an hour for 14 hours of waiting. At present the men receive about 51 cents an hour.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts, Troop 11 of Newton Highlands, under the direction of their captain, Mrs. Raymond Collins, will give a Lawn Fete on the Hyde School lawn, Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5. Food and candy will be on sale. There will be a miscellaneous table, and a unique grab.

Other features will be a fortune teller, pony and trailer rides. The Girl Scouts Bugle and Drum Corps, made up of the best talent in the Newton Scouts will play. There will be dancing with music by the Community Jazz Band. In case of rain the event will take place in Lincoln Hall.

by a group in green tissue gowns with artificial fruit and vegetables attached. Milk had a group dressed in yellow with milk bottles of white paper attached like aprons, and Fresh Air and Sunshine were represented by white gowns with blue and yellow streamers. The dances were very graceful and attractive.

The program, which was in charge of Mrs. Peter J. D. Kuntz, assisted by Miss Flanders and Miss Turner, was very well planned and promptly and efficiently executed.

LODGES

Newton Lodge of Elks held a gala night last evening with a business meeting and entertainment at Denison Hall, Newtonville, followed by refreshments at the Elks Home in Newton.

Past Exalted Ruler Howard Moore was presented with a traveling bag, Chaplain E. N. Soule with a card case and chain and gifts were also presented to John P. Brennan, P. E. R.; C. J. McCue, Grand Trustee and Joseph Dow, P. E. R.

Your Kitchen

IT'S no news to you how many things electricity can do for you in the kitchen—for you have your toaster and percolator, your dishwasher, and perhaps even your range.

But did you know that in order to make all the kitchen work easier, all you need do is to lighten it, with the right light?

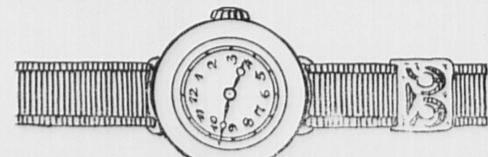

— in two simple ways:
1. Use a 100-watt or 150-watt Mazda lamp (bulb) in an enclosing glass globe, as a center light, as near the ceiling as possible.
2. Have a light right above the sink, from 6 to 12 inches from the wall, in a deep white-glass shade open at the bottom. An ordinary 50-watt Mazda lamp will supply all the light you need, directly down on the dishes.

These two improvements can be done today by your electrical contractor, at a reasonable cost, and without any mussy carpentry. Call him up, and see how it takes one problem out of your servant problem.

—The wedding of Miss Estella Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hull and Mr. Reynold A. Grammer of Fall River will take place tomorrow noon.

—Cards are out for the wedding of Mr. James C. Irwin, Jr., formerly of Highland avenue, to Miss Constance Root of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kimball Root of that city. The wedding will take place on June 9th.

Upper Falls

—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Hicks of Cottage street, are rejoicing in twin girls.
—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Langdale of Chestnut street, are rejoicing in the birth of a son.
—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held a Rummage Sale last Thursday and Friday.
—The Women's Club of Upper Falls will hold a food sale on Mrs. Johnson's lawn on Saturday afternoon.
—The ladies of the Stone Institute will hold their annual reception and sale at the Home on Saturday afternoon. Hosts of pretty hand-made articles will be on sale.
—Miss Louise Plimpton and Mrs. Dowse of Newton Centre gave a very pleasing entertainment to the ladies of the Stone Institute last Saturday. The program consisted of a musicale and story telling. Refreshments were served.
—Members of the Empress Mary Lodge gave a farewell party to Mrs. J. Heald last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Heald was the first president of the Lodge since its institution in 1912, and during that time has made hosts of friends. The members presented her with a handsome beaded bag and she in turn presented each one of the officers with her picture. Deputy Mrs. Lenigan of Somerville and Mrs. Howe, past President of Roslindale Lodge gave interesting speeches. An entertainment and refreshments followed. Mrs. Heald will leave June 4th for Katomah, N. Y., where she expects to make her residence for the future. She will be greatly missed in the large social circle where she has been such a good worker for the past twenty years.

Nobody Overworked.

Prof. William Palmer Wynne of England announces his discovery, arrived at through years of study and practice among the human species, that no person ever suffered from overwork. On the contrary, this student of the vagaries of the human mind and nervous system says, as we are told by the Los Angeles Times, that most people suffer from not having enough work to do. What a blow to all our preconceived ideas! Who has not at some time in his career indulged in a magnificent debauch of self-pity because of the heavy burdens placed on his bending shoulders and breaking back? And if this idea becomes widely prevalent how it will revolutionize our daily life. The chief excuse for surliness having been removed, people will have to reserve some of their company smiles for home use, and life will be as rosy and gay as youth dreams it is.

Mickey.

Mickey O'Toole, fourteen years old, entered the house like a storm. He stumbled over a chair and broke it, picked up a plate and crashed it through a window. Turning, he grabbed the cat, swung her three times by the tail and catapulted her into the kitchen. With a roar of joy he pulled over a statue of Venus from a stand and broke it into a thousand pieces of plaster. Rushing into the kitchen, he got a hatchet, ran back into the parlor and played an overture on the mahogany with the sharp edge. After which he was ready for dinner. "Mickey," said Mrs. O'Toole, "is just like that always, Mrs. Murphy. He's so full of life and callithenics!"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

—Hypnotizing Animals.
In India it is known that a cobra caught by the neck and gently pressed will soon become stiff and remain so for a considerable time, either coiled up or out straight. A frog fastened to a board and turned suddenly upside down, goes into a trance. Other animals are susceptible to this treatment, some more quickly than others. If you pick up a crab and wave it in the air it becomes immobile, a female bending her legs over her abdomen, a male sticking them out almost straight. The same is true of the fresh-water crayfish, only this resists for a much longer time than the crab.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

BY VIRTUE OF A POWER OF SALE contained in a certain mortgage deed given to and by Mabel E. Holden to Ora D. Bailey, dated July 18, 1922, recorded with Land Court Records of the South Registry District of Middlesex County as Document No. 39771, noted on Certificate No. 14295, and duly assigned by said Ora D. Bailey to Donald E. McKay, by assignment dated July 18, 1922, recorded with said Deeds as Document No. 39772, noted on said Certificate, and again duly assigned by said Donald E. McKay to said Ora D. Bailey, by assignment dated August 4, 1922, recorded with said Deeds as Document No. 40088, not on said Certificate, and again duly assigned by said Ora D. Bailey to the Pilgrim Mortgage and Realty Company, by assignment dated August 1, 1922, recorded with said Deeds as Document No. 40089, noted on said Certificate, will be sold at public auction upon the premises described in said mortgage deed and hereinafter described on Wednesday, June 29, 1923, at two o'clock in the afternoon, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage deed and for the purpose foreclosing the same, all and singular the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage deed, to wit: A certain parcel of land together with all the buildings thereon, situated in Newton, Middlesex County, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows: South-easterly by Walnut Street, forty-eight (48) feet; Southerly by the Northerly line of Forest Street, eighty-nine (89) feet; Westerly by land now or formerly of Abbie L. Withee, eighty-eight (88) feet; and North-easterly by land now or formerly of Edgar V. Swail, one hundred twenty-eight and 25/100 (128.25) feet. All of said boundaries are determined by the Court to be located as shown on a plan as modified and approved by the Court, filed in the Land Registry Office, a copy of a portion of which is filed in the Registry of Deeds for the South Registry District of Middlesex County in Registration Book 84, page 541, with Certificate number 12580. The above described land is subject to the restrictions set forth in a deed from Samuel A. Walker, et al., to William T. Tillinghast, dated May 13, 1875, duly recorded in Book 1356, page 225. The mortgage above referred to is a second mortgage upon said premises, and the sale will be made subject to the first mortgage thereon, which was given by Ora D. Bailey to the Massachusetts Trust Company, dated April 25, 1922, recorded with said Deeds, as Document No. 38579 noted on said Certificate. The above premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes or any municipal lien thereon. TERMS OF SALE: The purchaser will be required to pay Five Hundred Dollars at the time and place of sale, the balance of the purchase money to be paid within ten days thereafter.

In purchasing power five dollars is today worth only three dollars in pre-war values. In spending five dollars now only three dollars' worth is received in exchange.

The day will come when money will again purchase more nearly what it used to.

So instead of losing two dollars now out of every five, why not reverse the process.

Save three dollars now and buy five dollars' worth with it later.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by Miss Grace M. Burt

Since the major part of the annual convention of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs occurs after copy is due, the full account of the meeting will be published next week. All reports from Swampscott indicate the largest annual meeting ever held.

Newton Federation

Last Monday's meeting of the executive board of the Newton Federation was devoted to organization for the coming year and to the settling up of odds and ends left over from the season now closing. The following were appointed as chairmen of the standing committee: Conservation, Mrs. D. M. Goodridge; Civics, Mrs. W. G. Starkweather; Education, Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball; Social, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold. Home Economics, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson; Legislative, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane; Program, Mrs. Percival Waters. The budget covering expenditures of $375 for general expenses was adopted. The president was empowered to appoint chairmen of the special committees on the Federation Working Fund, and the Christmas Health Seals. It was voted to establish a bureau of speakers that Newton clubs have found satisfactory. Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds, chairman of the Christmas Seals of 1922, reported that the total amount raised through her committee for the purpose was $4729.90, of which $3568.72 will be available for Newton and will be administered through the Health committee of the Welfare Bureau. Mrs. Edward H. Keach, chairman of the Rummage Sale, reported about $800 raised in that way.

The executive board voted to endorse a letter sent by the Society for the Protection of the New Hampshire Forests to President Harding urging further appropriations under the Weeks law for the purchase of timberland in the White Mountains.

Upon the recommendation of the Finance committee the following sums were voted: Newton Welfare Bureau, $250; West Newton Music School, $25; Newton Circle for band concerts, $240; District Nursing Association, $25; Mothers' Rest, $50; Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., $10; Hospital Aid Association, $25; a total of $825. Four hundred dollars was appropriated earlier in the season, so that the Federation has contributed about $1000 for objects in which the Federation and its affiliated organizations are interested.

WYATT—GRAHAM

Wednesday was the wedding day of Miss Lois Cromwell Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Graham of Bailey road, Watertown, and Mr. Clarence Wheeler Wyatt of Upland road, Newtonville.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by the Rev. Robert Pierce.

The bride's gown was of white georgette embroidered with pearls and crystals. The maid of honor, Miss Doris Graham of Watertown, wore a gown of old-fashioned blue taffeta.

The best man was Guy E. Wyatt of Belmont, and the ushers were James R. Graham of Watertown, Stuart G. Hall and Arthur N. Gorham of Brookline, and Harold H. Kolb of Boston.

A reception followed the ceremony, the bridal couple being assisted by their parents, and the maid of honor and best man.

After their wedding trip through New York State, Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt will make their home in Brookline.

ANNUAL MAY PARTY

The Annual May Party was held last Saturday afternoon at the Unitarian Church, West Newton, in charge of Mrs. A. B. Rich.

The first number on the program was the crowning of Esther Merchant as the May Queen by Robert Holmes, the page. The train bearers were Roy Merchant and Frank Ford. During the crowning of the May Queen, the May Day song was sung by Allen Carpenter and Herman Hoyt.

The second number on the program was the Maypole Dance under the direction of Miss Mary Sprague. The following took part: Mary Rich, George Lauriat, Priscilla Ballou, Edward Harrington, Jean Bachrach, Edwin Place, Elizabeth Kershaw, Andrew Hutchinson, Betty Cook, Frederick Kershaw, Nancy Mandell, Lawrence Carpenter, Eleanor Bingham, Pembroke Huckins, Elizabeth Phalen, George Hutchinson.

The Maypole Dance was followed by a Poster Parade under the direction of Miss Bassett.

Taking part in the Poster Parade were Cluquot Club Ginger Ale, Robert B. Holmes; Dutch Cleanser, Leona Kinrade; The Wrigley Boys, Ned Ogden, Robert Loomis, Roger Carpenter, Irving Carpenter, Jr.; Fisk Tires—Time to Retire, Nancy Carter; The Campbell Kids, Roy Merchant, Jr., Barbara Thayer; Unedea Biscuit, Charles E. Lauriat, 3rd; Shaker Salt, Ruth Ford; Quaker Oats, Frank Ford; Velvet Molasses Kisses, Dorothy Chandler; Baker's Chocolate, Mary Hodges Bacon; Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy, Rachel Thurber, Mary Bingham; Dutch Boy White Lead, Bertha O'Brien; Cream of Wheat, Mr. Smith and Ralph Bachrach, Jr.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, ice cream and cake were sold. Frederick Rice, dressed as a clown, sold toy balloons.

Y. W. C. A. "WHIRLIGIG"

The out door fete which the Girl Reserve Club of the Y. W. C. A. is planning for June 2nd, should be a huge success, weather permitting.

Entertainment will be found to appeal to all ages and tastes. For the children there will be games and pony rides. For those a little older there will be fortune tellers, games of skill, with prizes, etc., while there will be candy, ice cream, and other goodies for all, with Hot Dogs and doughnuts for the more serious minded.

At four o'clock there will be an entertainment, for which the club girls are preparing several attractive dances, which will be supplemented by the arts and wiles of a Magician.

From 4.30 to 7 P. M. Tea will be served, accompanied by music and dancing.

It is hoped that many will take advantage of this chance for a cup of tea and dancing on a delightful estate.

A tennis tournament is being run in connection with the Whirligig, which is open to any one who desires to enter.

Ladies singles, and mixed doubles are on the programme, entries for which should be made at once to Miss Marion Maxim, chairman, at the Y. W. C. A. Entries received later than Monday, May 28th, will not be accepted.

Entrance Fee. Ladies Singles 25 cents. Mixed doubles 35 cents a couple.

ANNUAL REGISTER OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

The Annual Register of Women's Clubs and National Organizations in America, which is published by Miss Helen M. Winslow, is just out for 1923, being volume 25. The book contains a list of officers in the General Federation, of the various State Federations, and the names and addresses of the presidents of the clubs included in them, as well as of all the important national organizations of women of the country. There is also a classified list of books of value to club women, and a directory of club lecturers and entertainers, the latter, which is published as a supplement, is sent free to program committees of the clubs. There are also pictures of many prominent club women. It is of inestimable value as a book of reference while the supplement gives many helpful suggestions to program committees.

Miss Winslow, the editor, was one of the founders of the New England Woman's Press Association, and conducted the first Women's Clubs department in any newspaper, being the first editor of that department of the Boston Transcript.

—The May Festival under the auspices of St. John's Church, should attract many, not only from Newtonville, but from the other Newtons as well. The program begins Saturday morning, at 6.30, with a May Breakfast, and is continued through the afternoon by a Bazaar with many attractions including a May Pole, a buffet supper, and dancing in the evening. The proceeds are for the Parish House Fund.

MIRICK—WILDMAN

On Wednesday of this week Miss Dorothy Agnes Wildman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blaine Wildman of Summer street, Newton Upper Falls, became the bride of Mr. Forest Cadvan Mirick of Dorchester. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frederick Palladino in the Methodist Episcopal Church parlors, Newton Upper Falls, which were decorated for the occasion with apple blossoms and shrubbery.

The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine with panels of georgette trimmed with satin ribbon.

The bridesmaid, Miss Florence Isabel G. Wildman, sister of the bride, wore a gown of orchid organdie and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Ruth Ethel Wildman also a sister of the bride was flower girl.

The best man was Warren M. Mirick of Dorchester, and the ushers were Herbert W. Kestle and Paul E. Lupien of Newton Upper Falls, Wendell Van Iderstine of Wellesley Hills, and Harold H. Temperley of Newton Centre.

Music during the ceremony was furnished by Miss Marion E. Pike of Newton Centre and by Malcolm Cook of Quincy who played the wedding march.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in which the parents of the bride couple and the bridesmaid and best man assisted.

After a tour through the New England States, Mr. and Mrs. Mirick will make their home in Newton Centre.

IMPORTANT POINTS

Here are three points that every person should consider with reference to money:

1. SAFETY. Money should not be kept on the person or in the home.
2. INTEREST. Money should be kept where it will earn a fair rate of interest commensurate with safety.
3. AVAILABILITY. Money should be where you can get it when you want it.

THE VILLAGE PLAYERS

The second performance of the Village Players, the recently formed dramatic society in Newton Centre, was given in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church last Friday and Saturday evenings.

The play chosen for this performance was "Only 38," a three-act comedy by A. E. Thomas in which the characters are appealingly human, especially Mrs. Stanley, widow of the Rev. Mr. Stanley, whose married life has been one of subordination to her husband's wishes and of what people will say.

The play deals with her revolt from her former life, and efforts to be herself and to do things "just because she wants to."

The amazement of her two children at their mother's metamorphosis, and their reactions towards her and her friends is most amusing.

Mrs. Graham P. Spencer was most convincing as the mother, and Miss Narcissa Varney and Ralph E. Stuart were delightful as her "offspring."

The dialogue, especially the conversation between the twins, was very natural and thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

Norman B. Powers as the embarrassed young man received hearty applause, and Gladys A. Corden, the lady who sneezed constantly caused much laughter.

Mr. V. V. Marsh was inimitable as the father who wanted to have his fling in the world, and the other characters did their bit to make this play one of the jolliest and most successful comedies of the season.

Between the acts Mrs. A. L. Lewis gave much pleasure by her violin selections. She was accompanied by Mrs. Charles B. Wilbur at the piano.

Mr. F. B. Bond was the house manager, Miss Carol Thorpe, the head usher, Mr. Charles H. Centre, stage manager, and Mrs. Marshall I. Stone, property manager.

The dramatic committee consisted of Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Hubbard, Mr. Coan, Mr. Melcher, and Mr. Lewis.

SAFETY FOR CHILDREN

Following the report of three automobile accidents in Newton last week, the Massachusetts Safety Council has written to the superintendent of schools, offering to hold here a series of safety meeting for children, similar to those that are being put on in Boston and other cities.

The program comprises two eight minute safety talks, safety drills, which show the highway hazards in Greater Boston. It stresses the fact that with half a million motor vehicles on the streets of Massachusetts this year, no highway is safe as a playground, and all children must receive instructions in the proper way to cross a street.

The Massachusetts Safety Council has made an analysis of the 15 children killed since the first of May, and finds that a majority of them were seven years of age or under. Five of them were trying to cross the street, and had run out suddenly from behind an obstructed view. Seven were playing in the street. All of the youngest children—and two were only three years of age—were struck down by trucks. Two boys were killed while riding bicycles in the path of automobiles rather than close to the curb. One child was killed by a motorcycle.

Council not only asks the mothers of Newton to instruct their children, but it urges citizens generally to warn children when they are in danger of automobiles.

REAL ESTATE

Ruth M. Jenkins has sold to M. W. Blood the estate number 33 Orient avenue, Ashton Park, Newton Centre, consisting of a large single house, garage and stable, and 12,430 square feet of land, valued at $15,000.

Mary E. Weeden et al. have sold to M. B. Jackson a parcel of land on the corner of Glen avenue, and Elgin street, Newton Centre, containing about 10,000 square feet of land on which the owner proposes to erect a duplex house, to cost over $20,000, for his own occupancy.

Professor Henry K. Rowe has sold to R. E. Schirmer the estate, number 32 Oxford road, Newton Centre, consisting of a single frame house, garage, and 9250 square feet of land, valued at $10,500.

Alvord Bros. were the brokers in the above transactions.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company announces that on Saturday, May 26, 1923, the crossing watchman will be withdrawn from the highway crossings at Webster street, located between Avery and Newton Upper Falls station and at Oak street crossing which crosses the West street and Needham station.

The Morrison Electric Flashlight Highway Crossing Signal which has been installed at these points, will be substituted for the crossingmen. The flashing Morrison signal which has been installed at crossings on the South Shore and elsewhere operates at night thus providing a constant warning for the twenty-four hours.

As a train approaches the crossing the signal flashes every two seconds a high-powered electric red light in both directions on the highway, and continues to flash until the train has passed over the crossing.

When the signal is flashing its red warning light it indicates the approach of a train and travelers on the highway must stop before passing over the crossing. If the signal continues to flash after a train has passed it indicates the approach of another train either on the same track or on an adjoining track.

Attention is attracted more surely by this new warning device than by any other method and many crossings on the New Haven system are now protected in this manner.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Amy T. B. Rice late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. DEATH OF REV. MR. KING

Rev. Lyman W. King died at his home on Brookline street, Oak Hill, last Saturday, in his 68th year. Mr. King was born in Newton, and except for a brief period in Vermont, has lived here all of his life. He was a graduate of Brown University and of the Newton Theological Institute, and a member of the First Baptist Church. Surviving him are his widow, Lucy F. King, three children, Mrs. Roy G. Gould of Manchester, N. H., Miss Finia Fay King a teacher in Burlington, Vermont, and a son, Ralph Winslow King of Boston. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. William M. Mick of Newton Centre. Services were held at his late residence on Monday, Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle and Rev. George G. Phipps officiating, and the burial was in the family lot in Newton Cemetery.

COUNTRY DAY

The Alumni Association of the Country Day School held its annual meeting and dinner at the school on Wednesday evening. During the afternoon there was a baseball game between a team of the older alumni and a team of the recent graduates. Dinner was served at Barnstable Hall at seven. An interesting feature of the entertainment was the first showing of a motion picture depicting the various phases of the life at the school. The photography is the work of Stephen Paine of the class of 1916, who visited the school for several days recently to take pictures of the boys at their class work and during their games and other activities.

The officers of the Alumni Association are: President, Robert G. Stone, 1916; Vice President, Norman H.

White, Jr., 1916; Secretary-Treasurer, Bertram A. Strohmeier of the faculty.

Out of the Dark.

The girl who loves romance was walking along a country road with a rather dignified gentleman. He was telling her about the different people who lived in the scattered houses. The dusk was creeping on, and to the girl's delight blinking lights appeared in an occasional window. She loves to catch glimpses of life as she goes along, but the dignified gentleman said it was bad form to look in at lighted windows. The girl replied that unshaded windows invited the passerby to look in. At last they came toward the house of mystery. A light shone forth from a window, and as they approached the girl said: "Look, there's a woman in the room!" The dignified gentleman ignored her invitation. "There's a man coming into the room!" she exclaimed as they walked past the house. "You shouldn't look in," said the dignified gentleman severely. She gave a backward glance. "He's kissing her," she triumphantly declared as the dignified gentleman seized her arm and dragged her reluctantly along.—Chicago Journal.

"Edward Longshanks."

There was a famous king of England born in 1239, who grew to such a length that his people called him and he is known in history as Edward Longshanks. (Edward I.) A coxswain of one of the game varieties raised in Great Britain exhibited at the International Poultry and Pigeon show in London, also grew uncannily tall, and to him was given the same name. He stands 30 inches in height, which would enable him to eat off an ordinary table, and which made him much too tall for the exhibition cages. He does not appear to be especially beautiful, though like his renowned namesake he is probably a grand fighter.

False Alarm.

The Woman, who is a friend of one of the teachers in a grammar school out in the suburbs, heard the following amusing incident which happened in the school: One morning during a heavy downpour of rain the mother of one of the children came to the school with an umbrella and inquired the way to her child's room. When she reached it she found an electric button beside the closed door, which she promptly pushed. Immediately a sharp bell sounded throughout the entire building, doors flew open and children tripped out of each in orderly lines out into the pouring rain. The visiting mother had rung the fire alarm.—Chicago Journal.
